TORTURED FOR NEARLY TWO YEARS

Mrs. Poulin Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Rheumatism, Backache, and Headaches Were Her Portion But Now She is a New Woman.

McCREARY, Man, Jan. 20.

(Special)—"Four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new person of me." The speaker is Mrs. Oliver Poulin, of this place, and her numerous friends here fully verify her statement.

"For nearly two years," Mrs. Poulin continues, "rheumatism tortured me. My back and head also ached. My eyes were puffed and swollen. I am sixty-three years of age, and you can see I was a pretty sick woman. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Mrs. Poulin is only one of many who have had a similar experience. They were weak and run down, and sick all over. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured them. How? Simply by curing the kidneys. The diseased kidneys were the cause of all the trouble. They were failing to strain the impurities out of the blood, and the result was disease all over the body. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured the kidneys, the impurities were strained out of the blood. The result was pure blood and good health all over the body. The cause of the disease had been removed.

"The antinuclears after the backs of the chairs similarly carry their object in life in their name. These more or less artistic things had their beginnings some 100 years ago, when every one used massachusetts for the back of the chair. The antinuclears then would not permit greasy pols to spoil the fine chairs that would the modern mistress. And, lo, the antinuclears!"

Of chairs themselves, perhaps the most interesting feature is the familiar backrest, technically known as the stretcher—which joins the front legs. Nowadays its purpose is usually for ornamentation, sometimes strength, though often it is absent altogether.

It harks back to the days of the first chairs, when knights and dames would keep their feet off the cold, drafty, rush littered floor; hence the stretcher. Originally the stretcher was only a few inches above the ground, but when, later on, rugs and carpets came into more general use and rooms became more comfortable, the stretcher gradually lost its importance.

It is curious to note that the cozy armchair was the last stage of all. Cushions and padding were the first additions to the plain seat. Then came painted chairs and afterward carved legs and finally a luxuriously upholstered chair.

In point of fact the chair is easily the most important piece of furniture we have, historically speaking. To this day, "taking the chair" denotes taking the helm of affairs, reminiscent of the time when there was only one chair in a room, three-legged stools at the most being provided for less important folk.

Window curtains, again, have their own history. Originally all windows were left open, but in time came open windows in the wall. In the middle ages some one brought from China the idea of using cloth to cover the windows, and there is the origin of your curtain, with its frills and loops.

The glass chandelier, for who has one these days of fashion now—can be put down to the workmen refugees from France driven from their homes by Louis XIV. by the revocation of the edict of Nantes in 1685.

Even the drawer in the kitchen table—any table drawer, for the matter of it—has a history. It was the first of the kind to be thought of, but nobody did manage to think of fixing a drawer to a table until some inveterate card player—his name is forgotten—wanted a handy place for the cards when they were not in use. The very thing! And table drawers were invented.

"Kitchen" by the way, is derived from an Anglo-Saxon word meaning "to cook," while "scullery"—which positively has nothing to do with "scullion"—comes from a word meaning "a bowl."

Some of your furniture may well have an English political bias. It certainly is so if it bears that familiar design based upon the Prince of Wales' feathers. Hepplewhite, the famous furniture designer, began it. In his time there was a strong Tory party supporting George III, while the Whig party was headed by the Prince of Wales. Hepplewhite was an ardent Whig and accordingly introduced Prince of Wales' feathers into his furniture designs on every possible occasion. Incidentally the sofa is an importation from the same source. Arabs, whose "sofa" was a long bench between the house.

And, finally, "hall" simply means a place which is covered in, and the word comes from exactly the same root as the internal regions!—Philadelphia Ledger.

Amities of the Table.

"I waited ten minutes for a car today," the landlady was saying, "and then it passed me without stopping."

It was actually recalled that the habitually silent man had been having unusual difficulty with his chaps.

"Perhaps," he remarked, "the conductor didn't care to have you push his car."—Exchange.

Let's Do Some Work.

"I guess their honeymoon is about over."

"Why?"

"She's quit telephoning to him during office hours."—Detroit Free Press.

Laws can discover sin, but not remove it.—Albion.
