FIGHTS HER PURSUERS

In an attempt to solve the high cost f living in a manner which the law is vont to frown upon, a middle-aged ady caused a lot of excitement on the narket square Saturday afternoon Her method was simple. She merely took what she wanted and neglected to pay for it. The scene of her first adventure was a Dundas street store where, it is alleged, she appropriated several yards of gingham. This she wound round her body, and putting ou her raincoat, sallied out to the market square.

Grabs Basket of Fruit. A basket of cherries in front of the fruit store of Mr. Chancey Smith, she next selected as her lawful prize. Pick ng it up she passed on quite unconernedly. A bystander, however, noiced the omission of the formality paying for it and he drew Mr. Smith attention to the fact, whereupon tha gentleman started in pursuit up the Market Lane

Two on the Trail. About this time a clerk from the drygoods store appeared on the scene and he took the trail. They overtook the woman at the doorway of the Coote block. Here she made a valiant stand. The cherries she yielded up readily enough, but when the drygoods man attempted to reclaim gingham she waged a valiant with her umbrella, to the delight of the large crowd which had gathered Having recovered their property th two merchants were satisfied and the police were not called.

FORTY THOUSAND KILLED

"As a precautionary measure the garrisons in Southern and Southwestern Russia are being mobilized with view to eventualities arising out of the Balkan war."

Heaviest Fighting. London, July 7.—After ten days of fighting more severe and deadly character than anything in the last Balkan war, a little light begins to break upon the hitherto obscure operation. In the first place, the Servians have lost more men than in the whole previous campaign, and semiofficial statements issued at Belgrade have the appearance of an intention to prepare the public for news of a Desperate fighting, with fluctuating fortunes, is proceeding along the Vardar and Bregalinitza Rivers, which seems to be in favor of the Bulgarians. Important news has been received of the Bulgarian invasion Servia through Belogradchyk, about 45 miles northeast of Nish, Servia's most important fortified town.

Claim Victory, indication is given of the strength of the Bulgarian column at this point, but the Bulgarians claim to have defeated the Servians and captured five guns and a quantity of other war material, and, by the occupation of the passes, to have opened the road to Nish.

There is heavy fighting also between the Servians and Bulgarians to borhood of Kotchana. About 200,-000 men are engaged and the losses on both sides appear to be terrible. Buigaria's strategy appears to be to hold the Greeks in check, probably with comparatively small forces, while she deals with Servia. This assumption, if correct, would explain the victorious advance of the Greek army.

Servians Won. Unconfirmed reports credit the Bulgarians with victories near Koprili, giving them the key to Uskub, with an outflanking movement from south of Tahynos Lake, which would cut off the Greek retreat. Saloniki dispatches continue to report Greek victories. The Greeks are said to have captured sixteen guns at Doiran. Evidence of desperate fighting is found in the arrival of 8,000 wounded at Saloniki, taxing the town's accommodations and resources

Forty Thousand Killed. A conservative estimate of the disabled in last week's fighting fixes the number at from 30,000 to 40,000. Thousands of destitute refugees from the scene of the fighting are pouring to the uttermost.

The Greeks have made wholesale harges against the Bulgarians of urning and pillaging all the villages they abandoned, and of committing murders, mutilations and other horrors. More than 4,000 refugees are concentrated at Nigrita and adjacent villages.

Four Thousand Surrender.

The Bulgarian legation received last night official confirmation of the surrender of Servian Timok division numberng 4,000. Six machine guns, 27 quick-firers and a complete commissariat train also were captured. Two Servian regiments which crossed the frontier into Bulgaria, according to further advices, have been driven bac kto the north of Egri Pal-

London, July 7. — The mobilization of the Rumanian army will be com-pleted by Thursday or Friday, according to dispatches from Bucharest The Rumanian troops are expected to cross the Danube into Bulgaria imme diately, and as a result of this step It is assumed that Bulgaria will be compelled either to agree to the Rumanian demands and permit Rumania to occupy the territory she desires or to engage in war.
