

REWARD FOR INFORMATION IN LEBLANC DEATH

Provincial Gov't Will Give $500 Leading to Court Action on Matter

PREMIER BAXTER stated last night that the Provincial government is to offer a reward of $500 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible in the death of "Gipsy" LeBlanc, of Buctouche, assistant inspector of fisheries, whose body was found in Buctouche Bay on Sunday, Oct. 24. A coroner's jury on Wednesday found that LeBlanc came to his death, not by accident or drowning, but as the result of injuries received at the hand of a person or persons unknown.

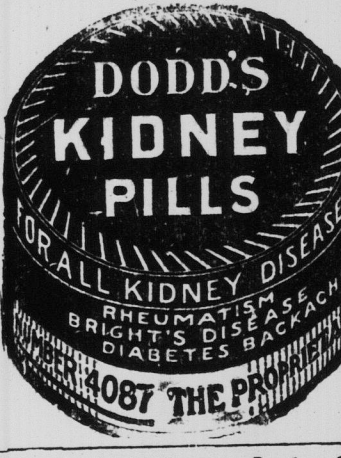

Evidence was given at the inquest to the effect that assigned letters threatening death if he did not stay away from the shores of Buctouche Bay had been received by LeBlanc. These statements were made on the stand by a brother of the deceased who believed the fishery officer had a fairly definite idea who the writer of the letters was.

OTHER THREATS. It was also said that the victim of the killing had been warned by word of mouth. Threats had been passed along to him that certain persons would kill him if he pursued his duty as he had sworn to do. These threats failed to frighten him and he went out in his motor boat last Wednesday night determined to catch those who had set illegal trap nets for the catching of smelt in the bay.

"There are only five things in this world that I want. And you can give them to me."

"Ah, and what are they?"

"Five dollars."

Why Father John's Medicine Is So Good for Coughs

A cough is always dangerous, no matter what has caused it, and it should be treated without delay.

Father John's Medicine is so good for coughs because—

- its healing elements soothe the irritated air passages;
- it gently laxative effect helps to throw off the body impurities;
- its wonderful food elements composed of cod liver oil and other ingredients blended by specially designed apparatus, build up strength, flesh and blood and give the body vigor to throw off the cough;
- it gives genuine and permanent relief and so strengthens and invigorates the body that one is able to resist taking fresh colds.

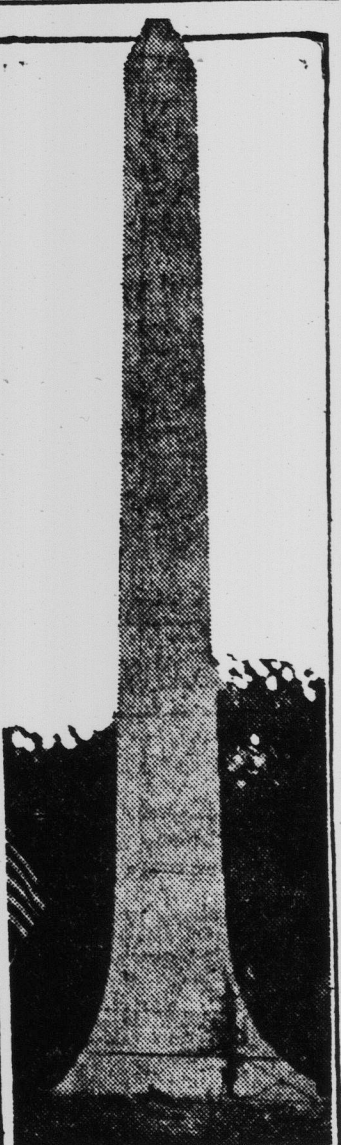

Father John's Medicine is both food and tonic. It is absolutely free of alcohol and dangerous drugs, and is suited to the use of every member of the family, young and old.

SICK ABED EIGHT MONTHS

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Could Do All Her Work and Gained in Weight

Melfort, Saskatchewan.—"I had inward troubles, headaches and severe pains in my back and sides. I was so sick generally that I could not sit up for eight months. An aunt came to visit and help me as I was unable to attend to my baby and could not do my work. She told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles I could get up and do my own work. I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. When I first took the medicine I only weighed seventy-eight pounds. Now I weigh twice as much. If I get out of sorts or weary and can't sleep I always take another bottle of the Vegetable Compound. I find it wonderfully good for female troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. I will be only too glad to answer any letters I receive asking about it."—Mrs. WILLIAM RITCHIE, Box 486, Melfort, Saskatchewan.

British Report On Maritime Lumber

The circular letter of Farnworth & Jardine, of Liverpool, date of Oct. 1, says:

New Brunswick and Nova Scotia Spruce and Pine Deals, etc.—The total to the Mersey came to 2,710 standards. With demand steady 3,200 standards passed into consumption, leaving the present position of stocks 6,900 standards. Forward delivery business was difficult to arrange in view of advancing freight rates. Shipments by the liners from Halifax were small, and with prompt disposal. Pine Deals, etc.—The business passing was very small.

Birch—Logs—The import came to a King street wharf, amounting to 6,000 cubic feet. Consumption was disappointing but stocks are not heavy, being about half those held this time last year. Planks, etc.—Come forward to the extent of 84,000 cubic feet. Deliveries were satisfactory, although falling to reach the arrivals. Stocks are heavy, viz., 271,000 cubic feet. No material change in values.

$350,000 In Whisky Returns To Owner

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—After being stored for more than two years in government warehouses in Brooklyn, 5,000 cases of whiskey, valued at $350,000, were today ordered sent back to the port of shipment, St. Pierre, Miquelon. Federal Judge Winston ordered the return of the liquor to its owner because it had been seized from a rum-runner outside the 12-mile limit on the assumption that a sale had been made 15 miles off shore.

OLDER BOYS ARE TOLD OF MEETING IN HELSINGFORS

Tri-County Conference Opens in St. David's—Jas. MacGowan Leader

The Older Boys' Conference for the counties of Saint John, Kings and Queens opened its week-end sessions in the Memorial Hall of St. David's United Church last evening with a large attendance of delegates and a first session was of great interest. James MacGowan, of Saint John, was elected as the conference presiding officer.

The meeting was called to order by F. I. Withers, of Saint John, chairman of the Saint John Boys' Work Board. Rev. Hugh Miller, minister of St. David's church, read the opening service of worship which had as its theme "Prayer."

The chairman then introduced the speaker of the evening, James Fay, of Bridgetown, N. S., who was the delegate from the Maritime boys' parliament to the world's conference held in Helsingfors, Finland, in August. Mr. Fay gave a very clear and concise report of the conference, emphasizing the great spirit of brotherhood which prevailed among the various delegates who had assembled from all over the world. He pointed out the fact that the meetings were non-sectarian as well as international. The chief aim of the conference, he said, was to broaden the outlook of the delegates on world affairs and to bring about a better spirit of co-operation in working out each others' problems. He also pointed out that the work of the Canadian Tuxis Boys is held in very high regard and is carried out. He also brought to the meeting the spirit of the fire of international friendship which was held at the closing session of the world's conference, in which all the delegates, over 8,000 in number, took part in repeating the Lord's Prayer.

THOSE ELECTED.

Following Mr. Fay's address the grand officers of the conference were elected as follows: Grand praetor, James MacGowan, Saint John; grand scribe, Paul E. Lewis, of Sussex; deputy praetor, Curtis Chipman, of Saint John; grand comptroller, Everett Campbell, West Saint John.

The conference then resolved itself into four squares under the leadership of Rev. W. A. Robbins, Rev. W. J. Bevis, A. R. Crookshank and Rev. F. M. Milligan.

In co-operation with the conference special boys' services are to be held on Sunday in Ladies' Aid societies, Baptist churches in the morning and in Centenary United Church in the evening and at both of these services Mr. Fay will be the speaker.

W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd. have now a King street window display of special Tuxis trophies and emblems out of compliment to the conference. Among the trophies shown are the Maritime shields for athletics, the present winners being Musquodoboit for the Tuxis shield and Zion United Church for the Trail Rangers' shield. Pictures are also shown of the Portland United Church group which won the Dominion trophy in 1922 and there are emblems depicting the Tuxis four-fold program of development along spiritual, intellectual, social and physical lines.

THOSE REGISTERED.

Those who registered were as follows: From Saint John, Ross Moore, Hibbard Stuart, C. B. D'Arcy, Ronald Clark, Thomas Somerville, Don Patterson, Curtis Chipman, Gordon Daley, Ruel Cosman, George Blair, Robert Ross, Hugh Ross, Albert Purdy, Charles McIlven, Thomas Aird, Herbert Purdy, Leslie Hamer, Allan Sullivan, Reginald Campbell, Charles Kerr, Allan Maher, Harry Lanyon.

DEATH TOLL OF 1,500 IS LIKELY IN ARMENIA

Fissures Seen Everywhere in Mountain-Side and Food Runs Short

LENINAKAN, Armenia, Oct. 29.—Indescribable destruction made more acute by the spread of malaria, influenza and other diseases, prevails in the earthquake zone of Armenia where recurring earth shocks and loud subterranean rumblings have kept the population in a state of panic and despair for the past seven days and nights.

Government and Near East Relief reports, which have been trickling in for the past few days, reveal that the casualties of last week's great earth shock will be higher than at first thought. The villages of Alexandropol, Djabur and Kanakiss alone had 125 persons buried in the ruins and 210 badly injured. If the same proportion of deaths prevails in other 34 devastated villages, the total loss of life will exceed 1,500 as against the 600 first reported.

NO ESTIMATE MADE. No estimate has been made of the fatalities in towns beyond the Armenian-Turkish border, although the loss of life and property is known to be very great.

"Horrible" is the way the situation in Turkish-Armenia was described by a telegraph operator at Kara.

A correspondent for The Associated Press, who has spent the past two days in the stricken area, found conditions comparable only to the terrible scenes of the Smyrna fire disaster of 1922, which he also witnessed.

REFUGEES MOVING AWAY.

Long caravans of bandaged, limping peasants make their way haltingly over the broken roads searching for new abodes, reluctant to begin the work of restoring their ruined homes because of the recurring earth shocks which fill them with fear of a new calamity. Wagons, donkeys, horse-drawn carts, with people, furniture and belongings form a mournful cavalcade as the natives wander from one village to another in search of succor.

Frenzied mothers were observed carrying dead babies in their arms, refusing to believe that life had left the frail bodies. Snow and bitter cold prevailing in the mountains piled high with people, furniture and belongings where they have devoured the carcasses of cattle and even human bodies caught in the ruins.

DIVERS SEARCHING FOR TREASURE

New German Invention Used to Locate Sunken P. and O. Liner

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Weird creatures resembling G. G. Wells' metallic Martians are groping on the bed of the mouth of the English Channel. They are searching for treasure of the P. and O. Liner Egypt, which sank off Ushant in May, 1922, carrying $8,600,000 in gold and silver, after collision with a French cargo boat. The Egypt went down in 800 feet of water, and the ordinary diver with his rubber suit. About 200 is his depth limit.

The present attempt is being made with the aid of a recent German invention, first heard of in this country in the endeavor to locate the British submarine M1, rammed and sunk off Start Point some months ago.

This new diving dress is made of jointed steel, and weighs half a ton. It has been tested at a depth of 500 feet.

The diver's hands do not project from the apparatus, but tongs at the ends of the "arms" are operated mechanically from inside the "deep sea armour." An experienced man can pick up and operate tools with the tongs while walking about the sea bed.

CARRIES AIR SUPPLY

The diver carries his own air supply, and it is sufficient for four or five hours. He is lowered to the bottom of the sea by a steel cable on a crane from the salvage ship. This cable contains electric wires, and constant communication is maintained between diver and ship by telephone. Specially constructed electric lights are also lowered to illuminate the eerie darkness of the ocean bed.

The location of the Egypt was a romance in itself. A steel cable nearly a mile long was dragged along the sea floor by two tugs. This cable was equipped with heavy weights which caught against the liner. The first attempt was unsuccessful, because one tug was stronger than the other and drew the weaker tug backwards.

Equal powered tugs were then employed. When the cable caught the wreck the tugs crossed courses, drawing the cable in a tight loop round the sunken liner. Buys, connected to the weight, marked on the surface the exact location, shape, and size of the wreck. The dimensions corresponded to those of the boat.

JURY BLAMES NONE IN TRAIN FATALITY

Inquest is Held in Death of Five Wreck Victims at Edmundston

In the death of five men resulting from the collision between a freight train and a working train, at Belanger, N. B., on Thursday morning, a coroner's jury has brought in a verdict of accidental death, attaching blame to nobody, but the railway authorities are investigating the cause of the accident, classed as the worst on the Atlantic Region of the system in many years.

30,000 HOMES DESTROYED.

The government estimates that at least 30,000 houses were destroyed in the quake zone, which resembles the devastated regions of France. In France, however, the devastation represented four years of continuous warfare, while in Armenia all the havoc was created within a few minutes.

The quake has brought almost as great affliction upon Armenia as all the preceding years of wars, revolutions, famines, epidemics and massacres together.

"That is my fifth home," said an old woman to The Associated Press correspondent, as she pointed to a heap of crumbled stone. "They were all the homes of my ancestors. Why is God so hard on Armenia?"

form our relatives in America of our plight?"

are scared with signa crevices. In some places the whole configuration of the earth has been changed. Great fountains of super-heated sulphur water are issuing from the earth in many places.

There is still a grave food shortage. Today the Near East Relief turned over its huge bakery, built to supply the 9,000 orphans under its care, to the local government in an effort to alleviate the sufferings. With the spread of disease, the American and native doctors in the stricken area are overwhelmed.

The Associated Press correspondent was stopped by many Armenians who told of relatives living in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Los Angeles. Taking old letters with them, they asked plaintively: "Can you inform our relatives in America of our plight?"

You Are Not Sick But Always Tired!

The Nerves are Tired and Exhausted and must be nourished back to health and vigor.

YOU work and get tired; you sleep and eat and are again like a new being, ready for another day's work.

But there comes a time, when the nightly sleep and the weekly day of rest are not sufficient to restore energy.

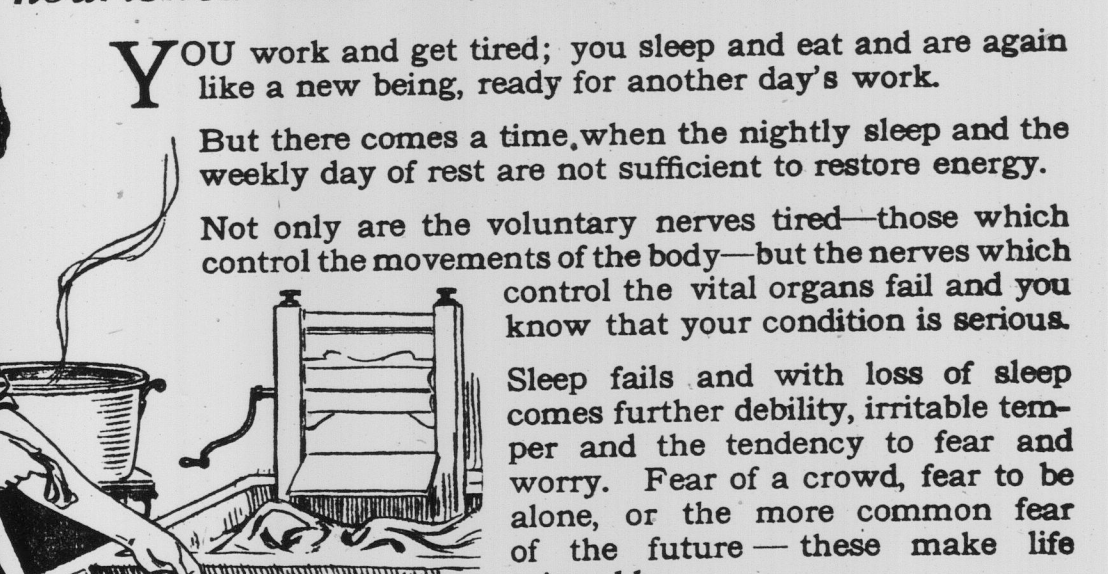

Not only are the voluntary nerves tired—those which control the movements of the body—but the nerves which control the vital organs fail and you know that your condition is serious.

Sleep fails and with loss of sleep comes further debility, irritable temper and the tendency to fear and worry. Fear of a crowd, fear to be alone, or the more common fear of the future—these make life miserable.

There is a way to get away from this condition and it is by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to feed the starved and depleted nerve cells.

This is the only rational way to restore the exhausted nerves. Narcotics may stop pain by deadening the nerves, but they do so at enormous expense to the nervous system.

You will not be using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food long before you discover its upbuilding effect on the system. Good, restful sleep, improved digestion and a brighter outlook on life will soon convince you that this treatment is bringing back your old time health and vigor.

Here is the Proof

Mrs. Paul Lacourse, Belleville, Ont., writes:—"I was very sick and weak and my system was in a run down condition. I had an almost constant pain in my head, and became so weak I could not do my work. I took some medicine given me by the Doctor, but it did not do me any good. I finally began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and this treatment did me the world of good. I am now fine and healthy, am able to do my work without difficulty, and look after my six children besides. I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to all women suffering as I was, as I consider it a splendid medicine for people in weak and run down condition."

Mrs. Jane Hooley, Nestleton, Ont., writes:—"For several years I suffered from what the doctor called nerve exhaustion and I also had eczema on my face. I suffered from sudden starting from sleep, brain fog, nervous irritability and indigestion. Every little undertaking seemed to become such a momentous thing—even the preparing of the meals worried me to death and left me tired out. On the advice of a friend who uses it, I tried Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and must say that it is the most effective medicine I have ever used, and I have tried a great many different ones. I now feel relieved from the nervousness from which I suffered and with the change in my health and the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, the eczema cleared up."
