BIG FLEET OF COASTERS ARE HERE IDLE

More Than 50 Schooners in Port—Lumber Market Condition Said to be Responsible

Almost unprecedented are the conditions in coastwise shipping so far as this port is concerned. At the present time there are fifty-six vessels in port representing an aggregate tonnage of 11,682 tons. While some of them are schooners that usually tie up in the winter season, and a few are small and old craft, by far the larger majority are big able bodied vessels of more than 200 tons, seven more than 300 and well up to thirty less than 400 tons.

Almost every available space at the "bed-room" wharves, Pokok and other quarters in that vicinity is taken by craft large and small, ranging in tonnage from 85 to 325. There are twenty-five vessels of more than 200 tons, seven more than 300 and well up to thirty less than 400 tons.

A bad lumber market, about the worst known in some years, is reported responsible for this state of affairs, and as a result there is but little offering, and that so small that owners do not care to take the risk during this rough time of year. The New York market remains at the same low ebb and advances from various sections tend to the belief that matters will be worse, if that is possible. As one shippers says today "There is no demand for lumber or laths, and there is no life in the market at all."

EX-MEMBER OF CHAIN GANG BREAKS INTO VERSE OVER LOST STONE

The mystery of the lost stone is strongly appealing to all, including those who, forced labor, did the breaking and fitted it for use. An ex-chain-gang member expresses himself in verse as follows:

THE CITY OF MYSTERY.
St. John is in great trouble
Will some one lend a hand?
To try to solve a mystery
That we can't understand.
We'll give you our assistance
And help in every way
To try to find the whereabouts
The hidden treasure lay.
Our aldermen are angry,
And our citizens are sore,
The chain gang say 'come find that stone,
Or we'll not break any more.
We labored all last summer,
Through sunshine and through rain,
And now we feel offended,
For we labored all in vain.
We are going to haunt our aldermen
And we will not leave the public
board alone,
Until they find the whereabouts
Of the two hundred loads of stone.
And the aldermen, who said it's of no value,
He surely deserves great praise,
For I'm sure he would say it's worth
ten dollars a load
If he had to do thirty days.
Yours
ONCE A MEMBER OF THE CHAIN GANG.

BIG GAME EXHIBIT

D. W. Clinch and Wm. Gray, Noted Guide, Taking Fine Heads to Sportsmen's Show

If the present game materialize successfully, New Brunswick will have a good exhibit at the Sportsmen's Show, to start on Tuesday next in New York. Although no assistance has been given by the local government towards an exhibit, D. W. Clinch will, on his own initiative, and with the aid of the railways and hotels in various parts of the province, take with him to New York an exhibit, which is regarded as likely to prove a source of lucrative advertisement for New Brunswick.

He will be accompanied by Wm. Gray, of Bathurst, one of the best known guides in the province, and they will take with them two record moose heads, three caribou heads, mounted trout, and other specimens, as well as some spruce boughs and poles to make a natural "beaver" such as is the pride of the hunter in the woods.

Mr. Gray has a unique record as regards hunting in the woods. His father was a Scotchman who in pioneer days settled on the North Shore, where the present guide received his education in hunting. At the age of twelve he practically lived in the woods, and at fourteen he could trap and shoot with the best of them. He is familiar with the hunting grounds of the province, and if a sportsman with him fails to find a moose, it is not his fault. Last season with twenty-one hunters, he secured twenty moose, and the other man missed his. On one trip he took a party through a section where they saw 300 caribou. In his younger days there was none to equal him with the paddle.

He is looked upon as a fine specimen of a hunter to meet Theodore Roosevelt, Ernest Thompson-Houston, Dr. W. T. Dornaday, of the New York Zoo, the editors of Forest and Stream, Ontario, Recreation, and other men who are famous for their career as sportsmen. Mr. Gray will reach the city this evening.
