

M'LAREN BACKS SEABOARD CASE IN THE HOUSE

Urges "Proper National Transportation Policy" For Canada

NEW AMENDMENT

Regrets Competition Given Ontario Dairy Products By Trade Facts

OTTAWA, Feb. 8.—Maritime harbor demands as recited by Dr. Murray MacLaren, Conservative, Saint John, N.B., was a feature of the proceedings in the House of Commons today.

Conservatives moved another amendment to the address. While not specifically mentioning the trade treaty with Australia, the amendment obviously had the treaty chiefly in mind. It expressed regret that in recent trade agreements made by the present government, Canadian dairy products were being subjected to the most unfair and unwarranted competition and in the amendment expressed regret also that the Speech from the Throne gave no indication of remedial legislation.

The day opened with a curious situation.

BOARD SHORTLY TO FIX FREIGHT RULES HEARING

QUEBEC CASE UP

Railway Commission Due to Hear Eastern Arguments After Western

OTTAWA, Feb. 8.—Some time this week an announcement is expected from the Dominion Railway Board fixing the date for the hearing of the application of the Quebec interests regarding the carriage of grain over the National Transcontinental to that port. It is also expected that a date will be announced for hearing the representations of the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia people on railway rates calculated to stimulate the movement of more grain through the ports of Saint John and Halifax.

The program of the Railway Board of subjects related in one form or another to the general question of equalization or removal, as far as possible, of discrimination against the different sections of the country is rapidly growing. On Feb. 16 the board will hear the demand of Alberta and British Columbia that the railways be made more fully to comply with the Pacific rates order. Then will come the two eastern cases above cited.

GRAIN EXPORTS VIA U. S.

Maritime ports were not receiving their fair share of the grain trade. From sixty to seventy per cent. of Canadian wheat was exported through United States channels and the balance through Canadian ports.

We should have regard to the interests of this country," said Dr. MacLaren, "in conducting such business as possible over our own railways and through Canadian ports." Such a policy could not be recanted by the United States, but on the other hand should secure the respect of that republic.

Canada should have a "proper national transportation policy."

TRANSPORTATION ACUTE Dr. MacLaren pointed out that the matter of transportation most acute. The question, however, was now engaging the attention of the whole Dominion. The press, boards of trade, and big business men were taking a prime interest in the problem. Insofar as the Maritime Provinces were concerned, the election of 28 Conservative members in 29 constituencies was illustrative of the dissatisfaction with the government on the transportation problem and its tariff policy.

PAPERS QUOTED

Dr. MacLaren quoted a number of newspaper articles from central Canada to the effect that the grievances of the Maritimes were real ones and the aspirations of the Maritime people should receive sympathetic consideration.

Millions of dollars had been spent on the construction of railways in this country. But, stated Dr. MacLaren, that money, according to legislative enactments passed at the time, was contributed for the purpose of insuring trade over Canadian rails and through Canadian ports.

VOICE OF COUNTRY. The voice of the people and the press of the country were urging that such a policy should be put into effect. There would be no satisfaction or prosperity unless Canada's seaports were properly developed in the interests of the country.

Dr. MacLaren suggested that the Canadian National Railways included in its personnel too many of the officials of the former Grand Trunk Railway, who perhaps had got the habit of sending freight through the United States ports. It might be better to superannuate these officials and leave Sir Henry Thornton a free hand to remedy the trouble.

NO RIGHT TO SIDE-TRACK. The Government had no right to side-track the question of Maritime rights by passing the responsibility either to the railway commission or a royal commission of investigation. Everybody knew the causes of the trouble. No commission could discover by investigation more than was already known and the Government should move at once to apply a remedy.

TOURIST INFUX BEING PROMOTED

Railway Authorities Preparing For Special Trips From New England to Maritimes

The Maritime Provinces are expected to have a largely increased flow of tourists next summer, it was said yesterday by F. W. Robertson, general passenger agent of the C. N. R. Atlantic region, who has just returned from Montreal, where he was in conference with traffic officials of the railway. He said that representatives of the C. N. R., C. P. R., Maine Central, Boston and Maine, and New York, New Haven and Hartford railways would meet in Saint John on Thursday.

At the conference plans will be discussed to bring tourists to these provinces during the coming summer.

SPECIAL TRIPS PLANNED. Details of a tentative plan for special trips for tourists will be worked out before the meeting concludes, it is expected. The plan provides for a train leaving Boston on Friday afternoon and connecting with the early train from Saint John, which arrives in this city in time to connect with the Maritime express for the east. Connections will also be made at Boston with New York and other points south in New England.

Passengers making the trip would be given a week in the Maritimes, leaving here on their return to the United States the following Friday. It is probable that special trips taking in the main points of interest or stopoffs if desired in various parts of the provinces will be arranged in connection with the tours.

Relieved of lame back overnight

STIFFNESS AND ACHE GONE IN ONE NIGHT Sportsman is "as good as new" after one treatment

Sportsmen have learned a simple way to take out pain and stiffness when they get lamed up from exposure or over-exertion.

A Philadelphia sportsman writes that he caught cold in his back while out gunning and the next day found himself so stiff and lame he could hardly bend.

"I went to work, but had to come home," he writes. "I applied Sloan's and was free in one night. The next morning I was as good as new, thanks to the quick and sure action of Sloan's Liniment." (Name and address given on request.)

It is amazing what Sloan's does for any kind of muscular pain. It gets it on lightly. No need to rub. Sloan's alone does the work.

Instantly it sends a healing tide of fresh, new blood right to the sore spot. Your muscles limber up, stop aching and get back their tone. So clean and pleasant to use, too. Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.
