Dear Currie:-

I do not know how things are going with you in the matter of finance, but on looking through some of the ledgers the other day I see you have still two accounts standing on our books - one for $38.00 and one for $61.75. These are in connection with Lady Currie and the Musters Estate. If times are ripe you might send a cheque along.

We have had a pretty strenuous winter and conditions are bad, but we hope now that the Province has gone "wet" we will be able to get along in a little better shape and we are expecting the American cousins to bring in a lot of superfluous cash in the near future.

Kind regards.

Yours truly,

R. H. Poolley
