Death of Mr. Thomas Browne.

Passed peacefully away in the arms of his son, Rev. P. W. Browne, at St. Jacques. Mr. John W. Browne who is now in the city received a message from St. Jacques Monday apprising him of the death of his father at that place. The despatch said that he passed peacefully away in the arms of his son, Rev. P. W. Browne, after His Lordship Rt. Rev. Bishop Power, assisted by Rev. Father Nolan had administered the last Sacrament. Deceased was born at Carbonear in 1832, and his father being the famous fish killer, Capt. Patrick Browne, who was then pioneer of the fishery on the lower part of the Labrador coast for a quarter of a century. Capt. Browne was the first man to go north of Cape Harrington in the William Stairs and later in the Thomas Ridley. After his death his son, the subject of this Memoriam, followed up the Labrador fishery in the schooner Provision and later in the Frederick, out of Baine Johnson's. He was very successful in the early days, but within the Eighties, owing to a succession of bad fisheries he decided to draw out of the fishery, retire from active work on the sea, and settle down at home in Carbonear. This he did with honor and a pursuance of the honest principles that characterized his whole life. He paid all fishermen's wages and every man to whom he owed a dollar, and kept his spirit of independence unsullied. His room at Dead Island passed into other hands and his place there knew his familiar form no more. In 1891 deceased removed with his family to Whitbourne which was then in the height of its prosperity. His son, Rev. P. W. Browne, had shortly before been appointed Parish Priest of the inland town. Here the deceased opened a hotel and a store and during the time that Whitbourne remained prosperous carried on a successful business. When the town went down owing to the railway headquarters being transferred to St. John's, deceased with his family returned to Carbonear where he resided till last year with his daughter, Mrs. Philip Moore. About a year ago he removed to St. Jacques to live with his son, Rev. P. W. Browne, who was appointed to that parish by His Lordship Bishop Power. Deceased is survived by his wife, four sons and two daughters. Messrs. Thomas and Hugh Browne are now in Chicago holding good positions. Mr. John M. Browne is doing business at Carbonear, and Rev. P. W. Browne, the popular and respected parish priest of St. Jacques. One daughter, Mrs. Philip Moore, is residing in St. John's, being the wife of Mr. P. F. Moore, of the General Post Office; the second daughter is Mrs. Albert Ryan, of Placentia. His surviving sisters are Mrs. P. Hogan, Carbonear; and the Nun Sister Mary Magdalen, of the Presentation Convent, Carbonear. The Telegram extends to them its sincere sympathy. The body will be brought to Placentia by the Glencoe and taken to Carbonear by rail. The funeral took place there to-day. His Lordship Bishop Power who with Rev. Fr. Nolan happened to be at St. Jacques on the regular visitation will come along to Carbonear to celebrate the Requiem Mass on the occasion. In the death of Mr. Thomas Browne the country has lost one of the good old stock that helped to build up their native land. He was a man of sterling character, and one who's life is worthy of imitation by all who love honesty and independence. After life's titill fever he sleeps well.
