

ALD. GREER CHARGES MAYOR HOUNDED VETERAN OFFICIAL, AND HAS OTHERS ON LIST

Acrimonious Discussion At Council Meeting Over Relief Officer McCallum's Resignation—Refers to Unemployment Conference at Ottawa.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Appointed a delegation to wait on the provincial and federal governments to ask for financial assistance in providing relief work this winter. Decided not to send a deputation to the unemployment conference at Ottawa.

Accepted Relief Officer McCallum's resignation, but failed on two votes to provide any gratuity. A notice of motion to have this reconsidered at the next meeting was proposed.

Agreed to call a special meeting of the Council, in conference with the Board of Health and representatives from other organizations, to discuss the plumbing by-law. In the meantime the action at present pending against Gordon Wright is to be withheld.

Recommended to the attorney-general's department the resignation of Judge Warner, of the Juvenile court.

Decided to submit a public petition asking the election of two additional members to the police commission.

Appointed J. H. Birrell, city license inspector.

Referred the question of submitting a by-law on the Springbank dam question back to the committee for further information.

Heard depositions of unemployed, and authorized the sending of a reply to the effect that the city is doing all that can be done just now to remedy conditions.

Instructed City Clerk Baker to urge upon the C. N. R. the necessity for repairing and maintaining its sidings throughout the country, and in this way eliminate the necessity for renting American cars.

Ald. Greer aroused the ire of Mayor Wenigke at the City Council meeting last night when he told his worshipful Relief Officer McCallum's resignation and his condition of health was largely due to the "hounding" he had been called upon to endure during the present mayor's term of office.

The Alderman intimated that the mayor was planning similar treatment of other officials.

When the question of granting a retiring allowance to Mr. McCallum was introduced, the mayor suggested it be laid over until the aldermen could see the financial condition of the city.

"This is not a question of charity, but rather one of recognizing the services of an employee," Ald. Anderson submitted.

"Why should Mr. McCallum's personal finances enter into this?" Ald. Towe queried.

"No man in the history of the city ever received the treatment accorded Mr. McCallum," Ald. Greer declared.

"You, your worship, made a charge in the Council that he was practically responsible for the shame of a citizen, and you did not take the trouble to verify your information."

"There is no record of any such charge having been made," the mayor retorted.

"No, unfortunately there is not," Ald. Greer replied.

"There are some things like that which should be included in the Council proceedings. But the resignation of Mr. McCallum is a thing when he is capable of giving the city valuable services for some time. I hear further that you are considering similar action against other city employees. I hope that is not the case, however."

"Those remarks are out of order," Mayor Wenigke objected.

"Then I will appeal to the Council," Ald. Greer replied.

"It will take a two-thirds vote," the mayor advised.

"I think you are wrong there," Ald. Greer stated.

"Am I not right, Mr. Baker?"

City Clerk Baker consulted with the mayor and the result of the consultation was not given to the Council. The situation was eventually saved by Ald. Greer withdrawing his remarks.

Colored Men Organize To Better Conditions of Race

PLAN CONVENTION HERE

Appeal To Employers To Treat Colored Men Fairly

"The negro of to-day is facing an even larger and worse crisis than he has ever faced in other years and if we, the older people, do not alter the conditions will be worse for the next generation," was the keynote of the address delivered to the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last evening.

The National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People, by their president, J. W. Montgomery, of Toronto, last night.

"We don't work for our own good alone, but for the little ones that are to come and who will follow in our footsteps, and as long as we have the backing of the men that we have our organization will grow because when they see the importance of others will."

The chair was taken at the opening by Vice-president E. J. Fontaine, who made a few remarks before introducing the president, made a complaint against the Toronto Mail and Empire regarding the editorial that appeared in the paper on August 18, in which the speaker stated that the colored man has a right to be candidates for office.

His reputation must be in sore need of building up. The matter was put to the meeting and by a unanimous vote it was decided that the matter be brought to the attention of the paper in question and some means taken to secure a retraction.

Ex-Ald. Max Warner condemned the attitude of the white man toward the colored man. "Where do the white men get the audacity to say they are better because their skin is white?" he asked.

"It is only climatic conditions that make a person's color, and we are all on God, whether we are pink or green."

PLAN CONVENTION HERE. The general business transacted included the setting of the date for the association's annual convention, which will be held on Labor Day, 1925, in London.

Plans were also made to secure a speaker of prominence to address a series of public lectures and also the various clubs to lay before the men of the city the troubles of the colored race.

A series of resolutions prepared by the executive at a previous meeting were read and adopted. These included a proposal to carry on propaganda in which the employees of the city would be made to see that the "black" could do the same work as the white man, a campaign through the various newspapers to educate the people out of racial prejudices and thus assist the colored children to obtain better positions.

Should one of their members obtain a position and his superior prove the organization, it was felt, it would help the circulation of their official paper, "The Dawn of Tomorrow," might be increased, and through this means the plans and successes of the various movements be made known to the general public.

Mexican President Declares Attitude of Agent Offensive. MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2.—Vigorously attacking the suspension of diplomatic relations with Mexico at the virtual expulsion of the British agent, H. S. Cunard Cummins, but declaring that the country had made notable progress during the last four years of his administration, President Obregon submitted his final presidential message last night at the opening of the 31st Congress.

From the beginning of 1922, the president charged, Mr. Cummins' attitude was offensive to the dignity of the Mexican Government. He next related the efforts the Mexican Government made to have Mr. Cummins replaced by what he termed a more dignified representative.

The president concluded with a reiteration of the statement made to the British Government that the attempted expulsion of Mr. Cummins was not due to representations which Cummins had made on behalf of British subjects, but to account of his discourteous attitude toward the Mexican Government.

RAILWAY VETERAN LEAVES SERVICE

Huron and Bruce Baggage Men Served 28 Years.

FIFTY YEARS ON RAILWAY

P. E. Flurschuetz Reviews His Varied Career.

Last Saturday morning P. E. Flurschuetz, of 501 Talbot street, completed his last run as baggage man on the Canadian National Railways, London-Windsor route, best known as the Huron & Bruce line, after 28 years of continuous service.

Among railroad men here and all the travelers on the Huron & Bruce, "Pete" is one of the best-known figures of the railroad and many an old-timer along the line will miss his friendly wave from the baggage car door.

Fifty years ago Mr. Flurschuetz started his railroad career on the old Grand Trunk line, and he can remember those days when St. Thomas overhauled London in importance and both cities were small but bright and thriving towns.

Later, he shifted to Palmerston, working as brakeman on the Wellington Grey Bruce line, where he remained until 1897, when he started on the Huron & Bruce line.

Many changes. "Engineers in those days were a different type of thing," said Mr. Flurschuetz in an interview with The Free Press this afternoon.

TO START SURVEY SEPTEMBER 18

Dr. Brittain To Study City Educational Affairs

USELESS, SAYS SECRETARY

Declares He Himself Could Do the Work

Dr. Horace Brittain, head of the municipal bureau of research, has announced that he will commence his survey of the educational offices of the city on September 18.

The whole system of administration will be gone into by his staff during the six weeks' investigation, and a number of changes will probably be made in the report to the Board of Education.

Secretary Tanner states that he could have saved the city $1,000 if the trustees had accepted several suggestions which he has advanced in the past.

There are changes, he points out, which ought to be put into operation. In Toronto, for instance, the staff was largely increased following the adoption of certain sections of the British report.

"I don't expect that the research bureau will recommend any drastic changes," said Mr. Tanner. "In my experience as made in the past by a mercantile firm, I know exactly what alterations would prove effective."

He would prefer to bring in a highly-paid outsider than to accept any suggestions from staff officers, best known as the Huron & Bruce line.

It is Mr. Tanner's belief that Dr. Brittain will urge the school board to make changes which will cost the city nothing to put into operation.

FARMERS SEEK EXPERT ADVICE

Large Number of Agriculturists Call At Local Department.

That farmers are rapidly taking to the offices of the department of agriculture for advice on matters pertaining to agricultural work is evident from the ever-increasing calls being received daily at the local office here, under the direction of R. A. Finn.

During the past year there has been a total of 6,500 calls handled, while in the previous year the number was 3,865 personal with 1,511 telephone calls. Letters to the number of 1,966 have been received at the office, while 3,331 have been sent out.

This year's business promises to eclipse by far any previous year, as the number of circular letters now sent out is over 5,000.

Literature in thousands of pamphlets has been mailed, while in giving advice on the recent epidemic of corn borers hundreds of letters were mailed to the farmers throughout the county.

A check on all personal and telephone calls is kept. In the work for Middlesex County Mr. Finn is assisted by J. P. Andrews.

LIVE STOCK ENTRIES AT WESTERN FAIR TO CLOSE ON SATURDAY

Saturday entries closed in the live stock exhibit of the Western Fair with a particularly heavy list of exhibitors in all departments.

The cattle, sheep and hog exhibit will, according to Secretary Jackson, be a particularly fine one. Entries in these classes have been made from all over the Dominion and the very finest pure bred stock will be arrayed when the fair opens its gates on Saturday.

Light horses will also be a feature of the live stock exhibit. Entries in many other classes closed yesterday.

U. S. MOTORS INVADE CANADA ON HOLIDAY

Indicative of the number of American tourists who spent the holiday in Canada is the statement made by one American visitor here Monday, who declared that he waited seven hours of Sunday at Port Huron ferry in order to get across with his car.

Conditions were according to reports, as bad at Windsor and Walkerville, so some idea may be gained of the immense number of American motorists who visited Canada over the week-end.

As a matter of fact, the chap with the Port Huron experience stated that a friend of his, dispersed with a four-hour wait at Port Huron, drove back to Walkerville, where he was obliged to spend three more hours before his car came.

Monday, by an actual count at 2 o'clock in the afternoon three out of every four cars which passed the corner of Dundas and Richmond carried American license plates, the majority of which, naturally, were issued in Michigan.

Sugar is found in the sap of nearly 200 plants and trees.

MUSICAL TREAT FOR RADIO FANS

High-Class Concert From The Free Press Station

Radio fans were afforded their first opportunity last evening of listening to CJCG, The London Free Press broadcasting station, since the station has been corrected and the generator hum, which was a constant nuisance, eliminated.

Many satisfactory reports were received from the fans, who were agreeably surprised to note how perfectly the station is being operated. Those in charge of the station and the radio engineers who perfected and are operating the transmitter deserve a great deal of credit for their work.

The modulation was good, and no doubt will be improved before the final adjustments on the transmitter have been made.

O. Leo Herbert, A. T. C. M., well-known organist and pianist, Mrs. Schofield, popular and highly gifted soprano, of this city, and Lloyd Torke, the possessor of an outstanding tenor, furnished the initial program.

LEAVING FOR NEW YORK. Mr. Herbert's recital took the form of a farewell concert. He is leaving this week for New York, where he will continue his studies. His program was replete with melodies dear to music lovers. There were a number of charming old selections included in his repertoire. It brought fleeting memories of things that have long since melted into the past.

The singing of Mrs. Schofield was welcome. Her program was balm for the sorely tried ears. Lloyd Torke was also a bright spot on the program. He sang many of the tenor favorites with the skill of the finished singer.

LOCAL CUSTOMS REVENUE DROPS $54,373 IN AUGUST

In every branch of the customs and excise departments here decreases in collections were the initial program. The total decline in revenue amounting to $54,373.49. Excess collections encountered, the greatest fall, dropping from $136,733.44 for August of 1923 to $100,498.47 for the same month of the current year, or a decline of $35,234.97.

Customs receipts fell from $142,755.71 for August of last year to $124,668.89 for the same period of 1924. These figures represent a falling off in customs revenue of $18,086.82.

Sales tax on imports showed great increase in the customs department. This amounted to $13,611.03, for which change of sales tax collection inaugurated at the beginning of the year is largely responsible. Domestic sales taxes, also fell $35,230.88, and is also attributable in a large measure to the alteration in sales tax collection. The decrease in domestic sales tax collections is brought about partly by the deductions allowed manufacturers under the new form of sales tax.

BRITISH CROPS GOOD, SAYS J. C. ELLIOTT, K. C.

J. C. Elliott, K. C., who, with other members of the Canadian Bar Association, has been the guest of the British Bar Association in England, has returned to the city.

To The Free Press yesterday Mr. Elliott stated that they had had a most enjoyable trip and had been royally entertained by their British colleagues. The general political situation in England, he thought, was much more settled than it had been.

While there were criticisms abroad concerning the Government, the Labor party seemed thoroughly satisfied with it.

One thing which impressed Mr. Elliott was the excellence of the crops generally throughout England and Scotland and the great deal of land under cultivation. Splendid crops were seen everywhere.

INTERMENT AT OWEN SOUND.

POPULATION TOTAL—Ward one population shows an increase of $27 for the current year, according to a report presented to the City Council by the Assessment Commissioner Bennett.

The total population of that ward now is 14,572. A complete report on the assessment of the city, which has just been finished, will be presented to the Council in a few days, Mr. Bennett says.
