

Union. Every sentiment expressed in the South Carolina ordinance was hostile to the constitution, and every measure proposed or adopted, was calculated to dissolve the Union. The propositions of the Hartford Convention, were to obtain the consent and approbation of the general government to their principal measures; the South Carolina ordinance denied the authority of that government to controul them in the case about which they complained, and defied their power to execute their laws. The Hartford Convention recommended an application to Congress for permission to raise troops for the defence of their coasts; the South Carolina ordinance provided for the raising of a body of men to oppose by force of arms the execution of the laws of Congress, and to raise the standard of rebellion against the government of the nation.

If Mr. Hayne thought the conduct of the authors of the Hartford Convention "utterly indefensible," what must he think of the authors of the South Carolina Ordinance? About the facts in the two cases there is no room for dispute. The conclusions which those facts will fairly warrant, will be drawn by the community.

---

ERRATA.

The reader is requested to correct the following errors in the foregoing pages.

- Page 28, line 14 from the top, read king instead of kings.
 32, line 2 from the bottom, read strain instead of train.
 46, line 9 from the top, read 1804 instead of 1801.
 126, line 19 from the top, after the word France, the words was conducted are omitted.
 166, line 7 from the top, instead of "is," after "underscored," read contain.
 218, line 4 from the top, omit the words "and," to the end of the line.
 219, line 14 from the top, insert at the beginning of the sentence, It required some assurance.
 221, line 4 from the top, read have been stated.
 225, line 2 from the top, read definitive instead of definite.
 302, line 8 from the bottom, read hostilities having been commenced.
 361, line 17 from the bottom, read with the respect.