

VOL. XIX

Profession Cards

C. F. HAMILTON, LL. B., Barrister, Notary Public, etc.
NO. 111, RYAN'S BUILDING,
NORTH SYDNEY, C.B.

H. H. MURRAY, LL. B.,
Barrister, Notary Public, etc.
HEAD OFFICE, SYDNEY, C.B.
Branch Office, Sydney, C.B., North Sydney, C.B.

MURRAY & MCKENZIE,
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, &
NOTARIES, etc.,
NORTH SYDNEY, C.B.
McKenzie's Building,
G. H. MURRAY, D. MCKENZIE.

HISHELM & CROWE,
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, &
NOTARIES, etc.,
SYDNEY, C.B.
OFFICE: Corner Charles and Dargavel Streets, SOUTH SYDNEY, N. S. W.

BLOWERS ARCHIBALD,
BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, AND NOTARY PUBLIC,
Fire Insurance Agent,
Archibald & Co's Building,
NORTH SYDNEY, C.B.

D. HEARN,
BARRISTER, AND ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
ARCHIBALD, C.B.

J. H. HEARN,
Barrister and Attorney-at-Law, Notary Public, Conveyancer, Office under French Club Office,
SYDNEY, C.B.

JOHN A. MCDONALD,
BARRISTER, AND ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SOLICITOR,
CONVEYANCER,
BARRACK.

MAGDOY, PEARSON, & FORBES,
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, &
NOTARIES, etc.,
SOLICITORS IN ADMIRALTY,
Moss: Cor. Sackville & Granville Sts., HALIFAX.

W. F. MCGILL, J. P. PEARSON, F. O. FORBES, SOLICITORS & NOTARIES-PUBLIC, Sydney, C.B. - Nova Scotia
Branch Office: St. Peter's, C.B.

DR. Wm. McK. McLEOD,
M.D., Specialist in Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Nose and Throat, and Skin, Office: 111, RYAN'S BUILDING,
NORTH SYDNEY, C.B.

ARCHIBALD & CO.
GENERAL AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS
SHIP BROKERS,
Agents for sale of Sydney Coal and Proprietors of Gouvie Coal Mines.
Agents for North Sydney Marine Railway.

W. B. REYNOLDS & CO.
IMPORTERS OF
HARDWARE,
Iron and Steel,
Contractors' Supplies,
Gold Mining Supplies,
Colliery supplies,
We offer also at lowest wholesale prices.

W. B. Reynolds & Co.,
MINING AGENCY,
205, 206 & 207, WATERLOO STREET, SYDNEY, N. S. W.

OATS IN STORE
2000 Bush
CHOICE OATS
Also
Few Pancheons and Barrels Retailing Molasses,
For Sale by
D. A. SMITH,
5 Central Wharf
BOSTON

Why Use
THE OLD FASHIONED PICKLE DYES That require no vinegar, when you can get

ECLIPSE
DYES
Which are the newest and best, and only require water, by different colors in Eclipse dyes same price as old fashioned Pickle Dyes
- 30 c a package.

J. S. ROBERTSON & CO., 50 St. Peter St., Montreal.

She Placed
the can of BAKING POW-DER under the stove, and the AMMONIA in a few moments betrayed its presence.

She Now Uses
WOODILL'S
German BAKING
POWDER
And So Should You!

Business cards.

"The Haberdasher"
39 to 411, Hollis St., - Halifax N.S.
FINE GENTS PURSUINGS.
CUSTOM SHIRT MAKING.
Samples of the newest shirting furnished on application.
A. E. McMANUS,
Merchant Tailor.

Lumber, Laths, etc.
This undertaking having purchased the remaining stock of Lumber, Cedar and Spruce Shingles, Laths, &c., of the late firm of Sator, Hodgson & Co., and having received by recent arrivals additional stock, now forming a good assortment of wood goods, offers the same for sale at the old yard, near Ballina Quay, at reasonable rates for prompt payment.
SIXTY SEVEN, WATER,
North Sydney June 7, 1887.

Clark & Cox,
House, Ship and Sign Painters, (Opposite W. H. Moore & Co.'s Store),
NORTH SYDNEY, C.B.
Orders respectfully solicited, and prompt attention to CHARGE MODERATE.
SYDNEY AND NORTH SYDNEY

UNDERTAKING.
Having bought from McKean, Moore & Co. their entire stock of Caskets, Coffins, Coffin Trimmings, &c., I am now prepared to give personal and prompt attention to all orders for any thing in this line. Having the largest stock of these goods in Cape Breton, I can fill any order at an hour's notice.
Prices of Men's and Women's sizes from $7.00 to $20.00. Children's $2.00 to $5.00, already trimmed or cheaper ones can be made up to suit if the dress. Orders can be addressed to Mackean, Moore & Co., or to myself.

THOS. RUDDEHAM,
NORTH SYDNEY, C.B.

New Goods!
NORTH SYDNEY
Tailoring Establishment Now open and ready for inspection the best assortment of English and Scotch goods ever imported to this country, comprising Diagonals, Black and Blue, English, French, and Tweed, in latest shades, and the latest in Nap Sargens, Call and examine before purchasing the call.

D. LAWLOR & SON
Perfect Fitting Guaranteed.
Call and examine before purchasing the
call.

Musgrave & Dooley
HAVE ON HAND
Coffins & Caskets.
At the above establishment will be found a first-class Hearse, as well as Coffins and Caskets of every description, and all orders for any articles requiring anything in this line will be met with the greatest promptness and accuracy.

De Long & Seaman,
COMMISSION
Merchants and Shipping Wholesale Dealers in FLOUR, MEAL, PROVIS-IONS, CANADIAN FLOUR
IN BOND
RECEIVERS OF
Fish, Lumber, & Canned Goods on Consignment.
5 Central Wharf
BOSTON

FISH.
I make a specialty of handling FRESH AND FROZEN
HADDOCK, COD, SMELTS, Etc.
Open to buy or receive on consignment.
Prices on application.

L. A. GORDON,
Commission Merchant,
MONTREAL.

JOSEPH STEWART,
Steam and Hot Water Engineer,
NEW GLASGOW, N. S.

Plumbing & Pipe Jobbing.
Orders from any part of Cape Breton promptly attended to.
Estimates furnished for Heating Dwellings and Public Buildings by Hot Water Circulation or Steam.

Lumber, Hay, Oats, etc.
By Schr. Sarah P. Ayer and other Vessels:
Hemlock and Pine Boards, Fine Pine Lumber,
Planed Spruce Flooring, & Matched Spruce,
LATHS,
Cedar Shingles,
Cedar Posts.

FOR SALE: WHOLESALE.
JOSEPH SALTER.

BRONCHITIS

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 28.—With the onset of the cold season on both hands and feet, James Quinn, an old man, lay on a cot in the Philadelphia Hospital, suffering from wounds self-inflicted while seeking to escape himself from his hour was given by his persecutors. Though the pain of the wounds must have been intense, the old man seemed not to mind it, but to suffer from mental agony over imaginary sins. He clasped his hands in constant prayer in penance for past misdeeds.

Ayer's
Cherry Pectoral
C. O. Lapper, Druggist, Port Wayne, Ind., writes: "My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skillful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine, saying he was afraid she would die. I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This indubitable evidence of the great merit of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has given me unbounded confidence in the preparation, and I recommend it to my customers, knowing it cannot disappoint them."

Young Children,
so that the medicine is known among them as "the consolator of the afflicted."—Alma Rufus Vidal, San Francisco, Cal., writes:
"A short time ago, I was taken with a severe attack of bronchitis. The remedies ordinarily used in such cases failed to give me relief. Almost in despair of ever finding anything to cure me, I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was helped from the disease. I had not finished one bottle before the disease left me, and my throat and lungs were as sound as ever." Geo. B. Hunter, Altona, N. B.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists. Price 25¢ a bottle, 50¢ a dozen.

COMMERCIAL UNION INSURANCE CO.
(LIMITED) OF LONDON.
CAPITAL, $1,500,000.
G. H. MURRAY, AGENT.
FOUNDED 1792. - CAPITAL $3,000,000.

INSURANCE CO.
North America.
202 Water St., Philadelphia, Penn.
FIRE, MARINE AND INLAND INSURANCE

ALFRED J. BELL, GEO. MCKEAN
Agents, Halifax, Agent, North Sydney

FIRE INSURANCE
Eastern Assurance Co.
OF CANADA
HEAD OFFICE, HALIFAX
CAPITAL, $1,000,000.

Risks on all Classes of Property, taken at Lowest Current Rates.
BLOWERS ARCHIBALD, Agent
Office in Archibald's Building, North Sydney Cape Breton.

IMPERIAL
Fire Insurance Co
OF LONDON.
Established 1803
SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL: $1,200,000, 000 TOTAL INVESTED FUNDS: $5,000,000 $1,600,000 or $8,000,000 RISKS TAKEN AT LOWEST CURRENT RATES. LOSSES PROMPTLY SET-TLED.
J. E. BURCHELL,
AGENT AT SYDNEY.

London & Lancashire
FIRE INSURANCE CO.
OF LIVERPOOL, Eng.
Capital, £1,250,000
Head Office for N. S. P. E., HALIFAX ALFRED SHORT, Gen. Agent.

The above responsible British office is prepared to accept insurances against fire on almost all descriptions of property at current rates.
Dwellings, Churches, Schools, Factories, Academies and Convents insured for three years at double the yearly premium. Losses are liberally settled from the head office in Halifax without reference to agents.

BLOWERS ARCHIBALD, Agent.
Office in Archibald's Building, North Sydney
No. 202, Feb. 1st '90.

THE
Liverpool & London & Globe
INSURANCE CO.
Assets in Canada 1889, $1,131,269.76
Fire! Lightning! Annuities! Life Liberal Policies and Prompt Payments.
Lowest Current Rates
Head Office: St. John N. B.

W. M. JARVIS,
General Agent,
D. A. SMITH, Agent,
North Sydney.

WATER
CURE FOR COLIC, CHOLERA, & HOARSENESS, ETC.

CRUELTY HIMSELF AS PENANCE FOR IM-AGINARY SIN.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 28.—With
the onset of the cold season on both
hands and feet, James Quinn, an old
man, lay on a cot in the Philadelphia Hospital, suffering from
wounds self-inflicted while seeking to
escape himself from his hour was given
by his persecutors. Though the
pain of the wounds must have been intense, the old man seemed not to mind
it, but to suffer from mental agony
over imaginary sins. He clasped his
hands in constant prayer in penance
for past misdeeds.

Quinn's attempt at self-cruelty in penance for imaginary sins, which is only the second instance of its kind known, came as the culmination of long religious brooding and other troubles which have been his since he lives at 1104 Melville street, a little thoroughfare near Eleventh and Chestnut streets, and is sixty-four years old. Formerly he worked as a sawyer, but had to give up because of injuries to his hands, and for some time he has been able to do very little for gain. He has been a religious enthusiast, but his faith has never seen any reason to suppose that his monomania on this subject would lead him to such a course of self-cruelty.

For the past week he has been unusually wild in his religious ideas and on Thursday night the climax came. "The devil was in me," he said, "and I could not sleep, so I began his preparations for his astonishing performance. Roughly marking out the form of a cross on the floor, and procuring an old hammer and some nails, he was ready for his self-sacrifice.

Placing a nail upon his right foot, a sharp blow from the hammer drove it clear through. Almost in despair of any success, he was, however, happily sounded, knowing that it would wound his mother, son or daughter. Another nail was driven into his left foot, and the blow from the hammer failed to drive it through. It struck a toe in which it became imbedded. Laying his left hand upon his forehead, he, with the palm upward, drove a third nail into the flesh. While seeking to drive a fourth nail into his right hand, which must necessarily have been a very difficult operation considering the laboration of his other hand. The nail was only slightly imbedded. The nail was driven from the left hand and right foot, but it was not until he had struck so fast in the bone that it could not be removed.

Word was sent in the morning to Dr.
D. J. Long, a physician, to come to the man to visit him, and he did so at 10 wards. He found him trying to get the nail out of his foot using some rough instrument. The doctor made the same attempt with an old piece of plaster, which broke the nail off in the flesh. This made it necessary to take the nail out of the foot. The doctor where Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was obliged to cut deep into the bone to reach the broken nail.

While the doctor was engaged in this painful work, during which Quinn was so insensible, the latter prayed constantly and fervently, begging forgiveness for his inhuman sins. Finally he became so violent in his actions that a police patrol wagon was sent for and he was taken to the Philadelphia Hospital. At the Philadelphia Hospital, Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

While the doctor was engaged in this
painful work, during which Quinn
was so insensible, the latter prayed
constantly and fervently, begging forgiveness for his inhuman sins. Finally
he became so violent in his actions
that a police patrol wagon was sent for
and he was taken to the Philadelphia
Hospital. At the Philadelphia Hospital, Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

Quinn's attempt at self-cruelty in
penance for imaginary sins, which is only the second instance of its kind known, came as the culmination
of long religious brooding and other
troubles which have been his since
he lives at 1104 Melville street, a
little thoroughfare near Eleventh and Chestnut streets, and is sixty-four years old. Formerly he worked as a
sawyer, but had to give up because of
injuries to his hands, and for some
time he has been able to do very little
for gain. He has been a religious
enthusiast, but his faith has never seen
any reason to suppose that his mono-
mania on this subject would lead him
to such a course of self-cruelty.

For the past week he has been unusually wild in his religious ideas and on Thursday night the climax came. "The devil was in me," he said, "and I could
not sleep, so I began his preparations for
his astonishing performance. Roughly
marking out the form of a cross on
the floor, and procuring an old
hammer and some nails, he was
ready for his self-sacrifice.

Placing a nail upon his right foot, a sharp blow from the hammer drove it
clear through. Almost in despair of any
success, he was, however, happily
sounded, knowing that it would wound
his mother, son or daughter. Another
nail was driven into his left foot, and
the blow from the hammer failed to drive it through. It struck a toe in which it became imbedded. Laying his
left hand upon his forehead, he, with
the palm upward, drove a third nail
into the flesh. While seeking to drive
a fourth nail into his right hand, which
must necessarily have been a very difficult operation considering the labora-
tion of his other hand. The nail was
only slightly imbedded. The nail was
driven from the left hand and right
foot, but it was not until he had struck
so fast in the bone that it could not be removed.

Word was sent in the morning to Dr.
D. J. Long, a physician, to come to the
man to visit him, and he did so at 10
wards. He found him trying to get
the nail out of his foot using some
rough instrument. The doctor made
the same attempt with an old piece of
plaster, which broke the nail off in the flesh. This made it necessary to take
the nail out of the foot. The doctor
where Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

While the doctor was engaged in this
painful work, during which Quinn
was so insensible, the latter prayed
constantly and fervently, begging forgiveness for his inhuman sins. Finally
he became so violent in his actions
that a police patrol wagon was sent for
and he was taken to the Philadelphia
Hospital. At the Philadelphia Hospital, Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

Quinn's attempt at self-cruelty in
penance for imaginary sins, which is only the second instance of its kind known, came as the culmination
of long religious brooding and other
troubles which have been his since
he lives at 1104 Melville street, a
little thoroughfare near Eleventh and Chestnut streets, and is sixty-four years old. Formerly he worked as a
sawyer, but had to give up because of
injuries to his hands, and for some
time he has been able to do very little
for gain. He has been a religious
enthusiast, but his faith has never seen
any reason to suppose that his mono-
mania on this subject would lead him
to such a course of self-cruelty.

For the past week he has been unusually wild in his religious ideas and on Thursday night the climax came. "The devil was in me," he said, "and I could
not sleep, so I began his preparations for
his astonishing performance. Roughly
marking out the form of a cross on
the floor, and procuring an old
hammer and some nails, he was
ready for his self-sacrifice.

Placing a nail upon his right foot, a sharp blow from the hammer drove it
clear through. Almost in despair of any
success, he was, however, happily
sounded, knowing that it would wound
his mother, son or daughter. Another
nail was driven into his left foot, and
the blow from the hammer failed to drive it through. It struck a toe in which it became imbedded. Laying his
left hand upon his forehead, he, with
the palm upward, drove a third nail
into the flesh. While seeking to drive
a fourth nail into his right hand, which
must necessarily have been a very difficult operation considering the labora-
tion of his other hand. The nail was
only slightly imbedded. The nail was
driven from the left hand and right
foot, but it was not until he had struck
so fast in the bone that it could not be removed.

Word was sent in the morning to Dr.
D. J. Long, a physician, to come to the
man to visit him, and he did so at 10
wards. He found him trying to get
the nail out of his foot using some
rough instrument. The doctor made
the same attempt with an old piece of
plaster, which broke the nail off in the flesh. This made it necessary to take
the nail out of the foot. The doctor
where Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

While the doctor was engaged in this
painful work, during which Quinn
was so insensible, the latter prayed
constantly and fervently, begging forgiveness for his inhuman sins. Finally
he became so violent in his actions
that a police patrol wagon was sent for
and he was taken to the Philadelphia
Hospital. At the Philadelphia Hospital, Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

Quinn's attempt at self-cruelty in
penance for imaginary sins, which is only the second instance of its kind known, came as the culmination
of long religious brooding and other
troubles which have been his since
he lives at 1104 Melville street, a
little thoroughfare near Eleventh and Chestnut streets, and is sixty-four years old. Formerly he worked as a
sawyer, but had to give up because of
injuries to his hands, and for some
time he has been able to do very little
for gain. He has been a religious
enthusiast, but his faith has never seen
any reason to suppose that his mono-
mania on this subject would lead him
to such a course of self-cruelty.

For the past week he has been unusually wild in his religious ideas and on Thursday night the climax came. "The devil was in me," he said, "and I could
not sleep, so I began his preparations for
his astonishing performance. Roughly
marking out the form of a cross on
the floor, and procuring an old
hammer and some nails, he was
ready for his self-sacrifice.

Placing a nail upon his right foot, a sharp blow from the hammer drove it
clear through. Almost in despair of any
success, he was, however, happily
sounded, knowing that it would wound
his mother, son or daughter. Another
nail was driven into his left foot, and
the blow from the hammer failed to drive it through. It struck a toe in which it became imbedded. Laying his
left hand upon his forehead, he, with
the palm upward, drove a third nail
into the flesh. While seeking to drive
a fourth nail into his right hand, which
must necessarily have been a very difficult operation considering the labora-
tion of his other hand. The nail was
only slightly imbedded. The nail was
driven from the left hand and right
foot, but it was not until he had struck
so fast in the bone that it could not be removed.

Word was sent in the morning to Dr.
D. J. Long, a physician, to come to the
man to visit him, and he did so at 10
wards. He found him trying to get
the nail out of his foot using some
rough instrument. The doctor made
the same attempt with an old piece of
plaster, which broke the nail off in the flesh. This made it necessary to take
the nail out of the foot. The doctor
where Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

While the doctor was engaged in this
painful work, during which Quinn
was so insensible, the latter prayed
constantly and fervently, begging forgiveness for his inhuman sins. Finally
he became so violent in his actions
that a police patrol wagon was sent for
and he was taken to the Philadelphia
Hospital. At the Philadelphia Hospital, Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

Quinn's attempt at self-cruelty in
penance for imaginary sins, which is only the second instance of its kind known, came as the culmination
of long religious brooding and other
troubles which have been his since
he lives at 1104 Melville street, a
little thoroughfare near Eleventh and Chestnut streets, and is sixty-four years old. Formerly he worked as a
sawyer, but had to give up because of
injuries to his hands, and for some
time he has been able to do very little
for gain. He has been a religious
enthusiast, but his faith has never seen
any reason to suppose that his mono-
mania on this subject would lead him
to such a course of self-cruelty.

For the past week he has been unusually wild in his religious ideas and on Thursday night the climax came. "The devil was in me," he said, "and I could
not sleep, so I began his preparations for
his astonishing performance. Roughly
marking out the form of a cross on
the floor, and procuring an old
hammer and some nails, he was
ready for his self-sacrifice.

Placing a nail upon his right foot, a sharp blow from the hammer drove it
clear through. Almost in despair of any
success, he was, however, happily
sounded, knowing that it would wound
his mother, son or daughter. Another
nail was driven into his left foot, and
the blow from the hammer failed to drive it through. It struck a toe in which it became imbedded. Laying his
left hand upon his forehead, he, with
the palm upward, drove a third nail
into the flesh. While seeking to drive
a fourth nail into his right hand, which
must necessarily have been a very difficult operation considering the labora-
tion of his other hand. The nail was
only slightly imbedded. The nail was
driven from the left hand and right
foot, but it was not until he had struck
so fast in the bone that it could not be removed.

Word was sent in the morning to Dr.
D. J. Long, a physician, to come to the
man to visit him, and he did so at 10
wards. He found him trying to get
the nail out of his foot using some
rough instrument. The doctor made
the same attempt with an old piece of
plaster, which broke the nail off in the flesh. This made it necessary to take
the nail out of the foot. The doctor
where Dr. Frank A. Gunnison was
obliged to cut deep into the bone to
reach the broken nail.

MENT SLEEP IN THE BARN.

Staff-Surgeon Parry, while serving in India during the mutiny, saw a strange sight Among the prisoners taken in a skirmish at Chanda was a spy of the Bengal army.
He was brought before the authorities, and put to the question. Fully alive to his position, the Bengalee stood almost stupefied with fear, trembling greatly, with horror and despair depicted on his countenance.
While the examination was proceeding, the spy suddenly exclaimed, "I am turning grey!" All eyes were turned on the unfortunate man, watching with wonder and interest the change coming upon his splendid jet-black locks. In half an hour they were of a uniform greyish hue.

Some years ago a young lady who was anxious awaiting the coming of her husband, received a letter conveying the intelligence of his shipwreck and death. She instantly fell to the ground insensible, and so remained for five hours.
On the following morning her sister saw that her hair, which had been previously of a rich brown color, had become as white as snow to each other all the way to Mill Creek. The woman's husband sat silently by and eyed the love-making dearly, until the destination was reached, and the two lovers actually kissed each other good-by.

This settled it. When the coach reached this place the husband, who had not said a word to his wife, escorted her to her home, locked the doors, and in the presence of their children gave her a good old-fashioned thrashing with the family switch.

Of course the fine feelings of the flirting wife were outraged. She became so incensed at the indignity that she went to Justice James Kelly yesterday and swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest. An officer called at the house and took him before the justice, where he was charged with assault and battery.

The judge listened to all the testimony presented with the closest attention. The accused put in the idea of justification, and called the stage driver to testify to the love-making performance.
After all the testimony had been carefully considered, Justice Kelly arose and said with all the coolness of a steeplechaser:

"The verdict of the court is that the plaintiff return to her usual place of abode and lock the doors so that no strangers can be admitted for a period of six days; that the husband for the same length of time board with his best neighbour and sleep in the barn, and that each party pay half the cost of the proceedings, the defendant being compelled to comply with it."

Last night the craftless husband made a bed in his barn. For down he had to have the gentle breathing of the kine about his head, and he had to sleep, but it didn't. His mind was greatly troubled, and the hours wore on apace. He was so restless that he got up in the middle of the night, and the soft light in the east heralded approach of another day. He sat long eyes toward his comfortable home, but there was no "sweet face at the window" for him.

This evening about 9 o'clock one of his neighbors asserts that the ostracized husband became desperate and started for the house with the intention of "making up," and the following dialogue was heard:

"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."

"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."

"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."

"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."

"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."

"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."

"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in, you go away; go out
to the barn where you belong."
"Oh, say, let me in, will you?"
"I'll never let you in