Loss of the Cedar Grove.

The pioneer steamship of St.
John, the "Cedar Grove," bound from Liverpool to Halifax, struck on the ledges off Canso, on Thesday, and became a total loss. Capt. Fritz, one of the oldest and ablest commander, and was drowned, together with Miss Fairall, an English passenger on her way to St. John to visit her relatives, and also several sailors. The others were saved in the boats. The forward bulkhead gave way and the ship sunk sooner than her commander expected. She was insured for $150,000.

I Loss of the Cedar Grove, being defence, the justice ruled that he had only power to hear one side of the case, and committed Cormier. Cormier then went before Commissioner Harshman and had Christopher Harshman and had Christopher Ackles arrested for perjury, for swearing falsely in stating before Justice Deacon that they were not patterns in the business, and brought evidence to prove the charge. Ackles was, of course, committed. They were both held to bail. They were both held to bail.
