This Will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry

Save $2 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few drops usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle; then add the sugar syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, croup, bronchitis, asthma, and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in gualcol and all the natural healing pine elements.
Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has obtained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, though never successfully.
A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

much good. My back troubled me very much. It seemed weak. I had much

THE RED BUTTON

A MYSTERY STORY OF NEW YORK

By WILL IRWIN

Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

Betsy-Barbara walked on, still thinking. "Maybe, I'm afraid, though, that it might be only an aberration," she said finally.

"Perhaps," echoed Tommy North. And now, having finished his introduction, he approached the subject nearest his heart.

"Of course, that's all," he said, "except that I owe you an apology for—my condition last night."

"It is to yourself," said Betsy-Barbara.
"That you owe the apology, Mr. North, why did you do it—again?"

"Now, it was in Tommy North's impulses to tell exactly what he did. It came out with the truth, accompanied by his opinion of philanthropic Spaniards. But that would have amounted to a declaration, and to declare his feelings for Betsy-Barbara was leagues beyond his present courage."

"Oh," he said carelessly, desperately. "I got a jolt. That's all. And I took it out in booze."

"You've told me," said Betsy-Barbara.
"that you don't like the taste of the stuff. That's why you drink, then—to taste and learn a lesson. You're in trouble?
Don't that show rather poor courage?"

"Perhaps."

"Now, I'm in trouble. And Comstance —Mrs. Hanska—is in deep, deep trouble. Suppose we drank every time it hurt. I don't believe you know what real trouble is—even if you were arrested unjustly."

"Well, it isn't always that."

"No, you told me the other night it was because you hadn't anything better to do.
Mr. North," she added, suddenly lifting her eyes to his, "your need is something else to do. You're out of a job.
How many jobs have you had since you came to New York?"

By the time Tommy had expanded to his satisfaction, they were past Forty-fifth street. The shops were beginning to give way to old residences, left behind stranded by the up-town movement of fashion. Two women—bearing in their movements, their elegant simplicity of dress, their exquisite length of line, the brand of the American Barbarian—had stopped head-on in the soft-clipped, affected accents of their class. Betsy-Barbara regarded them as she turned over in her mind the case of this troublesome pupil.

"Mr. North," she said at length. "I'm going to ask a very personal question.
I'm not asking it out of curiosity. I've a reason, which I'll state later—have you saved any money?"

"I have saved for the shock," replied Tommy. "But I really have. I inherited three hundred dollars a while ago.
And my mother made me promise one thing—that I'd save a little every week.
I have five hundred dollars in the bank."

Betsy-Barbara nodded her wise and golden head.

"That will do beautifully for a start," she said.

"As a start at what?" Inquire Tommy.

"At the Thomas W. North Advertising Agency."

"The Thomas W. North Advertising Agency. It's founded now, 10:15 a.m.
October 16th, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-fifth street, New York." Barbara. "I've diagnosed your case. The trouble with you is that you're drifted.
Isn't it?"

"I suppose so," said Tommy.

"And it has been the whole trouble, I think." Betsy-Barbara announced this gravelly from the superior height of twenty-four years. "You're drifting. You don't want to grow into the kind of young man Mr. Dayne and Mr. Murphy are. They're the kind of young men you want to be. When you're boss, you don't loaf on the job. You'd discharge an employee who did that, and you can't discharge yourself. Some day you'll wish you had a business of your own. Then you'll look back and be sorry you didn't start it when you were young. You can get business, can't you?"

"I ought to," said Tommy.

"And I think you ought to," she checked herself here. She wanted to say that anyone with Tommy North's personality should be able to drag business out of a rock. What she said was another question.

"And you can—fix up—the business when you get it?"

"I suppose I can. I never lost a place for incompetence—except the elevator job."

"Then there's really nothing more to be said," responded Betsy-Barbara. "Just get an office, and hang out your shingle.
And go to work. You can't afford to loaf. You'll be doing it for yourself, and that, Thomas W. North, is what you need."

THE GREAT SOOTHING, HEALING OINTMENT.

Most people know Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema and itching piles. Nor is this to be wondered at when you think of the remarkable record made in this class of cures.

But there are scores of other uses for this ointment, which are only discovered when it is kept constantly at hand.

Mrs. Martin, 13 Carroll street, Toronto, formerly of Bowmanville, Ont., writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years, and found it invaluable in treating skin irritations and all sorts of burns and wounds.
In fact, we would not be without it in the house. It is a most excellent treatment for granulated eyelids, from which I suffered without finding anything to help me."

Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal, you can use Dr. Chase's Ointment, with full assurance that it will prove entirely satisfactory. 60 cents a box,

BURNED PAVILION

Arson Squad Left Usual Literature at Bristol University.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 24.—An "arson squad" of militant suffragettes today set fire to and destroyed the sports pavilion of Bristol University. They left the usual tell-tale suffrage literature scattered around the grounds.

The public prosecutor decided today that he would not proceed against "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, who was taken ill in June last while proceedings were in progress against her for infringement of the malicious damage to property act. She underwent an operation and since then has been continually in ill-health.

CRISIS IN SPAIN

All Efforts of King to End Trouble Have Failed.

New York, Oct. 23.—A Madrid cable says:

Both in Government and political circles it is admitted that the situation has never been quite so complicated as at present. The King arrived yesterday from Biarritz, where he underwent a slight operation, and had a long conference with Premier Roman-ones.

It is currently believed that a cabinet crisis will certainly supervene before the end of the week, the efforts made by the King having failed to reconcile the factions of the Liberal party. What the solution will be even the most experienced politicians fail to foresee.

CODY'S CORNERS.

Cody's Corners, Oct. 23.—Miss Lizell Elliott spent the holidays with Mr. James Phillips, of London, spent the week-end with his cousin, Mrs. H. Greenfield.

Miss Florence Greenfield was the guest of Miss Mildred Harris, of Ingersoll, last week.

Misses Nell Cooper and Elsie Williams, of Brantford, were holiday visitors at Mr. E. L. Cody's.

Miss Alma Munro attended the teachers' convention held in Ingersoll.

Mrs. George Hamilton and children, of Thamesford, were recent visitors at Mrs. A. Hamilton's.

Mr. A. E. Day and children, of Brantford, also Mrs. Jack Lindley and tors at Mr. Russell Day's.

BEN B. STEVENS DEAD.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Benjamin B. Stevens, a widely-known theatrical man, long associated with the Richards, died suddenly at his home yesterday of apoplexy, aged 62 years.

HAD BAD SORE
FOUR YEARS

ZAM-BUK HAS HEALED IT.

Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Ave., Toronto, says: "About three years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about half an inch in diameter and very painful. I went to a doctor, but the doctor told me I did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely, and was most painful. I had it cauterized, ried poultices, and all kinds of salves, but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years."

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small, it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply."

"Each box did me more and more good, and to my delight, before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks, I saw that it was going to heal the sore.
In less than a month it was healed!"

"I know a lady in the east of the city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation, Zam-Buk was tried.
In that case, the other day, when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely."

"My daughter, who lives in Lethbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory results. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ringworm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY AIDS
BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Gulniver: Yes, you can overcome the results of the careless treatment of your hair, which has commenced to destroy its natural beauty and cause it to grow dull, brittle, brittle and fall out. I shampoo occasionally by using a teaspoonful can-tharid dissolved in a cup hot water. This greatly invigorates the scalp tissues and half roots and produces a healthy growth of even-colored, lustrous, fluffy hair. I have found cantharid shampoo is extremely soothing to tender, itchy scalps and allows the hair to dry very quickly.

Lotha M.: Here is a simple, inexpensive treatment for hairy growth: Mix a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water. Apply to hairs not wanted and rinse. In two or three minutes rub off and the hair will be smooth and hairless. Turn wash the skin to remove the remaining delatone.

Darling: Yes, it is true that fat always destroys the beautiful lines of the figure, but if you do as I have before advised in these columns, you can get rid of the fat and your form will be plump and beautifully proportioned. In one and one-half pints hot water dissolve four ounces parfume. Let this cool, then take one tablespoonful before each meal. This treatment produces no present or future ill effects and gradually dissolves the unnecessary fat. It is a perfect wrinkle remover in the face and will never have any reason to feel embarrassed because of your shape.

Pearl: You girls were right when you decided that face powder clogs the pores, even though much is blown off the skin, and leaves a spotted effect. You can avoid this annoyance and enjoy a softer, healthier, finer complexion if you apply a spray lotion. This is quite inexpensive and is prepared by dissolving four ounces spermum in one-half pint which hazel oil hot water to which is added a few drops sponfuls glycerine. The spermum lotion is invisible when on and requires no further attention. You will find it especially nice to banish summer's freckles and tan and the sallow, unhealthy cast of powder-smothered skin and give a delightful freshness and youth-tint to your skin.

Johanna: Yes, you have a good reason to feel alarmed about your hair. But if you do as I have before advised, you can come that dryness without paying a large sum to a hair specialist. Just make up
