

THE SEALING AWARDS.

Details of the Claims Allowed and of Those Rejected. With the Reasons.

Expenses Granted in Each Case—No Award to Vessels Violating the Law.

Curiosity as to the division of the round sum of a hundred thousand dollars will be satisfied when the list, printed below, is read. It was received yesterday by Mr. A. R. Milne, Collector of Customs, and the news having rapidly spread among the sealing owners, the callers at his office on this business were very numerous. The awards will now be paid without delay.

In the early part of 1891, the British and United States Governments entered into an agreement for the suspension of sealing in Behring Sea pending a settlement of the question which of these nations be the respective rights of these nations. Before this agreement—the now famous "modus vivendi"—which is still in force—had been formally ratified, nearly all the sealing schooners had left for their season's work, and those that had not actually sailed had made all preparations for doing so. As it was evident that serious loss must result to the sealers through enforcing the prohibition at such short notice, it had been decided between the British and U. S. Governments that compensation should be allowed them, the awards to be paid in the first instance by the British Government, and the matter of liability to be determined in the arbitration of the general question. Notice of the "modus vivendi" was sent out from Victoria, and communicated to the sealers by the warships and otherwise wherever on their expeditions they could be met with. Upon the return of the vessels to port the masters and owners had prepared a statement of their claims for the losses sustained.

Claims were filed on behalf of 44 vessels; the prospective profits in each case being determined on the basis of the catch of several preceding seasons by the vessels themselves, and others of like capacity, a great number of labor thus being entitled. The counsel employed by the sealers were Messrs. Belyea & Gregory, who prepared and filed all the claims. The information on which they were based was obtained in most part from Collector Milne, whose advice and experience have been at all times available to the sealers, during the long period of trouble and anxiety, dating from the commencement of the "modus vivendi."

In the spring of 1892 the British Government sent out Mr. C. V. Glascock, a prominent official of the Treasury, as commissioner to inquire into the claims made; and with him Mr. Arthur J. Ross, a leading marine claims adjuster. The gentlemen met the sealers' representatives and entered upon a minute examination of each claim, their stay here lasting from May to August, during which the long period of trouble and anxiety, dating from the commencement of the "modus vivendi," was reviewed, and a complete and accurate statement of the claims was obtained. The sealers' representatives, before their departure, submitted a statement of the claims, and the British Government, after a careful examination of the same, decided that the substantial amount of one hundred thousand dollars had been awarded to the sealers, the balance being to be paid in installments.

These show that of the total of forty-four claims, twenty-five have been allowed, as given below. Thirty have been rejected because the evidence showed that the earnings covered the outlay, those so classed being:

Winthrop, Ocean Bell, Wanderer, Ventura, Wapiti, Christina G. Cox, W. P. Sawyer.

To each of these thirteen $100 has been allowed to cover the expense of promoting the claim, the sealers in the case of the claims allowed. The claims of the Vira, Oscar and Kaitie and Katherine, a memorandum, were virtually withdrawn by the owners as unsatisfactory under the prescribed conditions. The collector rejected the claim of the E. B. Marvin because the vessel was seized for disregarding the warning conveyed to her; that of the Otto because she was seized for violating proper papers; and that of the Ethel because registered as a foreign vessel.

The following is a detailed statement of the claims allowed:

Vessel	Award to Owners	Over and Total
Thetis	$ 2,975	$ 10,471

Amie E. Palm	2,025	7,738

Toward expenses of advancing twenty-five successful claims—$ 2,500
Toward expenses of advancing thirteen rejected claims—$ 1,300

Total award—$100,234

Though the total comes far short of the claim made, the sealers appear to be now fairly well satisfied with the awards, as they had long given up expectation of receiving the full amount. One very gratifying feature of the whole business has been the active manner in which the Dominion Government has pushed the claims of the sealers, and the disposition shown by the Imperial authorities to carry out the promise of compensation on a fair and liberal basis. Collector Milne feels particularly gratified at the prospect of a harmonious winding up of the business, as the sealers have been so long in the hands of the Imperial authorities to carry out the promise of compensation on a fair and liberal basis.

THE CITY.

From the Daily Colonist, April 28.

Prospect of a Treat. A successful rehearsal of the entertainment to be given on May 2, in St. John's schoolroom, took place yesterday. Everything promises a delightful evening.

The Appeal Abandoned. Finding that legal technicalities interfered, Mr. S. Perry Mills has abandoned the contemplated appeal in the case of the young man David, convicted of the larceny of fruit from a Plumper's Pan.

Calico Ball. A grand calico ball, with supper, will be held in the Philharmonic hall on Monday evening, May 1. Good music will be furnished by the Brown-Richardson orchestra, and the ladies are requested to attend in calico. Gentlemen's dress optional.

The Board of Trade Banquet. After a long season of hard work in the arrangement of details, the banquet committee of the B. C. Board of Trade have practically completed their labors. About 175 invitations, models of handiwork, engraving have been issued, and the tickets are finding ready sale at $12.50, so that it is all but certain that fully two hundred guests will sit down at the banquet. The banquet will be held at the Victoria Hotel on Monday evening, May 2. The banquet will be held at the Victoria Hotel on Monday evening, May 2. Vandals at Work. The latest and by long odds the meanest form of sneak thieving is reported to the police, who are endeavoring to put a stop to it. Graves in the cemetery where flowers have been placed, have been visited and the offerings to the memory of the dead carried away. But this is not the worst, for not only have the cut flowers been taken but the graves themselves have been tampered with. The police are endeavoring to put a stop to it. Death of Mrs. John Conway. The death, announced last evening, of Mrs. John Conway, proprietress of the Four Mile house, in the Goldstream road, will come as a personal affliction to all who know her, and her friends are many. The deceased was possessed of the kindest disposition, and was a woman of unfeigned charity. She was a native of Scotland, and was born forty-two years ago. She leaves a family of five young children, three girls and two boys, to mourn her loss. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock at her late home at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church at 2:30 p. m.

Cedar Hill. The first entertainment this year under the auspices of St. Luke's Local is fixed for the 28th evening, in the parish hall adjoining the church. The local has been called into active preparation for some time for that part of the programme devoted to theatricals, and former reputation on this subject is well maintained. Besides the theatricals, there is a long annex of vocal and instrumental music by Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Stair, the Misses Schreder, D. Brown and Messrs. King, Gordon, Boyd and Brown, to be followed by that well-known drama "Will Wind Blow Nobody Good," and the "Phantom." The "Phantom" has been the past office at 7:15, arriving in the Cedar Hill, and visitors may calculate on the hospitality peculiar to the ladies of this suburban district.

NAKUP ON THE COLUMBIA. The Provincial Government, having guaranteed the interest on the bonds of the Nakup & Sloane Railroad, the building of that line into the heart of the famous Sloane mines this year will be immediately undertaken by the C. P. R. Company. An all year round communication with the mines will thus be assured by the Canadian Pacific. The route will be from Revelstoke by railway to the head of Arrow Lake, where is open the year round. Steam ferries, capable of transporting a train of cars, will be put upon the lake between Nakup and the head of the lake. The Nakup & Sloane will complete the connection between the company to build south along the Sloane River to the junction with the Kootenay & Columbia Railroad, thereby completing the communication between the main line of the C. P. R. and the Kootenay Lake region.

Naturally this railway development will make Nakup a very important shipping and supply point, and require the building of a railway to this town. The townsite was placed on the market last year and some buildings erected, but owing to lack of constant communication little progress has been made. Now, however, the building of the railway is assured, and investors are turning their attention to Nakup. Mr. C. D. Rand, the general agent of the townsite, was in Victoria yesterday and placed up a number of fifty lots among his friends, an indication that the shrewd Vancouver broker is satisfied that Nakup is a good thing. As many more sales are reported to him from the Vancouver office.

Engineers are already in the field locating the railways, and as soon as the weather will permit contracts are to be let for the construction of the two lines. During the present summer it is expected that Nakup will experience a boom equal to the remarkable Kaslo advance.

M. QUAD'S HUMOR.

How a Young Man Must Be Built to Climb Up in the West.

Merited Punishment of the "Devil" Who Meddled with the Sacred Office Towel.

(Copyright, 1893, by Charles E. Lewis.)

THE ARIZONA KICKER. It depends—A young man in New England, who signs himself "Anxious," writes to THE KICKER to say that he is 22 years old, healthy and enthusiastic, and wants a chance to climb up. He asks if he can get it out this way. While we are patriotic enough to want to see this locality add to its population, we cannot countenance deception. As to how "Anxious" can get along out here depends altogether on circumstances. He used to wearing a gun on his hip? Could he add a second one without inconvenience? Can he shoot right and left handed? Are his eyes planted in the right position? Will he be many acts of unostentatious charity will long be remembered.
