FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1906. THE PROGRESS OF PRESTON.

A statement made to the House last week on behalf of the Minister of Trade and Commerce shows that Mr. W. T. R. Preston, hugger of the machine in old times, whom the Government was obliged to remove from the position of Chief Commissioner of Immigration in England, has received a much better billet. Though the facts disclosed in last session's inquiry made it impossible to continue Mr. Preston in his former office, as the Premier stated in the House, they have not prevented his appointment to a place with a salary $600 larger and all his living expenses paid. Mr. Pritchett's confessions as to ballot switching operations and other election frauds in the last contest with which Mr. Preston was connected as organizer partly explained why that gentleman remains in the public service in spite of all that has been disclosed concerning his methods in office.

THE BOUNTIES GO ON.

the Liberals took office they had a special aversion to bounties on iron, steel and other products. Sir Richard Cartwright gave repeated and emphatic notice that bounty laws would be repealed at once when his party came into power. But in its tenth year of office the Laurier Government paid $2,400,000 in bounties, and next year the bill will be much larger if production continues at the same

Under the acts in force in 1896 the bounties would have disappeared before this time by the sliding scale. Mr. Fielding gave them a longer term, but even that period would have expired next spring. This year the rate of bounty is only 35 per cent. of what it was at the highe ti But in this year's budget Mr. Fielding has backed up for a first start. He announces that he will begin again in January by restoring the bounty which prevailed before the last reduction, which was 55 per cent. of the highest rate, and will continue bounty payments four years more. Neil Twomey's nightly sensational comdey-drama, "The Wayward Son," which come: to the Erisco Opera House on Saturday night, is well worthy of patronage, being presented for the first time in the city at popular price i It'(is said to be a clever dramatization of a pleasing novel full of unexpected delights and surprises. There is nothing of the set or sterotyped nature in any of its features; the plot contains material of real dramatic value. Its construction is such that the many it deep, We must have the space they occupy. Get first ! incidents in each act form a congruous and continuous story. It is brimful of excitement and traverses the entire range of human emotions. It is just the kind of drama that appeals to the passions, that arouses the auditors to demonstration of affection, hatred, jay and sorrow. These varied sensations are so cleverly drawn by the author that the auditor gradually becomes oblivious to his surroundings and follows the action of the play with absorbing interest until the final climax unweaves the remarkable story.

The play is well staged in a capable manner by a strong acting company of players, even to the smallest detail. It os a play of human heart interest, and you cannot fail to be impressed by the lessons it teaches, Don't fail to see it. Prices 15, 25, 35 and 50 cent.
