BURLINGTON MEETING

Denies That Defeat of Drury Would Precipitate Provincial Election.

Staff Correspondent.

Burlington, Feb. 14 .- At an enthustastic meeting here this afternoon, E. J. Stephenson, who is opposing Premier Drury in Halton County, was greeted in a manner that goes to show that his chances of election on Monday are not as slim as some Drury's supporters seem to think. Mr Stephenson was accompanied by Sergt.-Major MacNamara of River-dale, and Joseph Reid, who occupied

"If I defeat Mr. Drury, it will not precipitate a general election, which no party in the house desires," declared Mr. Stephenson. "On the contrary, it would rather have the opposite effect, because the coalition goverament would then have the opportunity to select a premier more acceptable to the more than 200,000 war Weterans of this province, and thus earn the support of Sergt.-Major Mac-Replying to the

In his address Sergt.-Major MacNamara said. "I had fully intended to leave this contest alone, but the attitude that Mr. Drury has adopted in endeavoring to force class opinion on the farmers by prejudicing them against

At Brant Hospital. morning Mr. Stephenson was greeted with great enthusiasm at Brant Military Hospital, Burlington, where he ne will support practically every project that has been brought forward by he LLP, and the farmers party, and in addition declared that if the labor purty loes not introduce an eight-hour workling day bill he will introduce this bill limself without delay. He pledges himself to support mothers' pensions, good loads, a better system of education and all other projects of provincial benefit. In concluding his speech he produced an editorial in The G.A.C. Weekly Journal, which is being mailed to every elector. which is being mailed to every elector in the riding. "This," he said, "is an example of the very lavish expenditure of Mr. Drury to win the seat by however a narrow a margain and does not reflect credit on the returned men who aid Mr. Drury's ambition."

Officers and Directors: A. H. Chapin, of the Moore Drop Forging Co., Springfield, Mass., President; G. A. Bagshaw, of Toronto, Secretary-Treasurer; Joseph Herrick, M.D., Springfield, Mass., Director; E. A. Snowman, Retired Manufacturer, Springfield, Mass., Director; Gordon C. Crean, Manufacturer, of Toronto, Director.

This Company owns outright 275 acres in one block in the best portion of West Shining Tree. It has spent $60,000 on development to date and is now installing a modern mining plant.

A diamond drill has proved that the vein now under exploration carries $15.00 ore over a width of 22 feet and down to a depth of 800 feet, the lowest limit of

Any one familiar with gold mines will concede that this is a splendid showing. Both quantity and quality are indicated and these are the essentials of a big mine, and there are many other veins not yet explored

Shining Tree is prospectively one of the greatest, if not actually the greatest gold field in New Ontario. Though the Southern extension of Porcupine, it has several favorable features not present in the older camp.

The north and south veins of Shining Tree are the longest, strongest and best defined veins in Ontario. The Herrick, White Rock and Ribble are the best known of these great gold bearing fissures.

The Herrick, however, is the only property in the camp with two of these fissures. This is made possible by its large acreage. These veins take their very alignment from diabase dykes. The latter have a strike or direction a little west of north. The veins run parallel with the dykes. In fact, they may be described as contact deposits similar to those at the Hollinger Consolidated at Porcupine.

Deposits of this type have two special characteristics: the gold is evenly distributed and in amount above the normal and the ore bodies are always of great size.

Let us emphasize what this means. Fortunately we have the proof. Porcupine has an actual production fourteen times greater than any gold camp in Ontario, Its big ore bodies do the big business.

Bear in mind that the Government reports, as well from Ottawa as from Toronto, place Shining Tree as an integral part of Porcupine-in fact, its major extension southward.

Shining Tree is the coming gold camp of Ontario. As yet it is not fully explored, the Herrick being its most advanced property in point of development.

Safety and profit are the most desirable features of any stock. Profit means safety, and profit in mining fairly indicated on the Herrick Gold Mines. The deposits of Shining Tree and Porcupine are deep seated. Of this there is now no question. On the Herrick there is payable, in fact what may be described as rich ore on the surface, and it has already been proved to a depth of 800 feet, and rich ore will in all probability continue to the lowest practicable mining depths.

The Herrick is adequately financed. It has a strong directorate, composed of men of high standing in the business world. It is now providing a modern mining plant preparatory to blocking out and mining the big ore bodies indicated by shaft sinking and diamond drilling.

The many rich veins now known to exist on the property, combined with the splendid results of work to date, place the property in a commanding position.

The future of the Herrick seems assured. It should rapidly advance to the dividend paying stage. And at present prices the shares should show a handsome profit in a comparatively short time.

A very rapid absorption of the present limited issue is anticipated, but in the meantime orders may be wired at our expense.
