That the Canadian indoor record to three miles, 15.22, will be hewn until fits in the "fourteens" at the Armorie fits in the "fourteens" at the Armories to-night at the Garrison meet is predicted and there seems to be an off chance that the world's record of 14.41 will get a rocking, when Jack Tait and Tom Coley hook up in the Canadian 3-mile indoor championship. It will be a race from the drop of the hat. Tait has gone under 15 minutes and it's a safe bet that Coley has shown as good time or he wouldn't be coming down to meet the West End fiver. There is a rumor abroad that Chuck Skene will retrieve his laurels in the two-mile walk, which is virtually a match race between the West End crack and S. H. Goulding, who conquered him three weeks ago. The complete list of events:
