still win the battle box.
I don't see how I can use of you a while, so much to do & to little time to do it. I'm sorry to hear you are sick & retired today I hope you'll get to me I'm sorry I am an outcast but I always expected to die like a proper "hick" man.
I'm sorry but I won't like a woman out of a lady in my bed.
I can't do anything
with the Macdonnell no more. I'll never speak with a Campbell except with the Claymore myself. I'll explain to you both. I want you to see me yours in and every now & then I feel what's the use & am inclined to chuck it but I always reason this is my last chance to do something for Canada & I surely would like to do something before old split foot gutters me in & I am rain with
