are seen everywhere. Heredity or overstudy renders them unfitted to cope with the responsibilities of life, susceptible to consumption or decline. Medicine has failed and must fail, for they need food. Take cold liver oil? No! Their poor stomachs rebel. Take conditive oil? No! They are equally distasteful. Nothing will effect a cure but Maltine with Cod Liver Oil. The oil, rendered putatable and easy of digestion, is quickly assimilated, and Maltine, equal in nutrition to the oil, and even surpassing it in energetic action upon the digestive processes, unite in producing increased weight, improved color, and that elasticity and buoyancy which herald returning health. Maltine with Cod Liver Oil has a remedial value ten times greater than emulsions. One of England's greatest physicians (Dr. Fothergill) says:—"There is no remedy that can take the place of Maltine in cases of Debility and Nervous P.-stration,"

JUNE. BY JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL And what is so rare as a day in June? Then, if ever, come perfect days; Then Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune, And over it softly her warm ear lays: Whether we look, or whether we listen, We hear life murmur, or see it glisten; Every clod feels a stir of might, And instinct within it that reaches and towers And, groping blindly above it for light, Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers; The flush of life may well be seen Thrilling back over hills and valleys; The cowslip startles in meadows green, The buttercup catches the sun in its chalice, And there's never a blade or a leaf too mean To be some happy creature's palace; The little bird sits at his door in the sun, Atilt like a biossom among the leaves, And let his illumined being o'errun With the deluge of summer it receives; His mate feels the eggs beneath her wings, And the heart in her dumb breast flutters and sings; He sings to the wide world, and she to her nest,-In the nice ear of Nature, which song is the best?
