FREDERICTON, N. B., August 27, 1884.

Halifax and Queens,

Premier Fielding of the Nova Scotia Local ment in these Provinces, holding the most important office in that Government, being pushed so hard in an election. In 1882, Mr. opponents had not been so certain of success, it would have mattered little in his instance The Local Legislature of Nova Scotia, however, like our own, has only two years to run before another general election, and if the vote in the Halifax contest is any indication of public feeling towards the present Government, its days are numbered.

In connection with Mr. Fielding's candidature, a very strong appeal was made for him had worked his way upward from obscurity, and if set back by defeat in the election, it would be a serious blow to other aspiring respected citizen, by the death of S. D. Mac-Pherson. Though a man of quiet and unobtrusive manner, there were few better known residents in this community, and we venture to say, none, who stood higher in the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens. His name during a long and active life, has been connected with every movement of importance that he thought would lead to the good of the city. Whether in the church which he loved and faithfully served, in the School Board of which he was a useful and intelligent member, in the temperance meeting, a work into which he always entered with zeal, in the City Council, or in the social circle, the deceased gentleman exerted an influence and encouraged his fellow workers by his own straightforward earnest course. Mr. Macpherson was a man of warm sympathies, and his counsel was much sought and appreciated. There was such evidence of sincerity in his genial, kindly manner, that those with whom he came in contact, could not fail to be impressed with his honesty, integrity and desire to do what was right and best. He was a good man, one who lived up to his professions, and if he erred it was not from intention, for he loved, acted, and spoke the truth. His life was an example of the respect and esteem that is sure to follow any man who pursues a course of integrity and honest dealing towards his fellow men.

The Late S. D. MacPherson. Fredericton has lost a most worthy and

death, filled many positions of trust and influence, and the duties of all, he discharged faithfully and well. The kindly words spoken by Rev. Mr, Evans, at the funeral service of the deceased, were those of one who knew and appreciated Mr. Macpherson as his career deserved. But for the consolation of his sorrowing friends, it were vain to express regret at the death of so good a man as Mr. Macpherson, whose demise was only the sighad lived to an honorable and respected old age; he had accomplished good in the world till his affliction rendered life not worth the living; he was willing and anxious to depart to a happier land, and the lamentations for his. decease from those who were near and dear to him, and to whom he was a kind and large hashed and fasher will be miscled. nal for entering into a happier state. Lady MacDonald, wife of the Premier of the Dominion has been visiting portions of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia during the past few weeks and has met a warm reception. She was at the Spring Hill Mines in Cumberland Co., N. S., the other day, exploring those dusky regions, and before departing, the miners got out a band and serenaded her ladyship. Mr. Leckie, the manager, responded in a brief address of thanks on behalf of Lady MacDonald, but at the close of his or Lady MacDonald, but at the close of his St. John, 1878, Wallace Ross, 5 miles, remarks, she expressed her desire to address Lachine, 1878, C. Courtney, 5 miles, personally, those who had done her honor, and stopping to the tent she said: "I thank you all from the bottom of my heart. Such an unexpected welcome from you is very flattering to me indeed, and I shall tell Sir John how much I am indebted to you. I have been greatly pleased with my visit, and when I went down into the mines the other day I was not afraid. My reply was, why should I fear to go where so many of you spend eight hours at least every day of your lives. I hope to come again and see you. I again thank you for your generous reception." Loud cheers greeted her ladyship at the conclusion of her probably maiden speech,

The Municipality vs. the City.

It will be remembered, that at the last sitting of the Supreme Courts, a case was stateed by consent, whether the City of Fredericton was liable to pay a portion of the exthe Peace, and that the matter was argued for the city by Mr. C. W. Beckwith, City Clerk, and for the Municipality, by Mr. H. B. Rainsford, Secretary-Treasurer. Judgment then reserved, was delivered on Saturday, adverse to the contention of the Municipality, the Court holding (Weldon and Wetmore, J. S., dissenting, and Fraser J. taking no part), that the Act, 42 Victoria C., 41, reating to the administration of Justice in the County, only made the city liable for one third of the expense of repairing existing County buildings, not of constructing new Judge Palmer, however, stated, that they had lude to the war. to decide that there was no legal liability of the city, but they did not hesitate to say, that

> Toronto Opinion On Hanlan's Defeat!

The Ex-Champion's Record

The recent defeat of Hanlan in Australia The recent defeat of Hanian in Australia by Beach, a comparatively unknown oarsman, has given rise to much discussion, and some division of opinion, particularly regarding the causes that led to the defeat of the almost invincible Canadian. The current opinion among those who know Hanian best, however, is that his defeat was due to climatic in the company of the c Mr. Macpherson in his day, and up to his dition at all, it would seem strange that he ahould permit Beach to triumph over him.

Miss Eudera—"Oh, her vulgarity is simply unendurable. What do you think? The other afternoon when we were playing lawn tennis she actually got in a perspiration.'

Most exceudiating are the twinges which rack the muscles and joints of the rheumatic. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, by promoting increased action of the kidneys, by which the blood is more effectually depurated, removes through the natural channels certain acrid elements in the circulation which produce rheumatism and gout. The medicine is also a fine laxative antibilious medicine and general corrective. The Old and the New.

There was a time when the medical faculity, in dealing with their patients, ap-peared to act upon the "kill or cure" princi-The most powerful drugs and the most heroic doses were employed, and if the patient escaped death from disease he stood a capital chance of dying from drugs. So it was often an open question whether a patient should die of disease or be killed by the doctor. To physic, vomit and salivate were mild remedies while physicians thought nothing was being done unless the head was made to swim, the Dyspepsia is a disease in which a theusand back to ache, the stomach and liver to rebel ills seem to be combined, yet its origin in against natural diet. But times have changed very many instances may be traced to noth-Thames, 1882, E. Trickett, 4½ miles, 5,000

FAILING

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't know just what is the matter, but they have a combination of pains and aches, and each month they grow worse. The only sure remedy yet found, similation with the blood, purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength. This is why Davis' Quinine, Iron and Wine will cure Dispensia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Malaria, Intermittent Fevers, General Debility, etc. etc.

BURTON, Sun. Co., July 17, 1883 GEO. H. DAVIS: DEAR SIR,—I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and for several weeks could eat nothing, and was growing weaker every day. I tried Davis' Quinine, Iron and Wine, and am happy to say I now have a good appetite and am getting stronger.

JOSEPH McCAWLEY Davis' Quinine Iron and Wine is not a drink and does not contain whiskey. It is a simple preparation of Iron and Quinine that causes no injurious effects. Get the genuine. Ask for Davis' and take no other, Price 50 cents. Prepared only by
