

THINK THIS OVER

MEN WHO BECOME WEALTHY WHILE OTHERS REMAIN POOR.

Men who believe that one good investment is worth a lifetime of labor and saving. Men who investigate the new propositions at the earliest opportunity and get in on the ground floor of the best ones. Men who are willing to take a chance in a proposition which, in time, will make big profits, and wait for the final results. Men who do not stop investing because some investments did not turn out as good as they expected. Men who believe that the great majority of business men are honest and can be trusted.

MEN WHO BECOME POOR WHILE OTHERS BECOME WEALTHY

Men who can see an opportunity—but do not decide to take advantage of it until it is too late. Men who cannot decide for themselves—but must have others to decide for them, others who know nothing about the proposition. Men who think an investment cannot be worth much because it is offered to them. Men who refuse to consider anything outside of their own line of business. Men who think that investments which make big profits are not safe. Men who stop investing because they made one or two bad investments. Men who do not invest because some of their neighbors have lost money. Men who think all men are dishonest, except themselves.

A PHENOMENAL ACHIEVEMENT.

The automobile industry stands amazed by the progress made by W. C. Durant since he established Durant Motors and Star Motors. Durant's production of 60,000 cars in the short time he has been in business since leaving General Motors, is considered one of the greatest accomplishments of the industrial age. Durant has now eight plants in the United States, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He has also a plant at Leaside, Ont., which will take care of Canadian and export trade.
