POLICE MUSEUM A member of the Frisian Regional Police in Heerenveen (Holland) has started an international collection of police items, including specific caps, uniforms and badges. He has about 180 different uniforms to show and frequently exposes his collection to the public. This summer, he will be organizing a uniform show in a football stadium in Heerenveen and eventually he would like to start his own private museum in his hometown of Lemmer.

He has several police uniforms from Canada, and several pieces of RCMP uniforms, he is still missing the uniform jacket (see picture). This collector would be interested in trading Dutch police items for this jacket. Anyone interested is asked to contact:

An air show was held at the Moncton/Dieppe (New Brunswick) Airport, circa July 1930. It was a part of the RCMP Air Division coastal watch. Anyone knowing information concerning the identity of the pilots in the picture, or any other details such as the make, model, call numbers on the aircraft, or even has documentation on the event itself, are asked to contact the Quarterly.
