

THE LIME-KILN CLUB.

BROTHER GARDNER ADVOCATES THE USE OF PLAIN WORDS.

World Language is Inspiringly Condemned—The Present Condition of the Colored Race Set Forth—Valuable Information Collected for the Government.

"Gem'lon," began Brother Gardner as the regular Saturday night meeting of the Lime-Kiln Club was called to order with 213 members present, and Elder Toots ready for a two hours' nap, "let your conversashun be plain an' to de pint. Say what you mean, an' mean what you say. I has noticed a tendency on de part of certain members of dis club to affect de Shakespearean style. I want it stopped, it doan sound right in a man applyin' whitewash or stove blackin'. How many members of dis club know de meanin' of de term: 'Prognosticate towards de individuality?' an' yit I hear it uttered a dozen times a day. What's de use of a cull'd man airnin' ten shillin's a day remarkin' dat he expects to condescend to de irresponsible endeavor when he kin just as well observe dat black berries am down to fifteen cents a quart? If any of you have an ideah dat de use of sich words as bombastic, delirium tremens, Cicero, or inconsistency, elevates you in de mind of your naybur, you is greatly mistaken. When a man comes to me an' asks to borrow two tablespoonfuls of eighty-cent green tea, kase de preacher am gwine to be at his house to supper, let him spit it right out in plain English language, instead of beatin' round de woods an' luggin' in sich words as abdicat, reatation, Caesarism an' cahoots. If I had a son 20 y'ars ole, an' he should come hum wid his whitewash brush on his shoulder an' inform me dat de gratification ob de incontestable syntax had wid de w'n bombardment of de planetary desiderashun, I should riz up an' put my No. 12 agin' him wid sich auxiliary reprehensibility dat he would feel lame fur six weeks.

"I take dis opportunity to say dat I hev received a letter from Washington axin' me to furnish de gov'ment wid sich statim' ticks regardin' de cull'd race as wey ticks fur bin able to gather since de organization of de Lime-Kiln Club. De secretary has prepared an' inform' de followin' valuable slices of informashun:

"1. Gin a darkey a cocked hat an' a tin sword an' de noise of a drum, an' you kin lead him anywhar' you will.

"2. We can't see dat de color am bleachin' out any.

"3. We doan' know dat de black man has growed any wuss doarin' de las' twenty y'ars, an' we can't prove dat he has growed any better.

"4. Truth, honesty and industry am three great jewels hidden in de groun'. Looks like a heap of cull'd folks war' too lazy to dig down an' find 'em.

"5. Our religun am about de same, an' our pollyticks all mixed up.

"6. De inventive genius of de race haan't turned so much to de mechanism an' art as to plannin' how to make one day's work bring in a libin' fur de rest of de week.

"In case any of de members know of any furdur faeks b'arin' on de issue I should like to hear from him."

Sir Isaac Walpole thought he could see a great improvement in social etiquette. Colored brothers who formerly heaved brick-bats at him now raised their hats as they passed, and women who once went barefoot in their shoes now wore stockings costing six-bits.

Givendam Jones had seen a great change in his race in ten years. When a black man who never owned a fowl in his life had chicken pie three times a week the year 'round there was a combination of genius and progress which could not be kept down nor drowned out.

Waydown Beebe thought the colored man was more industrious than in former years. He had known lots of them to work hard all day for insignificant wages to get money to patronize policy shops and purchase lottery tickets.

Several other choice bits of information were cheerfully tendered, and the secretary was instructed to incorporate them and write his report in red ink.

"To hold de matter down inter syrup," added the President, "de cull'd man has got his liberty, but an' hungry an' ragged fo-fifths of the time. He has got de ballot, but de white folks has got de offices. He has got civil rights, but he haan't got de cash for a seat in de parkay circle or de palace kyar. Let us purposed to de bizness which has compounded us together."

A Good Story.

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name, but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since his wife, much to her alarm, found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged and went into hysterics. Explanations followed and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended to use the razor upon painful corns. A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use, with the following results: Man quite happy, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

His Difficulty.

Do you not sometimes have soulful yearnings which you long to convey in words, but cannot? asked the sentimental girl.

Yes, indeed, replied the young man. I was once dreadfully anxious to send home for money, and I didn't have the price of a telegram.

Truth is hid in great depths—the way to seek it does not appear to all the world.—Goethe.

No flattery, boy! An honest man can not live by it; it is a little sneaking art, which thrives upon to cajole and soften fools withal.—Otway.

THE TERRORS OF DYSPEPSIA.

A Disease That Makes the Life of its Victims Almost Unbearable.

A Sufferer For Years Tells How She Obtained Relief—A Bright Ray of Hope For Those Similarly Affected.

From the Bowmanville News.

The editor of the News, in company with Mr. Jury, of the well known firm of Stott & Jury, visited the home of Samuel Wood, in the township of Darlington, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars of another of those remarkable cures happily brought about by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It was Mrs. Wood who had thus been released from suffering and when the newspaper man made known his mission she said, "Yes I can give you a bright testimony in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I believe that if they did not save my life, they at all events released me from untold misery. Some three years ago dyspepsia came upon me in a severe form. I doctored with one of the local doctors for more than a year, but all the time was growing steadily worse. The medicine I took cost me a dollar a bottle, and the expenditure was worse than useless for it did me no good. Then my husband thought as I was growing worse, it would be better to try something else, as they felt that unless a change soon came I was doomed to live through the terrors of a dyspeptic's life. Sometimes I would be fairly doubled up with pain, and it seemed as if a knife was being thrust into me. I then tried a number of medicines recommended for dyspepsia, but none of them brought the hoped for relief. We had so often read of the remarkable cures achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I determined to give them a trial. I got a supply and before the second box was gone I found myself getting better. I continued the use of the pills until I had taken eleven boxes when I was fully recovered. This was a couple of years ago, and I have not now the least sign of dyspepsia." Mrs. Wood further said that her husband had been a victim of kidney trouble for a long time and had taken a great deal of medicine for it, but to no avail. When it was seen that Pink Pills were doing his wife so much good, Mr. Wood determined to try them, and they acted like a charm as he is now entirely free from his complaint, and he attributed all to the use of Pink Pills and would not be without them in the house.

Messrs. Stott & Jury informed the News that Pink Pills have enormous sale. They have handled Pink Pills for years and say that they cannot recall a single instance in which a customer came back and said they were not perfectly satisfied with the results. This is certainly a remarkable record, but then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, is a remarkable medicine, and cures when other medicines fail.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and had of all druggists or direct by mail by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

The truest mark of being born with great qualities is being born without envy.—Rochefoucauld.

There is more than sentiment in the saying of Sir Walter Raleigh to his executor, "What matters it about the head if the heart is right?" The trouble is that in this high pressure age the heart is seldom kept right. By careful estimate it is calculated that one person of every four or five has a weak or diseased heart. Think for a moment the important work that the heart has to perform, and it is not difficult to realize what a dangerous ailment, even to a slight extent, of this organ cure for heart troubles, and nothing else. It is a mistake to suppose that remedies that are given out as panaceas for all the ills that flesh is heir to can effectively cure heart disease. Within 30 minutes after taking the first dose of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, relief is secured, and eventually, complete restoration is effected.

The volume of exhibits this season will be larger and more diversified than ever before, and special attractions of a brilliant and exciting character will be presented, including the novel military spectacle "The Relief of Lucknow," with gorgeous Oriental accessories and pyrotechnic effects on a scale of grandeur and variety hitherto unequalled. Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites because they find their patients can tolerate it for a long time, as it does not upset the stomach nor derange the digestion like the plain oil.

Scott's Emulsion is as much easier to digest than the plain oil as milk is easier to digest than butter. Besides, the fish-fat taste is taken out of the oil, and it is almost palatable. The way sickly children, emaciated, anæmic and consumptive adults, gain flesh on Scott's Emulsion is very remarkable.

Walter! Beefsteak, Ham and Eggs, for One.

"God gave us meat, but the devil gave us cooks," is a trite saying. From bad cooking, fast eating and overeating comes a whole train of diseases—indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, catarrh of the stomach, headache, dizziness, and the like. God also gave us a brainy man, who compounded the "Golden Medical Discovery," a corrective of all the ills resulting from overheating and bad blood. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, has furnished in the "Discovery," a great desideratum in America, where everybody is in such a hurry to make money, they have no time to eat, and scarcely any time to live. It invigorates the liver, cleanses the blood and tones up the system.
