

for its extension to Lake St. John, with a branch line to La Tuque. What then appeared to the public as a very gigantic and visionary undertaking on the part of that gentleman has at last been realized in its entirety, and by the end of the present year the completion of this branch line will have perfected a great railway system, putting almost the whole north of the Province and its vast resources in easy communication with the capital.

Quebec, April 1905.
