Action of a Heel-Skinning Counter

BOSTON

IMPROVEMENT NUMBER THREE

Don't know what is meant by a shoe counter? Well, it's the stiff leather that fits around the heel. It's the back stop of the shoe. It forms a leather cavity into which the heel fits. If wrongly built that eavity can inflict more agony than any other section of a shoe. In nearly all shoes it sigiven little or no care. It's usually constructed of Hemlock tanned, scrap sole leather, hard and stiff as stone, and is licked together in the cheapest way without shape or form. Result? A rigid, unbudgable, heel-skinning, pain-producing, walk-hindering counter.

Foot-rite counters are somewhat different—slightly. They're made of special oak-tanned counter stock, stout but soft, and being shaped the exact shape of a human heel, they are heel sockets, and when the heel ball fills them, they're practically ball and socket joints like the human shoulder, capable of moving in any direction and

What good are these Foot-rite ball and socket counters? They're this good! Their soft leather won't skin the heel, even though it may rub at every up and down movement, but that up and down rubbing is entirely eliminated by the ball and socket suction which forces the sole under the heel, also the counter at the back and sides, to hug the heel snugly as it lifts and lowers in walking. This suction is not noticeable. Like the shoulder joint it performs its office without being felt.

There's a Foot-rite dealer in your town. His name's below. Ask him to show you Foot-rite Heel Comforting Counters. You'll find his door swinging inward the American Leaguers 1 to 0.

Each team has now won two games. Curaously enough both National victories have been on the American grounds, while with white Stockings, nave extract outer available.

Alloca for the Americans, and Blown for the Nationals, the pitchers who opposed each other in the opening game, which was won by Altrock's team, again contested for supremacy to-day. Brown was at his best. He showed nerve, speed, control and intelligence. He gave only two passes and allowed only two hits. He held the Alloca hitess mith the sixth, when, with two out Hann singled cleanly to centre. Jones, however, promptly ended the maining by hying out to schute.

The Nationals looked dangerous as early as the second inning, when Steinfeidt hit to centre and reached third on Tinker's sacrifice and Evers' out. Kling, slways a formidable batsman, was up and Aitrock democraticly attempted to pass him with the hope that Brown, the next batter, would go out easily after the fashion of most pitchers. Kling reached for one of the wide ones and inted a mighty my into right field.

Great Catch by Hahn.

Hahn, however, raced back and saved the day, at least temporarily, by making a magnificent catch while bending over the wire cable used to hold back the crowd. The Americans made their only real bid for the game when Robe reached first on steinelats bad throw, and third on a sacrince and an out. Brown, nowever, showed his nerve by striking out Davis, who was again back in the game at short. The Nationals earned the run which wout the game. Chance sent a fly to short right field and reached third on sacrifices by Steinfeldt and Tinker. Evers placed a pretty single over third base and Chance scored. In the ninth McFarland batted for Altrock and went out; Steinfeldt to Chance, Hahn new out to Tinker. Then Jones raised the fluttering hopes of his supporters by waiting for four bad ones and going to second when a ball got past Kling and hit the umpire. Under the rules Jones was entitled to a base. A good hit would have tied the game at this point and with Isbell at but the hopes of the Americans were high.
