

Adventures of a Lady Explorer.

Mrs. Mary Kingsley, whose name is familiar to all who read the...

Her father, Dr. Kingsley, led behind him at his death a large work on "Sarcitis," dealing with the different forms of...

At first Miss Kingsley remained because there was nothing else to do, but after a time she became quite fond of the place...

When it became known through Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, that it was the author, many good people wrote to me for copies of the book in my own handwriting...

A home from a lively stable died soon after it was returned, and the man who hired it was sued for damages. The question turned largely upon the reputation of the defendant as a hard rider.

"How does the defendant usually ride?" "Astraddle, sir."

"No, no," said the lawyer, "I mean, does he usually walk, trot, or gallop?" "Well," said the witness, "apparently searching in the depths of his memory for cases, when he rides a walk, he is trot, and when he rides a gallop, he is gallop; when—"

There are several kinds of toothache, due to very different causes, and as not all are capable of relief by the same means, it is useful to be able to distinguish among them.

There are several kinds of toothache, due to very different causes, and as not all are capable of relief by the same means, it is useful to be able to distinguish among them.

Writes a Famous Song.

C. C. Carley, of Coal Branch, Kent County, N. C., Canada, writes the New York Herald:

I am a Canadian. Early in life I began to rhyme. One Sunday all the family had gone to church, right miles distant. I was to get dinner for them and have it ready on their return.

He is coming! He is coming, for to set the negro free!

When it became known through Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, that it was the author, many good people wrote to me for copies of the book in my own handwriting...

A well planted wood lot in two or three other years will be put in a condition to furnish a supply of timber to plant along roads and for ornamental purposes about buildings and gardens.

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher, and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up,' and advised a whipping."

"I think that our first move should be to apply for a change of name," said I. "I saw the young fellow's face fall at this, but he braced up and said: 'See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this 'cause you've accepted my name, you know?'"

There is, perhaps, but a single place in this country where almost all the newspapers of the United States are read. To the Exchange Bureau of the Ladies' Home Journal...

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.

A Story of Retton.

In the March "Spectator," an incident is given of the way Thomas A. Edison introduced himself to a telegraph manager in New York—

"You may I can keep up with the best of 'em," said the stranger, and I returned the compliment. Mr. Smith noticed that the applicant appeared to be quite deaf, but, out of curiosity, and possibly with the idea of having some fun, he began to talk to him in a low voice.

When it became known through Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, that it was the author, many good people wrote to me for copies of the book in my own handwriting...

A well planted wood lot in two or three other years will be put in a condition to furnish a supply of timber to plant along roads and for ornamental purposes about buildings and gardens.

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher, and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up,' and advised a whipping."

"I think that our first move should be to apply for a change of name," said I. "I saw the young fellow's face fall at this, but he braced up and said: 'See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this 'cause you've accepted my name, you know?'"

There is, perhaps, but a single place in this country where almost all the newspapers of the United States are read. To the Exchange Bureau of the Ladies' Home Journal...

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.

Opens Glasses, Not Goggles.

If the small boy were taught to think of the suffering of the turtle or eel, or of the boy would not leave him on his back. If he thought of the starving birdlings in the nest, he would hesitate to kill the mother bird. Jersey Benham says: "Give your boy an opera glass and send him into the woods to learn the 'patience, ingenuity and industry of his birds.' Let him learn to distinguish the song of one bird from another. Across his curiosity as to their wonderful habits and give him the innocent delight which the study of natural history is sure to bring into his life and holiday pleasure. Teach him the cowardice of torturing helpless birds. Let him know their value as insect-eaters, and that we need a great many more birds in our woods and near than we now have."

When it became known through Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, that it was the author, many good people wrote to me for copies of the book in my own handwriting...

A well planted wood lot in two or three other years will be put in a condition to furnish a supply of timber to plant along roads and for ornamental purposes about buildings and gardens.

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher, and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up,' and advised a whipping."

"I think that our first move should be to apply for a change of name," said I. "I saw the young fellow's face fall at this, but he braced up and said: 'See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this 'cause you've accepted my name, you know?'"

There is, perhaps, but a single place in this country where almost all the newspapers of the United States are read. To the Exchange Bureau of the Ladies' Home Journal...

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.

OUT OF SORTS?

If you are run down, losing flesh and generally out of sorts from overwork, worry or other causes, use Puttner's Emulsion. Nothing else will so promptly restore you to vigor and health.

Always get Puttner's, it is the Original and Best.

Having bought a large assortment of Granite Iron for cash before the rise, I am prepared to give extra bargains.

Will receive my special attention.

in all the latest sanitations a specialty.

We are showing for the first time TWO LINES OF DOWN CUSHIONS!

Feather Pillows at $3.00, $4.50, $5.00, $5.25 and $5.50.

MATTRESSES Cotton Top, $3.00, extra tick. XXX Cotton Filled, $5.00, extra tick.

REED BROS. (Successors to H S Reed.) NEW BAKERY! COURT STREET.

The Household.

Prize vs. Blame. If we show each other that we expect kindness and consideration and gentleness from one another, it is almost sure to be given; and the reverse is equally true.

Worlds one believe that hate, that terrible passion which finds place in the heart of man, has also found means of installing itself in that of the flowers? Flowers hate? What a paradox! With their freshness and their color, and their perfume? But, according to certain savants, it appears that various flowers have for each other an irreconcilable hatred.

Getting the Greatest Good from Books. "Summer reading is often chiefly composed of fiction, and if we choose good novels and bright, wholesome short stories, we are not exactly wasting our time, although every one of these long summer days ought to give us a return in the way of better entertainment and amusement," writes Margaret E. Sangster, in the July Ladies' Home Journal.

When it became known through Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, that it was the author, many good people wrote to me for copies of the book in my own handwriting...

A well planted wood lot in two or three other years will be put in a condition to furnish a supply of timber to plant along roads and for ornamental purposes about buildings and gardens.

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher, and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up,' and advised a whipping."

"I think that our first move should be to apply for a change of name," said I. "I saw the young fellow's face fall at this, but he braced up and said: 'See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this 'cause you've accepted my name, you know?'"

There is, perhaps, but a single place in this country where almost all the newspapers of the United States are read. To the Exchange Bureau of the Ladies' Home Journal...

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.

Joker's Corner.

Not a Question of Ownership. President Elliot, of Harvard, told this story at the Cornell Club dinner the other evening: "A friend of mine, a college professor, went into a crowded restaurant in New York city for luncheon one hot day last summer. The negro in charge of the big corridor where they had dinner stood with an intelligent looking fellow, and his low and snide wares of the obsequious stupid kind were not affected by colored waiters and doormen in hotels. He took my friend's hat and gave no check for it in return. An hour later, when the professor came out of the dining-room, the negro glanced at him in a compressed way, turned to the shelves and handed him his hat.

"My friend is a man who prides himself on his power of observation, and the negro's ability to remember to whom each article of clothing belonged struck him as being something wonderful.

When it became known through Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, that it was the author, many good people wrote to me for copies of the book in my own handwriting...

A well planted wood lot in two or three other years will be put in a condition to furnish a supply of timber to plant along roads and for ornamental purposes about buildings and gardens.

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher, and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up,' and advised a whipping."

"I think that our first move should be to apply for a change of name," said I. "I saw the young fellow's face fall at this, but he braced up and said: 'See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this 'cause you've accepted my name, you know?'"

There is, perhaps, but a single place in this country where almost all the newspapers of the United States are read. To the Exchange Bureau of the Ladies' Home Journal...

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.

Without the use of a microscope, or without the aid of a microscope, it is possible to see the structure of the human eye. The eye is a very delicate and sensitive organ, and its structure is very complex.