PROPOSED MEDICAL

BILL OF ONTARIO

IS BACKWARD STEP

So Declared Speaker Addressing Ad Club in the Auditorium.

"Chiropractic and Christian Science would never have developed had the proposed Ontario medical bill, to prohibit anyone other than a doctor giving any assistance whatsoever to anyone who is ill, heretofore been in force."

"If you had a friend or relative sick and you should offer some suggestions for his benefit, that would be against the law, if this bill should go into effect."

"The medical bill is a most backward step."

These were a few of the impressive WHEN TONGUE IS COATED.

These were a few of the impressive statements made by Arthur Black Farmer, B.A., at a special lecture on "Health and Immunity," given under the auspices of the London Advertising Club, last evening in the Y. M. C. A.

He expressed his admiration for the physician personally, but made a plea for liberty, investigations, and experimentation. Most methods of presentday physicians, he said, have been de-

TO TEACH FOREIGN CHILDREN TO BECOME GOOD CANADIANS

That Is Work Before I.O.D.E., Says Mrs. Smith, National Secretary.

"If we wish to instil into the mid of the foreign element of the country what fair play, true patriotism and courage are, now is the time. We cannot very well alter the views of the many thousands of adult foreigners, but we can undertake to teach the children. This is the work that the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire has undertaken through the courtesy of the educational department of Ottawa," said Mrs. Smith of St. Catharines, national educational secretary of the I. O. D. E., speaking to the members of the Nicholas Wilson Chapter in their new rooms in Wilson Chapter in their new rooms in the Dominion Savings Building on Thursday afternoon.

"We must try to make British citizens of these foreign children, and with patriotic teachers at the head of their classes and good books and illustrations on the history and geography of Great Britain and her colonies, this can be done.

Sent 325 Libraries. "During the last four years the various chapters of the I. O. D. E. throughout the Dominion have sent 325 libraries to schools in Saskatchewan, Alberta, Northern Ontario, and British Columbia. Northern Ontario, and British Columbia. Just how much the children love these libraries sent by the Daughters of the Empire," said Mrs. Smith," is the fact that the teachers say they give up their recesses to read these books and look at the illustrations. They consider it a great treat.

"Some of the proposals that will be not before the actional chapter, which

"Some of the proposals that will be put before the national chapter, which meets in May," said Mrs. Smith, "are that $200,000 be collected among the members of the I. O. D. E. for educational work among the foreign elements in the Dominion, and that as a permanent memorial a chair in some university be endowed for the teaching of imperial history."

[Mrs. Smith said that this had been done in Oxford University, England, and through private endowments a professor had been able to teach some special subject, the subject named by the endower.

subject, the subject named by the endewer.

"Another proposal is that the great collection of pictures which have been drawn by Government artists at the front, be reprinted and distributed throughout the schools in which foreign children are taught. The prints would be good ones, and would be quite expensive," said Mrs. Smith, "but the money would be well spent. It would show some of the great part played by the Canadians in the war.

Series of Lectures.

"Also that a series of lectures be given throughout the country by the Navy League under the auspices of the I. O. D. E. All these proposals will be brought up at the meeting of the national chapter."

At the close of her talk Mrs. Smith volunteered to answer any questions on the educational work of the I. O. D. E. From a daintily arrayed table, centred with flowers, the members of the chapter poured tea, and a social half was was spent with Mrs. Smith as their guest of honor.

London has already one company of Girl Guides and will probably have several more companies in the near future. With the object of pushing the movement in this city, Miss Edith Mairs, M.A., Dominion secretary of Girl Guides, ddressed a representative meeting of yomen at the Central Y. W. C. A., 187 King street, yesterday afternoon.

Efforts are being made to organize a committee to supervise the work in London and vicinity, and to aid in the formation of new companies. The company of Girl Guides already in existence meets every Saturday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. clubrooms under the leadership of Miss Leadman, physical instructress of the Y. W. C. A. PRIVATE "JOE" HEASLIP WELCOMED HOME WITH RECEPTION AND CONCERT

An informal reception was tendered pte. J. Heasiip last night at the Latter Day Saints' Church, Maitland street, by the Young People's Religio-Literary by the Young People's Religio-Literary Society. Just one year and one day had elapsed from the time Pte. Heaslip bade adleu and took his leave while the society sang "God be with you, till we meet again," until his return and appearance on the same platform as the lociety sang "Home Again."

The Rev. F. Gray, pastor of the church, on the request of the officers of the society, gave the address of welcome, to which "Joe," as Pte. Heaslip is more generally known to his friends, feelingly replied, outlining his journeyings from the time of leavetaking to his safe return, giving a graphic description ings from the time of leavetaking to his safe return, giving a graphic description of the drive at Cambrai which helped to break the Hindenburg line, and in which he received his "Blighty." During the recounting of this battle, his hearers were held in breathless suspense, and more than one eye was dim with tears.

An interesting argoran was then com-An interesting program was then completed, after which refreshments were served, during which Pte. Heaslip recited a poem of his own composition, the verses taking in the war and its attendant suffering on the battlefield. It was enthusiastically received.

BUSINESS HERE ACTIVE; CHRISTMAS TRADE GOOD

London reports to Bradstreet's that business is active and merchants appear to be well pleased with the way the Christmas trade is shaping. The public is showing decidedly more tendency to buy than in the years of the war, and everything points to pre-war Christmas conditions. However, there is no disposition on the part of merchants to buy heavily for the future, immediate needs only being looked after. In this way wholesale trade is less active, and travelers, while off the road now until the New Year, found business a bit slow in the last weeks. Trading with country points has been very good. Deliveries of eggs are very small, and prices continue their upward trend. Grain offerings are not heavy, but this trade is expected to pick up with the advent of colder weather. Collections are slow. London reports to Bradstreet's that
