

HOLD-UP MAN LOSES; RAIDS CRAP GAME

New York, May 27.—The "bones" rolled against one of the best known gamblers in Queens Sunday and he departed from a crap game in a stable near Munson street and Astoria avenue $100 out of pocket. At one time while this unsuccessful gambler was there, as much as $8,000 was on the table. His eyes glistened as he departed, but several hundred "high rollers" from Manhattan and other boroughs went along with their play, confident that the three husky lookouts at the door would protect them from interruption.

About 10:30 that night an automobile swung up to the door and this gambler with a platoon of reinforcements he had recruited, demanded admittance. The lookouts objected, but a pistol cracked and, though the bullet buried itself in the stable door, resistance ended.

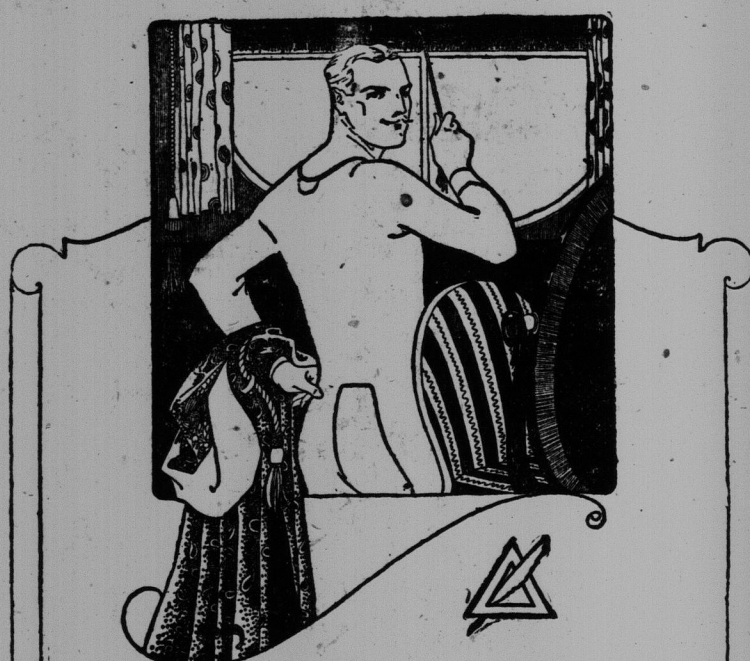

A moment later the gambler and his aids hurried out, their pockets bulging with the $1,800 they had swept from the table and another $1,000 or so in watches, trinkets and money taken from the players.

The police of the Astoria and Huerfano Point precincts were reluctant to admit that they knew the Long Island City gambler had been desecrated with a crap game and that it had ended with a daring hold-up, but it was admitted finally that an investigation was afoot.

Since it would be embarrassing to any of the participants to make a complaint, it was hinted that the investigation was not a very vigorous one, and that it was probable that the gambler would go unscathed of the law as a result of his coup.
