McNeil, '06 (entering room with important air), — Excuse me, Dr. Ryerson, but would you mind my handing around a few tickets to the boys?

Dr. R. (goodnaturedly)—Certainly not; don't mind me.

Dr. R.—What's that? Here, hold n! I think you had better get out of this!

Pay up your dollar to The Varsity now, and another to the Medical Society and have it "over with." As long as you don't regret it, we won't.

It is a pity to lose a good joke; so for the benefit of the junior years and others who were not present at Prof. Cameron's first lecture, we venture to repeat what one man went so far as to call "the best thing that Prof. Cameron has yet brought us from England." A distinguished English gentleman has proposed, in order to settle the Shakespeare-Bacon controversy, that the graves of Bacon and Shakespeare be opened, and that Mr. Beerbohm-Tree play Hamlet at the grave of each. Then the one that grave of each. Then the one that turns over will be the author of the

Mr. Heattie's genius has blossomed again and the "Legend of the Grasshoppers" is proving very popular.

Just how many minutes late a Third Year lecturer is may be fairly judged by the number of grasshoppers that have piled up before he arrives.

We are assured that Mac. Cameron has been using only "sterilized money" in the vigorous election-organization schemes which he has been pushing among the Meds, this week.

Wyclisse College

The year's work at Wycliffe was formally inaugurated on Tuesday evening, October 4th. The feature of the evening's programme was the opening lecture of the current college session by the Rev. Professor Cody, M.A., D.D., on the subject "Monasticism, Past and Present, with special refer-ence to the present crisis in France." As usual, the opening week of the College was marked by the annual meetings of the Canadian C.M.S. and, of the Gleaners' Union. Both of these were highly successful.

The number of "freshmen" enrolling this term is gratifyingly large. The total enrolment of the College is a banner record. The new men are appropriate to the college is a part of the results and the same are appropriate to the same a parently made of the right stuff, and promise to be men worthy of the College and the University. It is whispered that an informal reception was tendered these gentlemen at an early hour Saturday morning.

The first regular meeting of the Wvcliffe College Literary and Scientific Society was to have been held last Friday evening, but owing to the fact that the Laurier reception filled the hearts and minds of the majority of the students, the meeting had to be postponed as there was no quorum. The freshies held an impromptu concert at which they succeeded in amusing themselves, and the few seniors who happened in to watch their innocent gambols. Mr. Wilkins stimulated the vivid imaginations of his fellow freshmen by a speech a la Sir Wilfrid.

The heinousness of their offence has since been very forcibly brought home to them, however, and they have promised to be good boys in future.
