

95. When the absence of any officer, clerk or employee is not occasioned by his employment on other duties by the Government, by leave of absence, or on account of illness certified by an authorized medical practitioner, his salary for each day of such absence shall be deducted from his monthly salary; and the Head of the department, or Deputy Head, may, if he see fit, require such certificate, in any case, to be obtained from a medical practitioner appointed for that purpose by the Governor in Council, and in such case the charge therefor shall be paid out of the vote for the contingencies of the department. R. S. C., c. 17, s. 51 (3), amended.

TEMPORARY CLERKS.

96. When, from a temporary pressure of work or from any other cause, the assistance of temporary clerks becomes necessary, the Head of the department may—if he is satisfied that such necessity exists—on the requisition of the Deputy Head of the department, select from the persons who are eligible for nomination to any office mentioned in section fifty-one such number of temporary clerks as are required. R. S. C., c. 17, s. 47 (1), amended.

97. The rate of remuneration to be paid for temporary services shall not exceed the minimum salary of a third class clerk, unless the service to be performed is technical and requires special qualifications; and such temporary employment shall not be considered as giving any claim to permanent appointment. 51 Vic., c. 12, s. 11, part.

98. The temporary clerks so employed shall be paid by the day and only out of money voted by Parliament for such service or for payment of the contingencies of the department, branch or office of the Service in which such clerks are employed. R. S. C., c. 17, s. 47 (3), amended.

99. No one shall be employed as a temporary clerk for more than one month without the authority of an Order in Council, nor for more than six months in any one year.
