REGULATION LAWS MADE FOR JITNEYS

Police Commissioners Place License Fee at Two Dollars Per Seat.

THREAT OF INJUNCTION

Jockey Club May Take City to Courts Over Subway Property.

HAMILTON, Friday, June 25 .- The police commissioners held a special meeting yesterday afternoon to consider the jitney question, and a bylaw was passed placing the license feee at $2 per seat. City Solicitor Waddell and Magistrate Jelfs are preparing a draft bylaw for the regulation of the traffic. The clauses in this bylaw will be considereed later and ratified unless the jitney owners thru their counsel, George Kerr. K.C., are able to convince the commissioners that there is a chance of the jitneys being regulated out of business.

The jitney owners are adverse to paying a very heavy license fee and do not take kindly to some of the proposed regulations, especially those which would limit them to plying their trade on certain streets, and which would prevent them from using the north-east corner of James and King streets as their main uptown stopping place.
The action of the Toronto jitney owners in deciding to take out a bond of $10,000 for insurance against accidents, comes as a surprise to the local jitney men, and that action will doubtless encourage the commissioners to insist upon a substantial bond here. Threat of Injunction.

It was learned yesterday that unless the city agreed to pay $5750, asked for a strip of land owned by the Hamilton Jockey Club, and required by the city for the construction of the Kenilworth avenue subway under the Grand Trunk tracks, an injunction would be taken out to stop the work on the sub way.

The officials were informed that the ultimatum would expire yesterday,and that if no action was taken the matter would be taken to the courts and $15,000 damages asked for.

It has been decided by the city officials not to take any action until it is known what the Jockey Club officials are going to do.

Council Will Act.

Water for Barton Township.

Secretary R. H. Foster and the members of the board of education are watching with a great deal of interest the efforts of the trustees of school section No. 8, Barton Township, to secure a supply of water from the city for the new school which has just been built. Secretary Foster is taking the matter up with the works officials, and insists upon the cityrefusing to consider any requests from the township until the fees of county students attending city schools are paid.

Mayor Walters thinks it is desirable, but pointed out that the situation might not warrant a large expenditure.

Extend Hydro System. While the provincial power authorities are planning big things in the extension of the hydro system, aiming at an ultimate development of a quarter of a million horsepower, the local commission has its eye to the situation here. One of the schemes under consideration is the carrying of he municipal energy around the bay, providing ight and power to propert wners. Chairman Ellis of the ton Hydro Commission pointed yesterday that hydro power could be used to good advantage by survey owners and would prove a great at
