

MR. LAURIER AT MONTREAL.
The Liberal leader, who with Sir Oliver Mowat and Mr. Patterson, M. P. for Brant, spoke at Montreal, Tuesday evening, was given a rousing reception by a meeting representing the best elements of the metropolitan city, and his address left no uncertainty as to the policy of his party, and the issues which will be presented to the electors during the approaching campaign.

We have space today only to give a few points in Mr. Laurier's brilliant speech. He started out with a reference to the Conservative victories achieved in recent years in Montreal, but he thought the prestige of John A. McDonald was the cause of this, and now that he was gone, there were many signs that the political influence of the party, who considered themselves appointed by divine right to govern this country, was passing away and would soon be no more.

Mr. Laurier then referred to the fact that when the policy of protection was inaugurated, its promoters promised that it should be only temporary and not permanent; there were many who had agreed with it then, but who believed it had passed its appointed time, and that the period had arrived for a change. There might be some believers in this policy yet, but who, shocked and alarmed by the revelations of corruption and malfeasance in office, had come to the conclusion that the duty of the hour demanded that prompt and salutary justice should be meted out to the men, who, recalcitrant to their promises, had left offenders unpunished, and from whom it would be folly to expect the redress of any wrong.

Mr. Laurier then pronounced the policy of the Liberal party, as declared in the convention at Ottawa in June, 1883, which was called to determine that policy. That policy comprehended the following subjects: First, condemnation of the fiscal policy of the Conservative government, together with the declaration of the Liberal party on the same subject. Second, reciprocity of trade with our neighbors. Third, repression of corruption and malfeasance in office. Fourth, economy in the administration of public affairs. Fifth, the right and duty of parliament to investigate all corruption and malfeasance in office. Sixth, the selling of lands to actual settlers, and not to speculators. Seventh, the franchise—the equitable distribution of parliamentary representation. Eighth, temperance. That was the Liberal policy. The Conservative party believed in protection. The Liberal party believed in free trade on broad lines such as exist in Great Britain, and their immediate object was a revenue tariff. There was only one sound, profitable, desirable, patriotic system, it was that which was conducive to the prosperity of not one class or section, not only of cities, but of all classes and sections, of the cities and country at large.

Referring to the claim of the Tory party to all the loyalty of the country, Mr. Laurier said he might not always proclaim his loyalty so glibly, but although he was of French origin, he was a Liberal of the English school. He loved England and loved British institutions and why? Because under the banner of St. George, his fellow countrymen of French origin had found far greater freedom than they ever could have hoped for had they remained subjects of France. It was from Old England that he took his theories of economic principles, of sound government and good common sense, and upon that platform exemplified as he had told them, the liberal party of Canada would fight the next battle. Mr. Laurier concluded thus: "Gentlemen of the city of Montreal, I have now exposed to you what is the policy of the Liberal party. It is as plain as can be. It is a programme for a customs tariff upon a basis of revenue and nothing else. That is the issue upon which we intend to fight, and that is the issue upon which I invite the cordial co-operation of the whole city of Montreal and the whole people of Canada at large."

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Social, Personal and General Occurrences of the Week.
CRISP AND TO THE POINT.

The Supreme court opens next Tuesday. The University students are to hold a conversation Feb 9th. Governor and Mrs. Fraser were at St. John this week, the guests of Judge Tuck.

The Truro curlers played in St. John this week, defeating the St. Andrews club 75 to 55, and losing to the Thistles by 18 points. John T. Currie died at his home at Ononctoc on Sunday of consumption. Two daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Fred Wisely, survive him.

Dr. Parke, who has been ill for some time at the residence of his father-in-law, R. D. Wilmot, M. P., of Belmont, with typhoid fever, is convalescing. The slander trial of Robinson vs. Keith, in the York circuit court, was brought to a close Saturday night at 10:50 o'clock, ending in a verdict for neither party.

Nearly one hundred children were entertained Monday afternoon at Farraline Place by Governor and Mrs. Fraser. The little ones had a delightful time. Hon. Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Mitchell arrived from St. Stephen yesterday for the legislative session, and are stopping at Mrs. Barker's, Brunswick street.

Willie, the youngest son of C. B. Harrison, M. P., of Manguerville, leaves for Chicago in a few days to visit his brothers, and possibly to have a delicate surgical operation performed.

The Fredericton curlers were defeated in all their three matches this week. The Celestial boys are a fine set of fellows and keen curlers, and deserved better conclusion than the duty of the hour demanded that prompt and salutary justice should be meted out to the men, who, recalcitrant to their promises, had left offenders unpunished, and from whom it would be folly to expect the redress of any wrong.

THE ANNUAL MEETING
Of the New Brunswick Dairying Company of Kingsclear.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the New Brunswick dairying company, was held at the Temperance hall, Lower French Village, Monday. President Dykeman in opening the meeting said: That while the past year had not been so prosperous for the company as the directors would have wished, their Kingsclear creamery business had paid its way, and the present outlook was brighter than at their meeting a year ago. Since then the dairy commission had fulfilled his pledges to the patrons of the factory and the company, and while there was not, he reassured, any surplus on hand to pay a dividend to the stock owners, yet, as above stated, the business as run by the company had cleared expenses.

Nine and one-third tons of butter were made during the season, giving a revenue of $823.90, and the expenditure $823.24. A dairy depot in Fredericton was run in connection with the business. This branch had paid its expenses although it was a matter of regret there was no surplus. He contended that if the farmers of Kingsclear, Lower Queensbury and Bright would give the creamery their united and enthusiastic support, there would be no trouble in running a profitable-making business that would be beneficial to both company and patrons.

After the report from the auditors, the manager of the creamery, Egbert Everett, gave a report of the business done by him in the summer. The following is his statement of income and expenditure:

MANUFACTURED FOR COMPANY, 16-945 lbs. butter, at 4c. per lb.	$702.56
Manufactured for patrons, 1,762 3/4 lbs. butter, at 3 1/2c. per lb.	61.34
INCOME.	$823.90
Expenses: Wages of manager, 6 mos., at $45	$270.00
Wages of buttermaker, 6 mos., at $30.	180.00
Wages of assistant buttermaker.	54.00
Wages of cream gatherer.	128.50
Perriage.	15.20
	$647.31

OTHER EXPENSES.
Horse hire and feed.	$75.00
Wool, $24.75; ice, $29.	63.75
Salt and color.	22.50
Butter tubs, $20; postage, $4.68.	24.68
	$223.94

The number of patrons who furnished cream was 42. The amount of cream furnished was 20,874 1/2 inches. The amount of butter made was 18,982 1/2 lbs. Returns had been received from all the butter with the exception of 3,300 lbs. in storage at the creamery and 1,300 lbs. in St. John. The average prices, after deductions of freights, discounts and commissions, was about 23c. per lb.

The Thistles curling club realized for the patrons about 5 cents for every 10 lbs. of butter made from their cream. The following gentlemen were elected as board of directors for the ensuing year, viz: Messrs. G. W. Dykeman, W. T. Whitehead, A. E. Cliff, J. C. Murray, Z. R. Estey, Egbert Everett, Nancy Murray, P. C. Pows, W. W. Hubbard and Willard Kitchen. G. B. Kilburn was appointed auditor for the shareholders.

The board met after the adjournment of the meeting and elected: G. W. Dykeman, president; W. T. Whitehead, vice-president; P. C. Pows, secretary; Isaac Kilburn, treasurer; W. W. Hubbard, auditor for directors. The shareholders unanimously passed a motion to run the business next season, and the directors instructed Manager Everett to secure supplies of wood and ice.

Battered But Still in the Ring. The Fredericton curlers, for a rinks strong, visited St. John and St. Stephen this week and brought home three defeats. With the Thistles our boys were not in it, but they led the St. Andrews club from the start and only lost by one point. At St. Stephen the ice was very wet, making good curling impossible.

THESE CURLERS RETURNED HOME THURSDAY AFTERNOON AND ARE ALREADY GETTING IN PRACTICE FOR THE RETURN MATCHES TO BE PLAYED HERE NEXT MONTH. THE SCORES OF THIS WEEK WERE:

AROUND THE WORLD.
The News of the World in Brief—The Cream of our Exchanges.

Lord Randolph Churchill died Thursday morning. Mrs. and Mrs. G. J. Worden celebrated their golden wedding at Wickham, Queens Co., Wednesday. Harrison Kinnear, whose wife is Miss Hunt of Fredericton, is now in the employ of the Van. Allan ship-brokers of Montreal as their traveller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Milner of Sackville, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, of Moncton, leave about the first of February on a three months' trip to the Southern States and Mexico. Edward Solomon, the composer of comic opera, died at London Tuesday. He wrote the comic opera "Billie Taylor," and married Lillian Russell, who secured a divorce from him on learning that he had another wife living.

The jury in the case of Geo. E. St. John, a prominent real estate dealer at Port Clinton, Ohio, charged with frauds in dealing in cancelled mortgages, brought a verdict of guilty at 4 o'clock Thursday morning, and an hour later he shot himself through the head, dying instantly. Geo. H. Wisely, lieutenant in No. 6 Company, 71st Battalion, St. Stephen, died in Boston on Friday last week, and his remains were taken to St. Andrews for burial. Deceased was well known to the militiamen of Fredericton, and was a nephew of Alex. Wisely, who attended the funeral.

Brooklyn, N. Y., has been like an armed camp all this week. Ten thousand electric car employes are on strike and as many soldiers are quartered in the city to preserve order. Frequent collisions have occurred between the troops and strikers, and half a dozen deaths resulted. It looks now as if the strikers will soon give up the fight.

William O'Brien, M. P., has written a letter to the Freeman's Journal, stating that a famine is threatened in the west of Ireland. He declares that the situation there is already more serious than it was in 1881, when Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Chief Secretary, expended £1,000,000 from the British treasury to relieve the sufferings of the people of that region.

The imperial military authorities at Halifax are very much exercised over the disappearance of Sergeant Baham and Corporal Hoston of the Royal Engineers, and with them some $3,000 of military funds. Baham was pay sergeant, and Hoston is believed to have stolen the spoils. The police of Boston, Philadelphia and other points have been telegraphed.

At Paul's church, Montreal, Sunday, Lord Haddo and Lady Marjorie Gordon, who attended with their stock and Lord and Lady Aberdeen, partook of the sacrament for the first time. Lord Haddo was confirmed at Harrow school last term. He desired to receive the communion for the first time in the Presbyterian church. Their excellencies' children are thus necessarily following the course adopted in this matter by their parents, who have all their lives been connected with both the Episcopal and Presbyterian churches.

Rev. Mr. Henderson, the colored preacher of St. John, is again at liberty to minister to the flock of St. Philip's church, as Judge Barker ordered his release Monday on a habeas corpus order. John L. Carleton, counsel for the prisoner, intended raising the point that the Dominion Act of 1880 had never been proclaimed in force, which was essential to its validity; and that under existing treaties the offence charged was not extraditable. Attorney General Blair felt that Mr. Carleton's view of the law was correct, and decided not to oppose the discharge of the prisoner.

An epidemic of scarlet fever prevails at Halifax, and many deaths have occurred. The disease was taken into the Victoria general hospital, and half a dozen of the nurses contracted it. They were removed to the hospital for infectious diseases, but the fever still lingered in the general hospital and spread among the patients. In some cases whole families of children were stricken down. Mr. Geo. S. Campbell, daughter of the famous Scotch singer, David Kennedy, contracted the disease while nursing her afflicted child. The child died, but Mrs. Campbell will recover.

A local bye-election is to be held in Colchester, N. S., Feb. 5th, to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of W. D. Dimock. It appears that after the general election, petitions were prepared against the two members elected for Colchester, Laurence and Dimock. Among the grounds of the petition against Mr. Dimock was that he had not technically complied with the law respecting his resignation of Dominion employment before the nomination. It was agreed by leading men on both sides that the two petitions should be dropped and that Mr. Dimock should be permitted to resign and be re-elected without opposition. It is under this arrangement that Mr. Dimock has tendered his resignation, and therefore he will not be opposed. Mr. Dimock is the editor of Truro's spirited daily paper, the News, and will be a prominent member of the opposition to Mr. Fielding's government.

We refer our readers to Lucy's house advertisement in another column. This is an opportunity of securing a very desirable residence in a very pleasant part of the city.
