Moderator conducted Mr. Hosie to the door of the church and introduced him to the congregation as they retired. The Presbytery then met with the Sessions and Boards of Management for conference respecting the affairs of the congregation. The Moderator introduced to them the newly-inducted pastor. Mr. Hosie having signified his readiness to sign the formula of adherence to the Confession of Faith, it was agreed to add his name to the roll of Presbytery. The Presbytery was closed with the benediction.

Thamesford,
Oct. 2, 1600.

At Thamesford, and within the vestry of St. Andrew's Church there, Tuesday, the second day of October, one thousand nine hundred years, and at two o'clock in the afternoon the Presbytery of London met for the purpose of inducting Mr. T. A. Watson into the pastoral charge there.

Sederunt.

In the absence of Mr. J. F. Scott, the Moderator, Dr. Johnston was called on to preside, and the Presbytery was duly constituted with prayer. Sederunt—Dr. Johnston, J. G. Stuart, W. J. Clark, J. Lindsay, ministers, and Mr. Jas. Patterson, elder.

Induction
T. A. Watson.

The edict was returned certified as having been read on two consecutive Sabbaths. Dr. Johnston read the usual proclamation to the assembled congregation. No objections having been offered, the Presbytery repaired to the church and proceeded to the induction. In the absence of Mr. D. R. Drummond, Mr. J. G. Stuart entered the pulpit, and after conducting devotional exercises preached an appropriate sermon from the third chapter of Malachi. After the sermon the Moderator briefly narrated the steps that had been taken towards filling the vacancy. The usual questions were then put to Mr. Watson by the Moderator. Satisfactory answers having been given, he did by prayer, in the name of the Presbytery induct him into the pastoral charge of the congregation, after which the brethren gave him the right hand of fellowship.

W. J. Clark suitably addressed the newly-inducted minister, and in absence of J. Steven, Dr. Johnston the people. After the benediction was pronounced Dr. Johnston accompanied Mr. Watson to the door of the church and introduced him to the congregation as they retired.

The members of Presbytery having re-assembled in the vestry, met with the Session and Managers and introduced Mr. Watson to them as their Moderator. Mr. Watson having promised to sign the formula when required, it was agreed that his name be added to the roll of Presbytery. The Presbytery then adjourned, Mr. Watson pronouncing the benediction.
