A CASUALTY.

John Delaney, of the Rifles, has been shot—
A man we never knew.
Does it cloud the day for you
That he lies among the dead
Moving, hearing, heeding not?

No historian will write his humble name;
No sculptured stone will tell
The traveller where he fell,
That he lies among the dead
Is the measure of his fame.

When our troops return victorious
shall we care
That dead to all our cheers,
Lacking tribute of our tears,
He is lying with the dead
Stark and silent—God knows where?

John Delaney, of the Rifles, who was he?
A name seen on the list,
All unknown and all unmissed,
What to us that he is dead?
Yet he died for you and me.

—W. M. Letts, in the Observer.

PROSPERITY COMING.

Prosperity is due, the sunshine statesmen say; hard times, that made us blue, will shortly pass away. "The outlook sure is fine," the gentle Woodrow cries, and Redfield's whiskers shine, and twinkling are his eyes. For gratitude devout we'll soon have ample cause; we'll see the working out of our new tariff laws. We'll all be spelling thanks, our bosoms full of thrills; our patent duplex banks will heal all human ills. Our blessed income tax will soon relieve the poor, and heap on rich men's backs as much as they'll endure. The gloomy days are done, the sunshine sharps declare; our place is in the sun, and we'll be happy there. When griefs are also rans, and we are fortune's pets, we'll bless kind Woodrow's plans, and Redfield's whiskerettes, for men are growing tired of living on fresh air, of furnaces unfired, and cupboards grimly bare. It's sad to see the hosts of hungry unemployed, who are convinced no ghosts will walk to fill the void. The plunks we chase no hard are scarce as dragon's teeth; it's sad to see the hard compelled to eat his wraith. Ho, then, for better days! We'll greet them with a grin, and we'll be free with praise when they are ushered in!

Doctors and Gas Fires

In an article which recently appeared in the London "Evening News," Mr. W. G. Faulkner stated: "In making my inquiries I discovered one significant fact. This was that one company—the Gas Light and Coke Company—had among their consumers 2,500 doctors who had gas fires installed in their houses, some as many as four or a dozen; that 1,500 of these doctors had become users of gas during the past three years; and that not one had ever given them up."

Professor C. V. Boys, F.R.S., says in the "Standard": "Sentiment and inertia are the only obstacles against the general adoption of gas fires and cooking appliances. Wonderful strides have been made, in spite of deep-rooted prejudices. A gas fire, burning with a blue, is an admirable agent for heating a room; and, as a scientist, I fail to understand how such a gas fire drives the air in a room more than any other fire."—Nov 17, 1914.

G. B. S. ON POTSDAM.

Mr. George Bernard Shaw in a long letter to the Irish Press on the duty of Ireland during the war says: "The Irishman who declares himself the friend of Potsdam declares himself the enemy of France, and if there is one institution on earth that has stronger claims to the implacable political hostility of every extreme Democrat and Republican than Dublin Castle that institution is Potsdam. "If the English are willing to stand by their old enemy, is Ireland going to turn its back on its old friend? If Fontenoy is to be fought over again, will the Irish Brigade betray its old comrades the French for the sake of Prussia?"

BRITISH LABOR LEADER OFF FOR THE FRONT.

London, Dec. 12.—James Ramsay MacDonald, member of Parliament and chairman of the Labor Party, has gone to the front, according to the Leicester Post. Mr. MacDonald, for a time, was bitterly opposed to the war. He accused Sir Edward Grey, British Foreign Secretary, of being responsible for England's participation in the war.

Marvelous Balsamic Essences Cure Catarrh

No Drugs To Take—A Direct Breathing Cure!

Statistics Prove Ninety-Seven Per Cent of Canada's Population is Infested With the Germs of Catarrh.

This disease is most dangerous owing to its tendency to extend to the Bronchial tubes and lungs, where it causes Consumption. Unfortunately the people have had faith in sprays, ointments and snuffs, which can't possibly cure, and in consequence catarrhal disease has become a national cure. Science is advancing every day, and fortunately a remedy has been discovered that not only cures but prevents Catarrh. This new treatment "Catarrhose" has sufficient power to kill the germs of Bronchitis, Catarrh and Asthma. It contains pure pine essences and healing balsams that go to the remotest part of

MAN IN OVERALLS DOING PART.

Newcastle, Eng., via London, Dec. 14, 10.35 p.m.—"Men in overalls, just as much as these who go forth to fight for their country in khaki or blue, stand between this land and a group of savage, relentless and ruthless militarists," said the Right Hon. Thomas James MacNamara, financial secretary to the admiralty, in addressing to-night the first of a series of meetings at which he has been delegated to express the thanks of the admiralty to the shipyard and engineering works employees engaged on government contracts.

"Without your work," Mr. MacNamara added, "the valor of the soldiers would avail nothing."

By their patriotic response to the heavy and continuous strain imposed upon them since the war, Mr. MacNamara declared the workmen had assisted materially in increasing the strength and the readiness of the fleet. He exhorted them to continue their efforts in the assurance that in so doing they were best serving their country.

Lumbago's Misery Ceases, Every Aching Muscle Cured

JUST RUB ON OLD-TIME "NERVILINE."

Not necessary to drug inside! That awful stiffness that makes you yelp worse than a kicked dog will be cured—cured for a certainty, and quickly, too, if you just rub on Nerviline.

Rub Nerviline right into the sore spot, rub lots of it over those tortured muscles, do this and the pain will go. You see Nerviline is thin, not oily. Therefore it sinks in, it penetrates through the tissues, it gets right to those stiff, sore muscles and irritated nerves that make you dance with pain.

You'll get almost instant relief from muscle soreness, stiffness, aching joints, lameness or rheumatism by rubbing with Nerviline. It's a soothing liniment, and doesn't blister, doesn't burn or even stain the skin.

It's the most harmless cure in the world for Lumbago, Back Strain or Sciatica. It takes away the ache at once and ends your misery quickly.

Now quit complaining—don't suffer another day—Nerviline, that good, soothing old-time liniment will limber up your mighty quick. Get busy today, the large 50c. family size bottle is the most economical, of course, the trial size costs but 25c. Any dealer anywhere can supply Nerviline.

CANADIAN PRIVATE FALLS TO DEATH IN A 300-FOOT WELL.

London, Dec. 14.—The body of Pte. Charles Matthews, of the 2nd Field Ambulance, Canadian contingent, was taken out of a disused well on Salisbury Plain on Saturday, in a mutilated condition.

Matthews, who was about thirty years of age, was engaged with other members of his corps at about 5 o'clock on Friday evening in carrying out some military manoeuvres on the Downs.

Another man came across an old door on the ground at the top of Lavington Hill and proceeded to move it. The door had been used to cover a well, which the men did not notice in the darkness, and at almost the first step Private Matthews dropped to the bottom of the well, 300 feet below.

GERMAN LOSSES OVER A MILLION.

Copenhagen, December 15.—The hundredth casualty list, containing only 2,484 additions, brings the total Prussian killed, wounded and missing to 717,319. In addition there are 74 Saxon, 75 Wurtemberg and 118 Bavarian lists.

The total Prussian and Bavarian casualties hitherto published are about one million. Saxon and Wurtemberg lists give an additional 100,000.

Heavy losses of the Bavarians led some Germans to describe them as food for the British cannon.

SAYS TRENT WON'T BUY ITALY'S NEUTRALITY.

Rome, Dec. 14.—The Messaggero, discussing Prince von Buelow's arrival, which is expected to be next week, alludes to the rumor that he will offer Italy the Trentino as the price of her neutrality. The Messaggero remarks that the Trentino, even if Austria would cede it, is not enough, for it would not secure Italy's position in the Adriatic.

"To bind ourselves to Germany," it concludes, "would be to pay for her blunders in this disastrous war. Italy's armed intervention is only a question of time."

A bad impression has been created among the Italians of Trent by the hoisting of the Turkish flag beside the Austrian emblem opposite the Bishop's Palace. Several priests have protested.

German Officer Found in a Box

THE PACKAGE WAS SHIPPED AT DORCHESTER, ENGLAND, FOR ROTTERDAM.

London, Dec. 13.—The German army officer whom the customs officials at Gravesend Saturday found concealed in a huge box to Rotterdam, told an alien immigration officer that his name was Otto Koehn, and that he was a lieutenant in the German Army, according to a despatch from Gravesend to Lloyd's News. The lieutenant said he had been in America recently, continues the message, and returned aboard the steamer Potsdam shortly before the outbreak of the war. Subsequently he was arrested at Southampton and interned in the camp for aliens at Dorchester. The box in which the officer was found was among the luggage of a number of elderly aliens who were being sent from the camp at Dorchester to Germany. On arriving at Tilbury from Dorchester, they were transferred to a ferryboat for Gravesend, where they boarded the steamer Batavier, bound for Rotterdam. Porters handling the baggage found beneath the pile of packages a huge packing case on which were stencilled the words "Non Poisonous Safety Matches."

The case was so heavy that the porters had to roll it over and over on the deck tender to the rails separating it from the Batavier. The bumping of the box apparently stunned the occupant, and forced the lid of the case partly open, causing an arm to protrude. This was noticed by a Dutch seaman who called the attention of the ferry boat skipper to it. An armed guard in charge of these being deported was called and found the man in the box in a semi-conscious state.

Somewhere on your body? If so, attend to it at once. In Eczema—and itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally eczematous—delays are foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. Your best chance for a cure is to use Zylex, which will give almost instant relief, and if used in the earlier stages of the trouble will almost certainly bring a cure, and in any event will greatly ameliorate the trouble. Coats are shortening their lengths. Real metal roses are found on millinery. There are no radical changes in corset lines. Cloaks and wraps are all martial in character. Yoke effects are much seen on separate coats. Princess polonaises are promised for the spring. Many fur coats are fastened with a single button. Cloth is the material of the day, broadcloth leading. Blue is fashionable this season, as it has always been. The sheerest materials are used for dancing frocks. Stockings are becoming more conspicuous than ever. In jewelry, cut steel and cut jet are being combined. The military note continues to influence woman's dress.

BRITISH VICTORY BY RAFTS.

How 2,000 of Enemy's Cavalry Died.

Eloquent testimony to the tenacious bravery and high fighting qualities of British soldiers is paid by a young German soldier interviewed by a correspondent of the Dutch newspaper Tyd. Speaking of the fighting at Dixmude from where he returned to Bruges last week-end with only a remnant of his company, the German said the fighting was murderous.

"Our troops are now in Dixmude," he said, "but there is nothing left of the little town, and the English are just on the other side. The only part of Dixmude we occupy are the bricks and stones with which we cover our trenches. When we first entered Dixmude we had a number of guns in action, but they were destroyed by the English artillery, so the only thing left for us was to remain under cover in our strong trenches.

"When we got the order to leave the trenches and advance north of Dixmude we were reinforced by 2,000 cavalry. After two hours' marching on heavy roads and in a bitterly cold wind we veered to the left in the direction of the enemy's line. The enemy with wonderful skill had crossed the floods on rafts, and taking advantage of the darkness they succeeded in occupying the ground just in front of our trenches. When we descended into the trenches just left by our comrades we came under a withering rifle fire, and before we could judge the position 200 of our men were killed and we could not see if our fire had any result on the enemy.

"At once we heard the blowing of

HIGHER WAGES FOR SEAMEN.

London, Dec. 15.—The Board of Trade has decided to award the Liverpool seamen an increase in wages of $2.50 per month.

The question of raising the wages of the seamen was submitted to the Board of Trade for arbitration shortly after the war broke out. The men asked for an advance of $5 per month over their old wages to cover the extra risks of navigation.
