

CHEAP! NOVEL! PRACTICAL!

A New Educational Series in Active Preparation.

REDUCED FAC-SIMILE OF COVER.

The accompanying illustration is a reduced fac-simile of the cover of the paper editions of our Pocket Educational Series.

Every reader of this magazine can testify to the fact that we give excellent value for the money asked. In undertaking the publication of this new series of books we not only intend giving teachers and students better value for their money than ever before, but we intend giving the schools of America something entirely new in educational textbooks.

We print here the names of a few of the books which we have already arranged for.

- No. 1.—Graded Exercises in English. Part I.
- No. 2.—Graded Exercises in English. Part II.
- No. 3.—Hand-book of American Literature.
- No. 4.—The American Night School Arithmetic.
- No. 5.—Practical Exercises in Measures and Measurements.
- No. 6.—Graded Exercises in Algebra. Part I.
- No. 7.—Graded Exercises in Algebra. Part II.
- No. 8.—Graded Exercises in Geometry.
- No. 9.—Mechanics' and Manufacturers' Arithmetic.
- No. 10.—Business Exercises for Business Boys.

The several numbers of the series will be neatly bound in paper and in cloth. The paper editions will sell for 10 cents a number and $1.00 a dozen, and the cloth editions at 20 cents a number and $2.00 a dozen. Each number will consist of from 60 to 100 neatly printed pages. The paper used will be good, and the binding will be unique and attractive.

Printers are at work on these books. The first number will soon be ready. Others will follow in rapid succession. Advance sample copies will be sent to all SUPPLEMENT workers. (See "Chat" Department.) For additional particulars address
