

MOTHERS' DAY IN THE CHURCHES

The observance of Mothers' Day was very general yesterday. Flowers were worn prominently, "white for the dead and bright for the living." In many of the churches the services were specially arranged and appropriate to the day, and the clergymen in eloquent sermons did honor to the "Divinity of a mother's love."

A young girls choir of about thirty-five voices led the singing in the Victoria street Baptist church and made a valuable contribution to the services both morning and evening. The choir was robed in white and made its fourth appearance since its formation. It has been trained by Stanley Williams. The pastor, Rev. G. D. Hudson, announced that the buildings on the lot purchased as a site for the new church had been sold and the work of removing them would commence this week, and it was hoped that the new church would be ready for occupation by the fall. It is to be one of the finest of its size in the city.

Among the special preachers in the city yesterday was Rev. G. M. Young, of Fredericton, president of the N. B. and P. E. I. Methodist conference, who conducted both services in Centenary church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, who was in Fredericton delivering the annual sermon to the students of the graduating class of the University of New Brunswick. Mr. Young was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sanford while in the city. L. B. Gray, student from Acadia, conducted the services at the Waterloo street church. James N. Rogers, lay reader had charge of the morning service at St. George's church, West St. John.

In St. Philip's church the services, both morning and evening, were conducted by women, and were appropriate to Mothers' Day. Mrs. B. H. W. Pinkett was the leader and at the evening service Mrs. Brigadier Moore, of the Salvation Army, delivered the sermon. Mrs. Donagan sang a solo very pleasingly. Mrs. Pinkett was prompted by a kindly thought to call for a second collection after the usual one had been taken. She asked the congregation to contribute to the hospital fund in which Mrs. Moore is keenly interested, and her appeal met with a ready and willing response.

At the Fairville Baptist church a meeting of the members of the committee of men having the painting of the church in hand, was held after the evening service. The sum of $410 was pledged by the members present and the plans were made for a canvass of the members for the purpose of raising the total amount which it is expected will be $1,200. At the evening service in the church Mrs. Murray Long sang a solo with fine effect. Special music was arranged in many of the churches. In the Ludlow street Baptist church in the evening the pastor, Rev. W. R. Robinson, delivered a stirring sermon with the word Mother as his subject. Miss M. E. Mullin, presided at the organ and the special music included two beautiful solos by Miss Sadie Campbell, and a pleasing duet, sung by Miss Daley and Mrs. Vincent. At the special song service in St. David's church the following took part in the programme: Mrs. B. C. Ferris and Miss Blenda Thompson, E. C. Girvan, Mrs. T. J. Gunn, organist, Miss Wall and Mr. Gesner. Several selections were rendered by the choir. At the Central Baptist church, the newly inducted pastor, Rev. Frederick S. Bone, preached a eloquent sermon in the morning. He greatly deprecated the absence of children in many homes and attributed this to the social sinfulness of the time. The divorce evil and kindred family shortcomings were dwelt upon. At the evening service Rev. Mr. Bone took as his subject "Is the Young Man Safe?" dwelling upon the Biblical incident of the wayward Absalom as his parallel. The Baraca Brotherhood, of whom the choir was composed, rendered many sacred selections. Dr. I. N. W. Baker, Gordon Allen and Walter Chase sang two special numbers. In the Douglas avenue Christian church, a special souvenir was given to observe the keeping of Mother's Day, which was a button appropriately lettered. Solos were rendered by Miss Alice Van Horne and John McEachern. Rev. J. H. Jenner preached a forceful sermon in the Charlotte street Baptist church, West St. John, on the duty of respecting mothers. He cited several incidents where mothers in their old age had been treated with disrespect by their children. The music was in charge of M. S. Stout. In the Exmouth street Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. G. F. Dawson, referred to the celebration of Mother's Day at the morning and evening services. E. E. Thomas, superintendent of the Sunday school, and the pastor addressed the scholars. Rev. Jacob Heaney preached at the morning service in the Carleton Methodist church on the subject "The Divinity of a Mother's Love." In the evening the subject was "Home, Sweet Home." A special Mothers' Day programme was rendered at St. Matthew's yesterday afternoon. The Sacrament of Baptism was administered to four infants. At the evening service the pastor's address was in keeping with Mothers' Day.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS ENJOY BANQUET

About 200 Y. M. C. A. boys sat down on Saturday evening to their closing banquet, which was held in the Y. M. C. A. building and was a great success. There were three groups of boys present, the Tuxis Boys, Trail Rangers and the "Gym" group. Competition was keen between the different squads of each group, for prizes were offered for the best decorated tables and the boys did the decorating themselves. The only groups from out of town points were the Trail Rangers from Robtsey and Hampton, who were in the city in connection with the sport meet, and the Robtsey squad carried off the prize from their group while the Tuxis Boys from Germain street Baptist church won the prize for the second row of tables.

H. Usher Miller was chairman, and after justice had been done to the excellent dinner, a toast to the King and Empire was proposed by Ronald Shaw. A toast to the C. S. E. T. programme was proposed by Jack Angerine, and A. M. Gregg responded. T. Robertson, president of the High school "Y" Club, proposed a toast to the boys' department, and this was responded to by L. A. Buckley, of Halifax, who was in town for the occasion. The Exmouth street boys provided an orchestra which played several fine selections, and a solo was sung by J. S. Smith.

The evening's programme was completed by moving pictures showing the peat industry in Ontario. The object of the picture was to show that Canada was not totally dependent on the United States for fuel.
