FIVE RUSSIANS GET DEATH VERDICT

Foreigners Plotted Holdup, Crime Ended in Murder—Judge Had to Leave the Court Without Formal Adjournment.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Climbing thirteen steps in the bunk house of the Ontario Rock Company, at Havelock, Ont., five Russians on the morning of the 22nd of June robbed ten Bulgarians. When the pistol of one was discharged a man in the thirteenth bunk was fatally wounded. At the murder trial of the five, which concluded Thursday evening at Peterboro, the thirteenth witness made confession. The five are to pay the death penalty—the first case of its kind in the history of Canada.

The case throughout proved most sensational, and against overwhelming odds and evidence, Mr. Basil W. Essery, Hamilton Trust Building, waged a brilliant defense for three of the men, as did G. M. Gordon, of Peterboro, for the other two. Chief Justice Mulock characterized the imposing of the death penalty as the most distressing and painful duty of his judicial life. When the last man was sentenced, he left the courtroom without waiting to adjourn the court.

The initial arrangements for the trip from Toronto to Havelock were laid within the shadow of the City Hall. According to the evidence, one of the men, Michael Bahri, after working ten days in the quarry at Havelock, returned to Toronto and informed the others where he knew some easy money was to be had. The destination according to the other four, was not known until the Union Depot was reached, and not until Havelock was reached and they were in sight of the quarry was the plan disclosed. This plan, said all the men, was to "scare the inhabitants of the bunk house and get their money."

Before the first man had climbed the last of the unlucky number of stairs, a shot rang out, but running upstairs and leaving a guard downstairs, the work of robbing the men began. The revolver of one, it was thought, had only accidentally discharged when he stumbled and it was not until their arrest at Indian River did they know that a man was shot.

Leaving the bunkhouse, the men ran for some minutes, took to the woods, and later separated, after the proceeds of the robbery, $410, was divided. They broke into two parties, three in one party and two in the other. By a strange coincidence they met at Indian River station. The three that were the first to arrive at the station were met by a constable and were held in the station. They were told that trouble had occurred at Havelock and a man had been killed. When the other two stopped at the station for a drink they were all locked in the waiting room. Here they hid their guns, cartridges, and even concealed part of the money under the seats and in egg crates.

Upon the arrival of other constables, the men were ordered to throw upon a chair the contents of their pockets. This they did, and the police then did not know who had the watches later identified at the trial by the men from the bunkhouse. As they were being taken from the station, ten-year-old Oliver Riseborough, son of the station master, picked up a box of cartridges, and the guns etc., were discovered when the room was searched. He and a younger brother next day found $100 more on the way to Peterboro one man threw away $80, although between two constables.

Another clue, in the shape of a rubber heel, the print of which was followed by a foreman, Stephen Bradley all the way from Havelock to Indian River station, through woods and fields, also played an important part in the trial. It was exhibit No. "23."

Each man was recommended mercy by the jury, and steps are already under way in the condemned men's behalf.

KING GEORGE WANTS LEAGUE OF NATIONS

COMMENDS FORMATION in MESSAGE TO MEETING OF NATO N'S LEADERS AT MANSION HOUSE London, Oct. 13.—A nation-wide campaign in favor of the League of Nations opened this afternoon under the presidency of the Lord Mayor of London at the Mansion House. For the occasion the League of Nations' union called together many of the leading British statesmen including Herbert H. Asquith, Lord Robert Cecil, John R. Clynes, former food controller, Earl Curzon, of Kedleston president of the council, Andrew Bonar Law, lord privy seal, and Sir Donald Maclean, National Liberal M. P.

In addition all the foreign ambassadors and diplomats and men prominent in various walks of civil life—churchmen, laborites, industrialists, scientists and lawyers—were present. Premier Venizelos, of Greece, Mr. Asquith Sir John Clynes and Lord Robert Cecil were among the principal speakers.

PREMIER'S MESSAGE.

David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, sent a message to the meeting saying:

"Civilization cannot longer afford to squander its time and treasure on the destruction of its own handiwork. The allied governments are pledged to the League's noble ideals. I appeal to my fellow countrymen to support international order and goodwill."

King George sent the following letter to Lord Robert Cecil: "We have won the war. That is a great achievement, but it is not enough. We fought to gain a lasting peace, and it is our supreme duty to take every measure to secure it. For that nothing is more essential than a strong and enduring league of nations. Every day makes this clearer. The convent of Paris is a good foundation. The nature and the strength of the structure and to build upon the must depend upon the earnestness and sincerity of popular support. Millions Want It.

"Millions of British men and women poignantly conscious of the ruin and suffering caused by the brutal havoc of war stand ready to help if only they are shown the way. In the knowledge of what already has been done, and the appreciation of the difficulties which lie before us and a determination to overcome them—these we must spare no efforts to secure."

"I commend this cause to all citizens of the empire, so that with the help of all other men of good will, a buttress and a sure defense of peace to the glory of God and to lasting fame of our age and our country, may be established."

The reading of the King's letter was greeted with cheering. Mr. Asquith declared that the military and naval armaments of nations were being continued out of all proportion to the actual requirements of order and said he hoped the members of the league would fulfill their pledges under the covenant purely as a duty. Mr. Clynes said labor must be more than a critic in the league's task, that it must co-operate in it.

BIG STILL FOUND NEAR GRIMSBY

Most Complete Yet Found in Niagara District

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 12.—The most complete and perfect illicit still for the "distillation" of whisky that has yet come to life in this district was located by a license inspector King and High Constable Boyd at Grimsby, in the home of Fred. St. John, a barber, at Grimsby. St. John was given preliminary hearing on Saturday and his case was enlarged until Tuesday. He is out on $2,000 bail.

The still, which St. John says he was induced to set up in his house by a Niagara Falls man, is now in the lock-up at Grimsby. St. John's alleged partner was arrested at Niagara Falls while trying to cross the bridge, but made his escape.

The man is believed to have jumped on a freight train in the direction of Hamilton and the authorities think he is in Toronto.

St. John is a returned soldier and left his ship in Grimsby to enlist. It is believed much of the illicit whisky that has been coming this way from the West was made in this still.

Three persons killed, 20 injured and property damage of $300,000 was the toll taken by a tornado which struck the little town of Hoistington, Kas., during the trial of two men indicted for fraud.

FOUND GUILTY OF NEGLECT

THREE YEARS' PUNISHMENT FOR MAN WHO ALLOWED A SERIOUS SITUATION TO DEVELOP.

Failure to take proper precautions has been responsible for many deaths, and is the cause of much suffering and hardship to-day.

Take the case of Wm. Dunn, 313 Gerard St. East, Toronto, Ont. Mr. Dunn was a chronic rheumatic sufferer for ten years. Three years of that time he spent in bed suffering indescribable torture. Picture the joy of this man on finding that Remington's Rheumatic Capsules were restoring him to normal health again. Here are a few extracts from his letter to us: "During the past ten years I have been laid up with Rheumatism. One attack confined me to my bed for a year, and a second attack left me helpless for over two years. After I had tried almost everything, a friend got me a box of T.R.C.'s, and a few doses convinced me that I had at last found the proper remedy for my trouble. T.R.C.'s improved my condition rapidly, and I feel that had it not been for T.R.C.'s I should have been laid up for years." T.R.C.'s are certainly wonder workers. Try them.

Ask your Druggist or write us for our new booklet. It is interesting and costs you nothing. Remington, 143 King West, Toronto. We mail T.R.C.'s anywhere on receipt of $1.00. Sole Agents for Kitchener, E. J. Ritz & Co., Druggists. For Waterloo, A. B. Learn, Prescription Druggist.

Five Minutes To Eleven has not yet come for those who stayed at home

The gallant Canadian army kept right on fighting until five minutes before the Armistice was signed.

The last lap of the war for those men was indeed a smashing, glorious finish!

While the fighting ended at five minutes to eleven on the morning of the eleventh of November last year, the war has not yet ended for those of us who stayed at home.

Our "Five Minutes to Eleven" has not yet come. There is a great deal more for us to do, before our war job is finished.

There are still heavy demobilization expenses to clean up. In a few short months we have brought home the troops that were transported overseas during four years of war—four years' transportation expenses crowded into a few months.

Many millions are still required to complete payment of demobilization and for other purely military expenditures.

The Victory Loan 1919 which is necessary to meet these war obligations is the great objective in the last lap for those who stayed at home.

The Canadian Corps, during the war, never lost a gun,—never once retreated and never failed to take an objective.

Keeping that glorious record in our minds, and carrying that "no surrender" fighting spirit into the new Victory Loan campaign, there can be only one result:—Success, overwhelming and triumphant.

When the figures for the Victory Loan 1919 are totalled up, the result will show the world that those of us who stayed at home have taken another glorious objective on the road to our "Five Minutes to Eleven."
