SALVATIONIST SUCCESS.

(Albany Argus.) Adjutant William A. Turner, the Salvation Army's commander in Birmingham, tells how the late Senator Hanna came to be one of the organization's best friends. Soon after he ceased laboring as an ironworker and gave up his inclination in the ungodly sport of prize-fighting to become a religious worker. Mr. Turner was stationed in the Cleveland barracks. The army at that time had not acquired its present standing. Money was scarce, contributions far between.

For several days Turner made attempts to see Mr. Hanna to solicit a contribution. Each time he was informed by the bookkeeper in the outer office that the great business man could not be seen. Mr. Hanna, in his office one day, the adjutant paid no heed to the stereotyped refusal, but continued on his way toward the door of the private office. The bookkeeper started to interpose, but the adjutant seized him by the collar, threw him out of the way and entered. Mr. Hanna was provoked at first, when he saw his discomfited bookkeeper and looked upon the husky Salvationist, he saw that the only way to get rid of the visitor was to listen. After the adjutant had explained the work of the army the future senator called his cashier and said: "Give this man $10. Don't let him bother me again, but whenever he calls always give him $10."

NO STRIKE ANTICIPATED.

But Street Railway Employees are Disappointed at Not Getting Increase in Wages.

Street Railway motormen and conductors are disappointed over the refusal of the company to grant them the increase in wages which they asked. They say the increase desired was very reasonable and should have brought a more favorable response from the company. A partial granting of the increase was looked for, but nothing like that came about.

A leading member of the Motormen's and Conductors' Union affiliated with the International Union, said this morning that he did not know what action would be taken by the men. A meeting of the union is to be held in the near future and then the matter will be thoroughly discussed and a course of action decided upon.

Members of the union say that they do not think anything like a strike would be declared with a view to forcing the company to grant an increase in wages. The effort, however, will possibly be made to urge the company to reconsider the matter.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Rev. C. W. Hamilton Elected President—Dr. Wilson Without a Circuit—Large Attendance.

(Special to Star.)
FREDERICTON, N. B., June 16.—At the ministerial session of the Methodist conference last evening the request of Rev. C. W. Hamilton, of St. John, was left without circuit at his own request. The conference refused the request of Rev. C. W. Hamilton for next year's leave of absence in order to engage in temperance work. Rev. W. Brewer, Rev. L. J. Leard and Rev. Dr. Brecken were granted a year's leave of absence.

HOME FROM HAWAII.

Daughter of Alderman Lewis, Who Travelled Back on a Visit.

Mrs. McDonald, daughter of Ald. William Lewis, arrived in the city yesterday after an absence of ten years. She was accompanied by her family and is here only on a visit. Her husband is at present travelling in British Columbia. Until quite recently, Hilo, Hawaiian Islands, has been her home. Previously to moving to the Hawaiian Islands Mr. and Mrs. McDonald resided for some seven years at San Francisco, California, where they were engaged in the sugar business.

Speaking to the Star of the Hawaiian Islands, Mrs. McDonald said that the climatic conditions do not make the islands a very desirable location for white people. The staple industry is the manufacture of sugar cane. The blacks greatly preponderate in the population. The white inhabitants of the islands, however, are generally prosperous.

During their residence on the island Mrs. McDonald said, they occasionally came in touch with a person from far distant New Brunswick. Such, however, were few and far between. In the fair state of California, where Mr. and Mrs. McDonald intend to resume their residence, the conditions are remarkably the reverse to those which prevail in the Hawaiian Islands. There it is extremely difficult, in whatever direction one may go, to avoid meeting a former New Brunswicker. He is everywhere, and what is more, he is invariably a contented person.

Not far from Hilo, Hawaii, where Mr. and Mrs. McDonald resided, is a volcanic active volcano in the world, Mauna Kea.

FISH PLentiful.

Tomorrow's fish market promises to be a good one, with lots of fish and good quality. Retail prices are as follows: Salmon, 12 to 20 cents per pound, according to the size; halibut, 12 to 15 cents per pound; flounder, 7 cents per pound; cod and haddock, five cents per pound; herring, 7 cents per pound and boneless cod 12 cents.

Shad are done, and only an occasional one finds its way to the market. The Pisces fishermen are meeting with varied luck in the catch of salmon. Last night one boat succeeded in getting as many as twenty-five fish. This would net the boat, in which there would be two men, about $35.

UNAPPRECIATED FRIENDSHIP.

This morning a gentleman walking along the south side of King square, and when about opposite Stanton's stone yard noticed a young robin, that was making what was probably its initial attempt to fly, fall to the ground.

He carefully picked the bird up and placed it on the tree near the nest. The two old birds flew at him in a terrible rage. One struck him on the face and the other on the neck, in both cases causing the blood to flow. The gentleman says he is through with giving assistance to robins in distress.

POLICE COURT.

Ed. O'Brien is Younger Than He Was—Michael Barry Finds His Home.

Edward O'Brien's age is uncertain. He was arrested on May 28th last on a charge of drunkenness, and gave his age as 60, stating that he was a native of this province. Edward was again arrested last night on Brussels street, and this time says he is only 56, and claims Ireland as his native land. When he was locked up in May the officer made the arrest and used up several valuable lines in the arrest book with a list of the various articles of jewelry found on his person. At present cases the officer who roped Edward is content with stating the amount of cash and adding "unsubstantiated articles." When O'Brien starts out on a drunk he adorns himself with all the jewelry he owns, a considerable quantity, and so it is that when he comes into the hands of the police they have to relieve him of enough gold, silver and plated ware to stock a small sized shop.

Edward admitted being drunk and the police magistrate let him off with $8 or thirty days hard labor.

Michael Barry is once more in the toils and unless some good friend comes to the front and pays into the treasury $24, Mike will work with the hard labor gang for the next four months, always of course, provided that he does not decide to visit the land of the free, as several others have done. Barry was drunk last night and was taken to the police station on a charge of being drunk. He was finally landed behind the bars, but Finley had to get assistance. This morning he was fined $8 or two months for drunkenness and $15 or two months for resistance.

One common drunk was fined four dollars.

STATE'S EVIDENCE.

The late John D. Townsend, a prominent member of the bar, passed his early school days at an institution kept by Dr. Harris at White Plains, and, contrary to the small boy custom, there existed a mutual affection between him and his instructor, which caused him to pay him occasional visits. During one of these he was acquainted in the doctor's suggestion of accompanying him to church on Sunday.

It happened to be upon an occasion when the minister had chosen for his theme the accounting of his flock, and he had reached a certain period in his discourse when the centre door of the church swung back and a lawyer, who was addressed to the cup that teiberates, entered and advanced unsteadily up the aisle, until, having reached the gate of his pew, he became aware that his pastor seemed to be making an especial target of him.

The minister, pointing his finger at the now listening barrister, continued: "In giving an account of my flock on the great day of judgment, it will become my painful duty to report the delinquencies of our afflicted brother, who, Sunday after Sunday, insults the house of God by appearing among us in his present condition."

The lawyer, standing himself by the pew rail, and assuming a legal attitude, replied: "La-di-es an' keel-men, (hic) I've been a practicin' law-yer for the past—thir-(hic)-ty years, and," regarding the minister with severity, "it has—been my in-in-variables experience that the big-gest rascal (hic) always turns Sta-tis's evidence."
