A GREAT CIRCUS.
Hargreaves Big Show Comes on June 5th.

The great Hargreaves' Railroad Show, a prominent feature of which is one of the finest and most remarkable menageries ever put under canvas, will give afternoon and evening performances in St. John on Wednesday, June 5th.

"What those who have charge of wild animals in captivity, and especially trainers, dread most among the large carnivora, is that inexplicable change of temperament on the part of the animal known in the parlance of the menagerie as 'going bad'." says Frank C. Bostock, one of the world's greatest animal trainers, in his inimitable book, "The Training of Wild Animals."

Continuing, Mr. Bostock writes: "Lions are likely to go bad about the tenth year of life; tigers, two or three years earlier. The male tiger is the dread of the profession because he reaches this condition, because he is more likely to go into a frenzy without warning, and once gone bad, nothing will satisfy him but murder. He will leap for any man within reach, and when once his teeth are on a bone, nothing but fire will make him relinquish it, and not always that."

"This going bad," may come in the nature of a sudden attack, or it may develop slowly and be counteracted if taken in time. An old trainer can usually detect the symptoms of this unfortunate ailment. It seems to be in the nature of a disease, and other animals recognize it and shun the affected one. When its progress is apparent the danger is not great; all that is required then is a level head, and the wisdom to refrain from further interference with the animal.

"A good trainer never dreams of interfering with animals in this condition. If attacked, his one aim is to defend himself, until he has a chance to escape from the cage and to separate the animal from his fellows as soon as possible. Sometimes this bad temper will become a permanent condition of the animal. In that case he is sent to the lonely cage to spend the rest of his life in comparative obscurity, disturbed merely by the passing crowd and his daily meals."

NO GERMAN PERIL.
Kaiser Not Threatening the Peace of the World.

BERLIN, May 31.—Speaking tonight at a public banquet given in honor of the visiting British journalist, Herr Muehlberg, Under Secretary of State, referred to the mistaken impressions of Germany's intentions conveyed by many of the foreign newspapers, which he deplored. Regarding "the tale that Germany is threatening or imperiling the peace of the world," he said: "The German army is viewed abroad with a suspicious eye, as a war engine destined one day to be let loose and spread disturbance and terror over the world. It is true that Germany has a great and gallant army of which we are justly proud, but can anyone prove that this army, since the establishment of the empire, has been misused—that we have frivolously risked the lives of our sons?"

Regarding the German navy, Herr Muehlberg remarked: "I read statements, especially from your country, that we conceal our programme—cast a veil over our ultimate aims. I am at a loss to understand this. Our programme is open to the world. The terms of our naval law of 1900 cannot be violated by Executive. It gives definitely and clearly the programme of the intended strength of our navy. When compared with that of the British navy, there cannot be any doubt left in the mind of an unprejudiced observer that our navy is intended only for the protection of our shores and seaboard trade. We strive for nothing else, but for this we will strive with all the rights of every great, progressive and honor-loving nation."

GREATEST ALTITUDE
Dr. Workman Camped at Highest Point Attempted by Man

Over Twenty-one Thousand Feet Up on One of the Himalayan Peaks—Mrs. Workman Climbed Two Thousand Feet Farther.

PARIS, May 30.—After having explored the mysteries of the Himalayan Mountains and ascended to heights heretofore unknown to man, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Workman, the veteran American explorers, have arrived in Paris from India.

"This last summer," said Dr. Workman, "we camped at the highest altitude ever attempted by man—21,200 feet. This was in the unexplored Himalayan range of mountains, in the province of Spiti, Kashmir. From this snow plain, surrounded by seven peaks, we ascended to the altitude of 22,720 feet, where I stopped to take photographs, as the mist was rapidly increasing, while Mrs. Workman climbed on to the top, which was 23,200 feet. Only one blistered foot was broken, and that was in 1903, when I climbed on the Congo Lungha glacier to the height of 23,200 feet."

"Few know what this means. To climb in these altitudes is a science and a task years of training. During the last five days of climbing the air was so rare we could not sleep, and the last two nights of thermometer registered four degrees and six degrees below zero, Fahrenheit (about twenty degrees centigrade). As we went alone between the clear sky and the snow and rocks there was danger of being frozen to death. The only warmth came from petroleum stoves such as we could carry."

"At the height of 10,000 feet we still find people, probably for the first time, raising rye, wheat, oats and buckwheat, and even at 12,000 feet, above the timber line, we actually discovered a small village where human beings were living under the same roof with goats, chickens, marmots and some strange animals. While these people acted like animals, they showed some intelligence, as they understood scientific irrigation and the use of the plow."

"For ages," said Dr. Workman, "the human races have been driving their kind as near off the earth as possible; it is the survival of the fittest."

"Above 14,000 feet we saw only a chamois, or species of partridge, and a pair of chough, birds like crows, except thinner, and with red beaks and feet. I have heard of snow leopards being found at great altitudes, but we saw none. Above 16,000 feet there was practically no life."

THE ENGLISH CHANNEL TUNNEL.
To run a grave national risk for the sake of protecting some thousands of tourists from the very transient discomforts of seasickness would indeed be the climax of dementia. For through goods traffic the tunnel might be of advantage to the continental farmer and manufacturer. In view of the prohibitive foreign tariff it would be of little use to British trade. We cannot abandon British industry because some distinguished soldier has asserted that the channel tunnel could be easily defended against 200,000 by fifty. On military grounds a bridge across the channel would be preferable from every point of view to a tunnel under the water. No coup de main could secure a bridge against the action of the British navy. Modern engineering skill is certainly equal to the construction of such a bridge—ignominious in National Review.

STANLEY THE EXPLORER.
Although the fever of African exploration did not seize upon Henry M. Stanley until after he found Livingstone, when the sample set by the latter freed the Welshman's ambitions, there can be little doubt that Stanley was a born explorer. Otherwise he would scarcely have been able to accomplish those arduous journeys which enabled him to fill up an enormous blank in the map of Africa. Stanley's discoveries were of the greatest political importance and led to the founding, among other things, of what is now the Congo Free State. His ultimate discovery of Emin Pasha furnished a magnificent illustration of Stanley's indomitable courage and perseverance—London Mail.

CLAIMANTS IN GRAVES, PENSION ROLLS SHRINK

No New Names Take Places of Thousands Scratched Off.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—After many years of steady increase, the pension rolls have begun to shrink. A sure sign that the armies of men who fought and bled, from Bull Run to Appomattox, are now dwindling away with alarming rapidity.

The veterans have been passing to the grave in huge numbers for years, but it never seemed to affect the pension lists. Now, however, when a name is scratched off none takes its place. This does not apply to years, but to months, for in the month of April 3816 pensioners died, and in the same month only 185 new names were added to the roll. This makes a net decrease of 377.

A pathetic note sounded in the voice of Commissioner Warren when he said today: "I fear that a large part of that $15,000,000 appropriation for the care of the old soldiers by the service pension law will find its way back to the treasury. Many of the men for whom it was intended have died."

"I do not believe that the service pension law will make it necessary to increase the appropriation for pensions above what it has been for the last few years."

"Further than that, I believe that from now on I will ask annually for a smaller amount of money. This will be the occasion by the passing away of Civil War veterans, they making the great mass of the pensioners."

"The number of pensioners reached on January 31, 1906, the number being 1,604,138. There was a decrease of only 18,000 in the eighteen months that followed. In the last eleven months, however, the decrease has been 16,000 and the figures for the month of April are appalling."

"This leads me to believe that I will be called on to ask for no more money because of the new law, and, further, that there will be very material decreases in the future."

The service pension law provided that any person who had served ninety days in the army or navy in the Civil War and had received an honorable discharge, should receive a pension of $12 a month after reaching the age of 62 years, $15 after 70 years and $20 after 75 years.

Immediately after its passage the law became effective and 528,000 applications for an increase have been sent to the bureau. Of these, 381-2 per cent are from veterans who were already drawing pensions at a lower rate for disability incurred in the service.

It was estimated at the time the law was passed that it would entail an increase of $15,000,000 a year in the expense of the bureau, but it is believed that most of the applications have already been received and a certain number of them which will be rejected will more than make up for those to come, in the opinion of the commissioner.

PETEWAWA, Ont., May 31.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Telegraph have opened an office in the military camp here for the season.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 31.—Fire which started in the drug store of Eiling and Schoonmaker in Wall street today, burned out that store and the adjoining stores of Herman Marble Stone, clothing, and W. S. Gillespie, wholesale grocer and liquor dealer. Total loss is estimated at $130,000, partially covered by insurance.

TO SAVE HAVANA CIGARS.

Cuban Leader Wants Export Tax on Tobacco—Bad Decline in Industry.
HAVANA, May 31.—Gen. Carlos Garcia Ycaza, a prominent politician, proposes to ask Governor Magoon to place an export tax on raw tobacco. He declared in an interview with the correspondent of The Sun today that Cuba's tobacco manufacturing industry was being rapidly destroyed. Where 100,000,000 cigars were made in 1890 only about 26,000,000 are being made now. He added: "For the preservation of this most important industry something must be done. The falling off in the number of cigars manufactured is enormous. It not only takes money away from Cuba, but the best tobacco is sent abroad, where it is blended with inferior tobacco and the combination is put on the market as the genuine Havana product."

"If an export tax is placed on the raw material the factories which have moved to Key West, Tampa and elsewhere will gradually return to Cuba. Cuba used to purchase 2,000,000 cigars annually from Cuba, but it now buys the leaf tobacco, which is blended with inferior tobacco in Chile, and the cigars made from this combination are sold as genuine Havanas. I intend to lay my proposition before Governor Magoon soon."

LUMBER LADEN DERELICTS.
Lumber laden derelicts are the most troublesome to navigators. It takes them a long time to sink. One such reported to be early in the morning drifted over 7,000 miles in 59 days. She was sighted thirty-eight times during that period showing she was frequently.

GILT FRAMES.
To brighten gilt frames take sufficient flour of sulphur to give a golden tinge to about one and one-half pints of water, and in this boil four or five onions or garlic, which will answer the same purpose. Strain off the liquid, and with it, when cold, wash with a soft brush, and gilding which requires retouching. When dry it will come out as bright as new.

BETS HERSELF ON A RACE.

St. Louis Girl Will Marry Owner of Horse if He Wins Cupid Handicap.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 31.—Miss Helen Burs, of No. 204 Fair avenue, has bet herself on a horse race. Laws against bookmaking didn't bother Miss Burs and Frank Grimes when they put their wager, as remarkable as one as the turf ever saw, into writing and had it witnessed before a notary public.

The great Cupid Handicap will be run at Priester's Park, near Belleville, on the afternoon of July 4. If the fourth horse, Grimes' Robbie Q., comes first under the wire Miss Burs will come down from the grandstand and will take Grimes by the hand, the Judge's big bell will be rung in waiting day fashion, a real judge or a minister will step forth, and the dashing pretty St. Louis girl will become Mrs. Grimes.

Miss Burs made the wager after a discussion as to the merits of two horses in the race, in which Grimes dared her to put herself up on the bet. He had proposed to her before, but had been refused. Miss Burs says the novelty of the situation won her to consent.
