URGES YOUNG MEN TO STAY IN PROVINCE

BEAVERBROOK SPEAKS OF FINE CHANCES HERE

Freedom of City Conferred on Distinguished Guest

"IT is here in the province of New Brunswick, rich with natural resources, that equal opportunity is open to the young man and if I were starting my career over again, there is no other place I would rather turn to. To the young men of the province belongs the responsibility of seeing that the natural resources of the province are developed, and they have here a wonderful chance in life."

In these words Lord Beaverbrook yesterday afternoon pointed out his belief in the future of the province where he spent his boyhood and early manhood.

A distinguished gathering was present in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon when the freedom of the city was conferred on this famous son of New Brunswick and on acknowledging the honor he said he would rather have it than any other honor which he had received.

INTEREST IN PROVINCE

Lord Beaverbrook was one of the outstanding financial men of the British Empire and known as one of the most influential and important men by reason of the journals which he owned or controlled. In spite of all this he had not forgotten the province of New Brunswick and still took an interest in all its activities. His worship referred to the interest taken by his Lordship in educational affairs of the Province and the Beaverbrook Scholarships and the recent trip of New Brunswick teachers as the guests of Lord and Lady Beaverbrook. For these reasons it gave him great pleasure, by virtue of his authority as chief magistrate of the City of Saint John, to confer on his Lordship the freedom of the city.

Cap'n Charley Saw a Saw Fish—

And the saw fish nearly sawed Cap'n Charley Thompson before he captured it. The monster was almost as big as an elephant, and could cut a shark or a man in two with its spiked snout. The baby (three feet long) stuck close to mama during her fight and was caught alive afterwards. Cap'n Charley is a Miami, Fla., pilot.

BEAVERBROOK REPLIES

In reply Lord Beaverbrook said that 20 years ago he had come to Saint John from a small inland town to make a career for himself and now to return today and receive this honor at the hands of the city moved him deeply. He appreciated the honor very greatly and declared that he would rather have it than any honor which had been bestowed on him.

Nothing in the world gave him greater pleasure than to return to these shores, for it was here that he reared, for it was here that he found the friends of his early days, and those he treasured more than in any other part of the world, friends who always believed in him and sustained him in other days.

Kindly reference had been made to his interest in educational matters in the province. This was but natural, as it was here he had received the education which had been the foundation on which his career had been erected.

The mayor had referred to the trip of the New Brunswick teachers. This was an enterprise of Lord and Lady Beaverbrook. For these reasons it

WELL ENTERTAINED

Saint John County Hospital Patients Given Hours of Pleasure

The patients at the Saint John County Hospital were entertained yesterday by the Good Cheer Club of the Knights of Pythias and the Carleton Cornet Band at a picnic and concert. It had been hoped that a motion picture of the picnic could be taken but the weather did not permit. His Worship Mayor Dr. W. W. White was present and in a brief speech expressed appreciation of the good work of the Knights of Pythias and the fine entertainment provided by the band. He also praised the work of the hospital. H. C. Schofield, chairman of the hospital board, made the presentation of a box of chocolates to the band as a gift from the patients and the Knights of Pythias. Dr. H. S. MacDonald, vice-chairman of the board, presented a box of cigars to the band on behalf of the hospital. Both members of the board cordially thanked the entertainers for the treat they had provided. The members of the band were taken to and from the hospital by street car through the courtesy of the New Brunswick Power Company.

BOOSTS PURCHASES IN GREAT BRITAIN

Canada's Senior Trade Commissioner Here on Mission to N. B. and N. S.

To interview Maritime Province manufacturers and wholesale business houses in an endeavor to get them to do more of their purchasing in Great Britain instead of in foreign countries, and to make a tour of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to get material for his annual report on Canadian trade to the British Government, is the two-fold aim of F. W. Field, of Montreal, British Government Senior Trade Commissioner in Canada, who is in the city after completing a three-weeks' tour of Nova Scotia.

Mr. Field expects to spend three weeks in New Brunswick, and probably Prince Edward Island, and will then leave for Montreal.

Mr. Field remarked that he and his staff were intense believers in the "Made in Canada" campaign. Strong co-operation between the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce and the British Government Department of Overseas Trade prevails, Mr. Field stated. The latter department had appointed Mr. Field and his fellow-commissioners to develop the importation of British goods into Canada.

Mr. Field's annual report on Canadian trade will be sent to his department in London at the end of September, he said last night. This report will take the form of a market survey and an analysis of Canadian trade. The report will be entitled, "Canada as a Market for British Goods."

HERE FROM ENGLAND

Miss Averil Chisholm, who has recently returned from England, where she spent one year as an exchange teacher, passed through the city yesterday on her way back to her school in Vancouver. She had been spending a few days with relatives at Windsor, N.S., and was met in Saint John by her cousin, Mrs. G. S. Piers.

NEWEST ZEPPELIN HAS GAS SECRET

Petrol Will Not be Used—Expects to be Ready in About Year

BERLIN, Aug. 16.—At the Zeppelin works in Friedrichshafen, on Lake Constance, work has been begun on a new Zeppelin, LZ127, the biggest yet. It will be driven by a newly discovered gas, instead of petrol.

Dr. Eckener, who took out this giant's predecessor, LZ126, or ZR3 (now the Los Angeles) across to the United States, declares that LZ127 will be half as big again as the predecessor. LZ127 will have a gas capacity of 100,000 cubic metres as against the 70,000 cubic metres of LZ126.

The new driving gas was discovered early in the year by Dr. Lemperle, of the Zeppelin works, and since then motors have been adapted to its use.

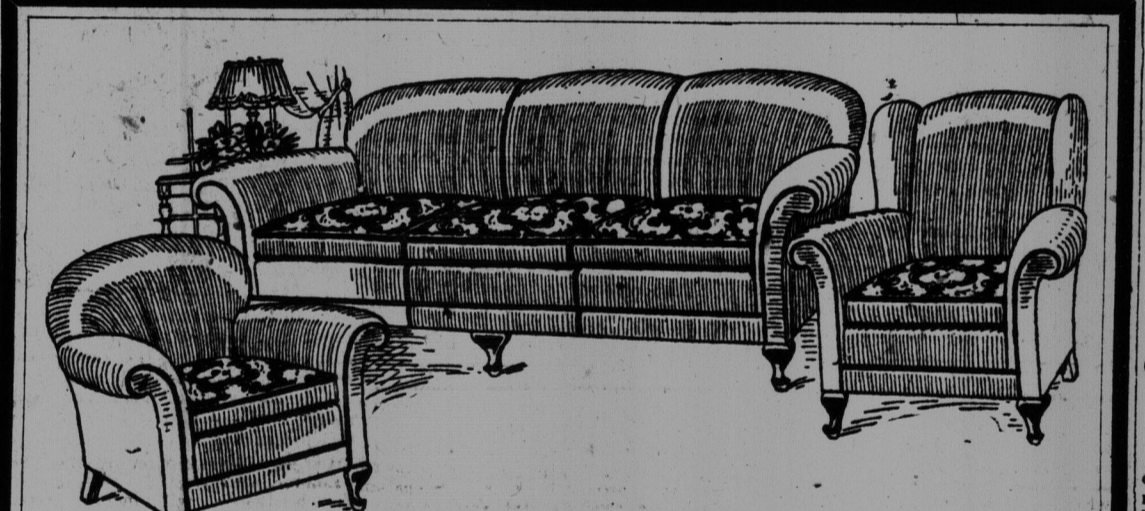

It is, Dr. Eckener states, about 25 per cent. better than petrol; but its great value lies in the fact that it is just about the same weight as air. As it is consumed during flight, therefore, there will be no change in weight in the airship, which is a highly important consideration.

The airship will be provided with five motors, each of 620 horse-power. It is reckoned that LZ127 will be completed within a year's time, and the great vessel will first of be used experimentally to see if a regular service of Atlantic air liners is possible.
