House of Assembly.

Wednesday, June 16.

The House met at 3.30 p.m.

Petitions were presented by Mr. Hibbs for railways extension along the north side of Bonavista Bay; by Messrs. Sullivan, Bennett, Moore and Higgins from a large number of residents of Placentia and St. Mary's, Port-de-Grave, St. John's West, Ferryland, Witless Bay and Fermeuse and St. John's East for modification of the Prohibition Act. In presenting the petitions the different members pointed out that some steps should be taken to meet the views of the petitioners, who number so very many. Mr. Higgins asking would it not be wise for the Government to give consideration to the request for a plebiscite. The petition is so largely supported that it should be met by an Act at the present session. Petitions for $5,000 for improvements to the breakwater at Jerseyside, Placentia, were presented by Mr. Walsh, supported by Messrs. Sullivan and Sinnott.

The Prime Minister moved the House into Committee of the Whole to consider resolutions respecting certain concessions to the Dominion Co-operative Building Association, Ltd. Those resolutions provide for payment of the Company, out of the public funds, during a period of twenty years, of any sum by which the net earnings of the Company should be less than 5 per cent. upon so much of the capital as shall be actually paid up in cash and engaged in the building of dwelling houses, and also for importation free of charge of all construction and building materials and machinery which are not manufactured in this Colony and for use by the Company in its business.

Sir M. P. Cashin asked how the money was to be raised. He looked upon the Bill as mere camouflage. It gave no enlightenment as to the amount to be borrowed. It was a waste of time to pass the present Bill.

The Prime Minister replied that some large firms were supporting the scheme by taking stock. The capital, it was expected, would be subscribed in a few months.

Mr. W. J. Higgins pointed out that the Bill did absolutely nothing. The Association requested concessions and free entry on materials, but that's no act on which the Government can take credit, as the same is done for any combination building anything from a hen house to a fox farm. It is obvious that nobody will put in capital unless sure of 5 per cent. It is just as well to say the Government is doing nothing to solve the all-important housing problem.

Mr. Squires—I didn't say they were. Mr. Higgins—I'm glad you admit it. You promised great things but everyone is now disappointed. If the small investor is to be helped, 5 p.c. interest at best should be given.

Mr. J. R. Bennett was disappointed with the resolutions. The solving of the Housing Problem was promised in pre-election protestations, and had a prominent place in the Speech from the Throne. Messrs. Anderson, Jas. McGrath and Gibbs were prime movers in the scheme, and went out of their way to misrepresent himself and others. Their communication to Mr. Hallyard on the housing question received no reply, but he (Mr. Bennett), as Colonial Secretary, asked Hon. Mr. Anderson to go into the matter with him, but heard nothing further from that gentleman.

Mr. Hallyard here explained that the day the letter was sent he was going on his shooting trip. Strange to say, Mr. Mews had failed to acknowledge it.

Hundreds of houses, not thirty, are needed to relieve the situation, and the day will come when those responsible for their breach of trust will regret it.

Mr. Squires muttered something unintelligible, at which Mr. Bennett challenged him to speak out like a man if he had anything to say and get from behind his paper.

Mr. Squires said he would meet him at Bay de Verde.

Mr. Bennett replied, "You've got Bay de Verde on the brain. You're shaking to pieces about Bay de Verde and cannot even sit still in your seat. The poor reception you got there is plainly worrying you." The resolutions are one of the greatest bluffs ever attempted on the people.

Mr. Higgins asked again to change the interest to 3 per cent. before passing the resolutions.

Mr. Squires promised to table correspondence on the housing question to-day.

Mr. Vinnicombe thought a shareholder, thought Section 3, permitting free entry a dangerous one, as every man in the country has as much right to free entry of materials as the company. He thought it would be better to give the people a loan. The resolutions were read a first time.

In reply to the question of Mr. Bennett, Mr. Squires said the work of the Commission to enquire into the salaries of the Civil Service was not yet completed.

In reply to Mr. Higgins, Mr. Coaker explained that the time of the Masters and Matees Certificate Bill had been extended in the Upper House till the 30th June, 1921, on the recommendation of the Select Committee.

The "Keeping of Dogs," "Salphite and Compases Act" Bills passed second reading, after which the House adjourned till 3 p.m. to-day.
