Ladies and gentlemen in want of any kind of Hair Goods, who do not live in Toronto might be assured to get just as well suited as if they were right here, the distance does not make any difference. Please correspond with us and we will send you all particulars by return mail.

When ordering any style of Bangs, Wigs, Switches, etc., kindly send sample and amount enclosed. Goods exchanged, if not suited.

As we bought the entire stock of fine Switches from the late W. H. These prices are only offered until the entire stock mentioned above is sold. Now, ladies, do not lose your chance; now is the time. Send sample.

"CAPILLERINE," for successfully destroying superfluous hair. There is nothing better. Securely sealed and sent to any part of America on receipt of $2.00. ARMAND'S GREY HAIR COLORING in all shades. Send sample of your hair. Price, $1.25.

B. C. H.:—To intelligently treat a cactus one should know the habit of the plant. Some are quite hardy, while others are tender. Some require less water than others, yet they are plants that as a general rule can stand a good deal of hard usage. You will find an illustrated chapter on cacti in "Parlor Plants and Window Gardening," which will be sent you for 1s. (by post 1s. 2d.) or 25 cents.

HAZEL:—You will find the prepared walnut stain for the hair superior to that made at home.

GERMAN:—The article on Literature as a Professor for Women, by Agnes Repplier, which appeared in THE DELINEATOR for July, will give you the information desired. Thank your friend personally for giving a party in your honor.

GREEN:—In case a gentleman escorts a lady from church when some member of her family is present who might perform this service, she is under no obligation to him and so need not thank him. Upon returning from a theatre or concert she should say to her escort, "Thank you very much for a pleasant evening." The idea that thanks are out of place is erroneous.

Mrs. J. H.—It is customary to wear mourning for a parent one year, at least. A linen shirt-waist and skirt should not be worn in deep mourning, but a black skirt with a black lawn or India silk shirt-waist would be suitable.
