FOE'S CONVOYS SHELLED

German Troops Also Caught by Artillery Near, Somme and Oise Front.

PARIS, Dec. 6 .- The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"During the course of the day there was rather intense artillery activity in Artois, around Loos and Souchez as well as between the Somme and the Oise, where our batteries reached some convoys from Faye and took under their fire troops moving back from the front near Hattencourt and Laucourt. "The cannonading likewise has been very sustained in Champagne from the region of Saint Souplet as far as Massiges, and in the Argonne at Haute Chevauchee "The Belgian official communication

There has been no infantry action on the Belgian front. Our batteries carried out on divers occasions an effective shelling of groups of German oldiers, especially in the direction of Schoorbach and Woumen. The German artillery displayed some activity this afternoon and we successfully counter-shelled it."

DUE FOR RUDE SHOCK

Certain Modern Political Methods Have Something Coming at End of War.

"Old worn-out political clothes will be the fuel for the largest bonfire in Europe when the war is over," declarded C. A. Magrath, chairman of the Canadian section of the Joint International Waterways Commission, before the Canadian Club, at its luncheon yesterday. "I venture to predict that after this war certain political meth ods common wherever a party system exists, will receive a rude shock."

Mr. Magrath made an appeal for unity for the purpose of giving force to the ideals which stand for the betterment of mankind. The great fault of the British Empire had been overconfidence, that it had pursued its pelicy of making money, playing politics and talking peace while other stamp.
