DRY DOCK WORKMEN SHOW FINE SPIRIT AND WIN TRIBUTE FROM MANAGER ROSS

Hustle Though It Means Lost Jobs—Plant Highly Praised.

"Right up to schedule," said Frank M. Ross, manager of the St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., when he was asked last evening about the preparations for the opening of the largest dry dock in the world, at Courtenay Bay, on October 29. And in this connection he paid a glowing tribute to the rank and file of the large army of men who have been on the works during the many months that have passed in bringing the plans of the company to maturity.

"The men on the work," he said, "the laborers, carpenters, shovel runners, engine drivers—in fact those of all trades engaged at the plant, know that they are working themselves out of their jobs by completion of the enterprise, and yet I've never seen men so conscientious or men who have worked harder. I believe it is an extraordinary situation. They have worked hard all along but as the time for seeing the results of their labors draws near they seem to have redoubled their efforts. They are all very keen to see the job well completed. Take a case in point—in the wet weather of Friday they kept right at it at top speed through the mud and the rain. The spirit of co-operation and interest they have shown has impressed me very deeply."

Cofferdam Going.
The dredge Tornado sucked its way through the large cofferdam for the first time on Thursday night. This structure kept the tide out of the fitting-out berth. It has been undergoing a gradual undermining process and little by little will be removed. There is now in this berth a depth of 20 feet of water. Work on the marine railway also is going on satisfactorily.

Praise From High Authority.
John Clarke, a prominent consulting engineer of London, Eng., has been visiting the new dock at Courtenay Bay. He has seen all the great dry docks of the old country and says he does not know of any that is better equipped as is the St. John plant to be opened for business on Monday, Oct. 29. Mr. Clarke is a brother of Trevisa Clarke, managing director of the North of Ireland Shipbuilding Co., a company associated with the great Swan, Hunter and Wigham, Richardson Company of world renown. He also visited the dry dock here this fall. The fine spirit shown by the workmen at Courtenay Bay gives an excellent example to the people of the city in general in connection with the providing of such an important adjunct to the Port of St. John as the new dry dock will be.

JAS. BULYEA DIES OF HIS INJURIES

North End Man was Struck by Auto on Thursday Night.

James Bulyea, who was struck by an automobile driven by Otis Mullen on last Thursday night, died this morning about 4:30 o'clock at the General Hospital, never having regained consciousness since the accident. Mr. Bulyea stepped off the curb to cross Main street, near the Baptist Church, and evidently did not see the car coming, for he walked right in front of it. Mr. Mullen swung the auto out, but was unable to escape the collision. The injured man was taken to the hospital, where everything possible was done for him, but without avail.

He was one of the best known citizens of the North End, and the sympathy of the community will be extended to his relatives. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Flora Bulyea, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Watson; and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Watson of this city and Mrs. P. C. Ebbett of Gagetown. The funeral will be held at Gagetown.

Coroner H. A. Porter decided that he would hold an inquest and had a jury view the body at 12:30, noon, today, and adjourn until Tuesday evening at 7:30, when the enquiry will be held at the Court House. The jury is composed of William Crabbe, David Watson, R. T. Worden, J. S. Murray, Wilmet Seeley, P. T. Walsh and J. B. Jones.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I had got into the habit of thinking that you and I were getting on in years."
"You may think you are," said Hiram, "but don't kid yourself into thinking I have any such notion about myself. I kin cut a cord o' hardwood a day yit—am I do the chores besides. Hanner says I'm giddy."
"Well," said the reporter, "I am younger than I was. I was talking this week with a man who is ninety-five years old. His blue eyes were clear, his brain was clear, and his memory good. He can walk in the street, and takes a lively interest in life. Naturally he thinks and talks most about the past. He encouraged me to take a fresh grip with fate and be young again."
"You wasn't kalkulating on hanging round here till you was ninety-five—was you?" queried Hiram.
"Why not?" demanded the reporter.
"Haint you got no sort o' pity for other people's feelin's?" said Hiram. "I wouldn't like to hev to read the yarns you'd be writin' when you got that old. They're hard enough to swaller now—By Hen!"

KINGS FARMER MEETS HEAVY LOSS

Harold Lisson's Barn Burns With 33 Cattle, 4 Horses, Equipment.

Harold Lisson, one of the most progressive farmers of Kings County, sustained a very heavy loss, early this morning, by fire which destroyed his large, modern barn at Roschville, some two miles from Sussex, together with 33 head of cattle, four horses, 300 tons of hay, a lot of grain, milking machine, mowing machine, wagons and harness in fact the total of his fine equipment, save one horse, which was rescued.

The fire was first seen about two o'clock this morning and had then a firm hold on the roof of the barn and the flames were fanned by a high wind. Fortunately it was blowing away from Mr. Lisson's residence, which was about 100 yards away and this was not damaged. The barn was 100 feet long and it is said the loss on the building alone is $5,000 and the total loss $10,000, without any insurance.

WILSON GOES TO HIGHER COURT

Committed by Police Magistrate in Musquash Check Case.

Munroe Wilson, a native of Scotland, was committed for trial in the police court by Magistrate Henderson on charges of forgery and obtaining goods under false pretences. The charge has to do with checks taken from the office of Dexter & Richards, contractors at Musquash. The accused declined to make any statement.

John H. Higgins, accountant of the Fairville branch of the Bank of N. S., testified that Wilson attempted to cash a check for $85.45 drawn on the Royal Bank, signed "Dexter & Richards" and endorsed "W. Edwards." He refused to pay it. He said the accused told him the Royal Bank had said that the check was O. K.

Det. Power said that after receiving a message from Dexter & Richards, he received a report from Mr. Pullen, of Robinson's Clothing Ltd. Later he went to Fairville where he arrested the prisoner, and took the check for $85.45 drawn on the Royal Bank, signed "Dexter & Richards" and endorsed "W. Edwards." The prisoner was wearing an overcoat which was identified by Mr. Pullen, and had $34.45 in his possession. The detective said, "Next morning Wilson said he did not remember what had happened the day before."

The prisoner declined to make any statement and was committed for trial.
