

FRED GLOW, Jeweller,

FARMERSVILLE, O.

FINE ASSORTMENT OF

Gents' and Ladies' Gold and Silver Watches.

WOMEN.

When Eve brought woe to all mankind, Old Adam called her wo-man;
But when she woe'd with love so kind,
He then pronounced her wo-MAN.
But now, with folly and with pride,
Their husbands' pockets trimming,
The ladies are so full of WHIMS
The people call them WHIM-MEN.

LARGE ARRIVALS!

OF NEW SPRING DRY GOODS, AT THE POPULAR BROCKVILLE DRY GOODS STORE.
LOWEST PRICES!
ALL OUR NEW SPRING GOODS ARE NOW MARKED AT A VERY SMALL ADVANCE ON COST, WHICH MEANS AN INCREASED TRADE IN EVERY DEPARTMENT.

LADIES, PLEASE NOTE!

THAT YOU WILL SAVE MONEY BY COMING DIRECT TO US FOR NEW GOODS.
IN DRESS GOODS!
WE SHOW MAGNIFICENT VALUE. OUR BLACK CASHMERE ARE BETTER VALUE THAN EVER BEFORE.
BE SURE AND SEE THEM!
WE REFER TO OUR SILKS, FEELING CERTAIN THAT WE CAN OFFER BETTER VALUE THAN ELSEWHERE.
FOR RIGHT VALUE!
COME DIRECT TO US FOR YOUR DRY GOODS.
MR. FORD MANSELL
WILL BE HAPPY TO ATTEND TO HIS FARMERSVILLE FRIENDS.

THOS. BRADY, - Merrill Block, - BROCKVILLE.

C. M. BABCOCK'S DRY GOODS STORE

Noted For Superior Goods and Low Prices.

All-wool Black Cashmeres at 80c. per yd. Union Cashmeres, black and colored, at 25c. All-wool French Dress Goods at 12c. A special line of high-all-wool Dress Goods, in black and colors, at 25c. Flannel Cloth Dress Goods at 7c, 8c, 9c, and 10c. In Black and Colored Silks no House in the Town can compare for Value and Variety. See my Grey Flannel at 20c. per yd. For Shirtings, White and Grey Cottons, Sheetings, Table Linens, Napkins, Towels, and Towellings, I can offer you the Best Choice and Value.
Ladies, Mens and Children's Underwear in endless variety. Ladies' 4-buttoned, heavy-stitched Black Kid Gloves, commencing at 50c. My stock of Hosiery is complete in every line and price.

THE MANTLE DEPARTMENT is stocked with all kinds of Mantles, Mantle Cloths and Trimmings. All Cloth Cut and Fitted free and fit Guaranteed.

THE MILLINERY ROOMS are now open, and stocked with all the Latest Novelties in Trimmings and Untrimmed Goods—birds, flowers, feathers and trimmings of every description. Miss Whelan, who has charge of this Department, will welcome all who may favor her with a call.
I cordially invite all when in Brockville to visit my store, and I will show them the Largest Stock of Dress Goods, Mantles and Millinery kept in Brockville.

C. M. BABCOCK, Merrill Block.

A. N. SHERMAN, Farmersville

MANUFACTURER OF
Cheese Vats, Cheese Hoops, Cheese Presses, Cisterns, Sap Tubs, &c.

THE "CHAMPION" FIELD ROLLER.

I also beg to announce that I am prepared to contract for Fitting up Factory Boilers and Plant And from my varied experience in cheese factory work, I can confidently guarantee satisfaction.

A. N. SHERMAN, Farmersville.

STOVES AT COST

IN ORDER TO CLEAR OUT STOCK AT The Farmersville Stove Depot.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF CHEESE FACTORY AND SUGAR-MAKING APPARATUS AND UTENSILS.

ALL WORK WARRANTED TO GIVE SATISFACTION.

A new and attractive assortment of BIRD CAGES Just Received—the handsomest cages ever seen in Farmersville. Our new arrivals of PRESSED WARE are cheap and good.

W. F. EARL.

FOR SALE FOR SALE.

A No. 20 Double-door J. & J. Taylor FIRE PROOF SAFE,
In First-class Order. Will be sold at a bargain, as the owners will shortly remove to Comstock's Block, where there is ample vault accommodation.

DEWEY & BUCKMAN, Brockville.

$5.00 for $3.50.

CABINET PHOTOS

Reduced from $5.00 to $3.50 per dozen. Best work in Canada. Pictures copied and enlarged Cheaper and Better. Call and see work. Latest Improvements in the business. One Price to all.

R. H. GAMBLE, Photographer, Court House Square, Brockville, Ont.

CARD OF THANKS.

TO THE DIRECTORS OF THE
The Dominion Grange Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
GENTLEMEN.—I have to thank you for the honorable payment of my claim of $400, for loss of my horse and its contents on January 19th ult., insured in your company under policy 1418. The claim has been paid by check cheerfully, without any deductions whatever, and I can confidently recommend your company to the favorable consideration of the farmers in this section of the country. I have also to thank Mr. Theo. Moore, your agent at Farmersville, and Mr. Robert Sheppard, your agent at Gananoque, for the interest they have taken and sympathy displayed with me in my loss, as my insurance does not nearly cover the loss which I have sustained.

JOHN JACOB,
Lyndhurst, March 1, 1888.

Early Arrivals

SPRING GOODS

P. WILTSE'S.

WE BEG TO ANNOUNCE TO OUR NUMEROUS PATRONS THAT, ALTHOUGH IT IS EARLY IN THE SEASON, WE HAVE PLACED IN STOCK MANY LINES THAT ARE NOW IN CONSTANT DEMAND.

Excellent Value
IN
Grey and White Cottons, Cottonades, Denims,
Shirtings, Gingham, Seersuckers, Chambray,
and Prints.

Full Lines
OF
Tweeds, Suitings,
and Paintings.

CLEARING SALE

OF BOOTS AND SHOES.

Fresh Groceries and A 1
Value in Teas.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS: Thanking you for past favors, and asking for a continuance of the same, we shall endeavor to serve you to our mutual advantage.
Respectfully yours,
PHIL. WILTSE.

THE REPORTER

Guaranteed Circulation, 750.

FARMERSVILLE, MAR. 27, 1888.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS THIS WEEK

See Pros. Addition—Moving buildings.
Robt. Wright & Co. Boxes etc.—Laces carriage, Lusk & Patterson, Brockville—New spring tires goods.

LOCAL NEWS.

Lucius Seely, an old resident of Kitley, died at his son's residence, on the 19th inst.

Toledo has a watch and clock repairing shop, with Mr. Adam McCann proprietor.

The bill to abolish toll-gates has been laid over by the local Legislature until next session.

Go to A. Parish & Son's for wall paper. Prices away down—some as low as 9c per roll.

On Monday, 19th inst., the electors of Gananoque decided by a majority of 66 against a five years' contract for lighting the town with the electric light.

In the Ontario Estimates for the present year under the heading of Colonization Roads appears the item of $800 to improve the Perth road in North Crosby.

Our readers are respectfully requested to send in items of interest from their localities. Reports of accidents, fires, or items of special interest may be telegraphed up from the nearest office, at our expense.

Some weeks ago Miss Sarah Breen lost a valuable gold earring. A notice was put in the REPORTER and during the late that the missing article was found and returned. Another proof that it pays to advertise.

Mr. W. Simpson, who died at Carleton Place recently at the age of 102 years, had a large number of descendants—11 children, 92 grand children, 186 great grand children, and 6 great great grand children. Of this total 295, 254 survive her.

A wide awake, reliable correspondent wanted for the REPORTER at Frankville, Toledo, Lyndhurst and Mallory town. Parties in those localities willing to take upon themselves the onerous duties of a correspondent will be offered special inducements.

Last week two very fine grade shorthorn cattle, one three and the other two years old, arrived at the stables of Mr. E. D. Wilson & Son, to be slaughtered for Easter beef.

Yesterday morning they were taken to the weigh scales, and tipped the beam at 1,980 pounds. They are undoubtedly the finest pair of beef cattle ever brought to the village. The animals are from one of Orilla.

Newboro is to have an Entrance Examination, in affiliation with Gan-anoque High School. This will give schools in the rear of the county greater advantages in passing pupils into the high school. Out of 65 candidates who passed at Farmersville and Gananoque at the last examinations, 44 were from Mr. Johnston's district.

Mr. Alex. Thompson of Caintown, is meeting with most gratifying success in introducing his patent milk separator and cooler. Orders are pouring in from every quarter, and Mr.
Thompson is, we think, to be congratulated upon having struck an idea which will largely benefit the dairy interests of the country, and at the same time be a source of deserved profit to the inventor.

The annual educational sermons were preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday, by the Rev. Mr. Allen, pastor of the Wall Street Church of Brockville. At the morning service, after a most eloquent sermon bearing especially on the subject of education, the preacher asked for a large increase over last year's subscription to the Educational Fund. A subscription list was passed around, and the congregation responded liberally. The evening service was attended by a large number of young people, the sermon being addressed especially to them. The discourse was a very practical talk on the subject of education, setting forth the importance of a good education, and pointing out the opportunities of acquiring useful knowledge which were possessed by everyone in this age and in this country.

The Rev. Geo. F. Rogers preached in the Wall Street Methodist Church, Brockville, on Sunday.

E. McLean has some very fine blocks from Mr. Cornell's quarry piled in his marble yards, ready to be converted into bases for monuments.

Over 100 persons have become members of our Mechanics' Institute.
We understand that as soon as the finances will admit, a further supply of books will be ordered.

In the vote on Mr. Waters' bill to extend the franchise to women in the Ontario legislature, which was defeated on its second reading by 30 to 46, Messrs. Fraser, Preston and French all voted against the measure.

Preparations have been going steadily on during the winter for the erection of a large number of new buildings in the village the coming season. Our mechanics report the prospect of as lively times in the building line as last season.

The new lodge of Oddfellows at Toledo will be instituted by Grand Master Reid on this (Tuesday) evening.
A large number of brethren from Farmersville, Brockville, Smith Falls, Perth and other places are expected to be present and assist in the ceremonies.

The death is announced at his home near Rochester, N. Y., of Prof. L. B.
Arnold, well known throughout Canada for the deep interest he took in the scientific production of cheese.
Prof. Arnold was one season instructor at the factories in this section under the Eastern Dairyman's Association.

The Presbyterians of Newbliss, a village about half way between Toledo and Irish Creek, have decided to build a new church at that place.
Mr. Jones, although not a member of the church, has generously donated a site, valued at $100 and offered to draw all the brick needed for one half of the building.

A large quantity of stone, from the quarry of Frank Cornell, has been laid out in the village during the past few weeks. The stone from Mr. Cor-nell's quarries is in large demand, it being a beautiful grey sandstone, and is used for building材, vertical into bases, door sills, corners or other building requisites.

Rev. Jas. Pallar will (D. V.) preach in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Sabbath forenoon, at half-past ten.
Subject: A Part of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed. Divine service, preparatory to Communion, will be held on Thursday evening, at seven o'clock.

The horra comprising the fine team of iron greys which Mr. E.
Edgers, of Morion, drove to Farmers-ville on Saturday, had to be shot yesterday, on account of a broken foal.
The accident happened on the road to Smith's station, and the horse, unfortunate being struck by its leg against a cutter which preceded the team.

S. B. Williams & Son are making preparations to turn out quite a few very fine carriages this spring. With R. N. Dowling, who works for J. D.
Lester, Addison, Haskin, painter, and E. T. Tennant, timmer, the work is certainly being done in a first class manner. Parties intending to purchase carriages the coming season should call on us to look through their show rooms before giving their orders.

Farmers will be interested in the announcement that Mr. Ballantyne's bill providing for the testing of milk supplied to butter and cheese factories is likely to be passed by the Legislature this session. Under this bill an authorized agent of a factory will be empowered to enter upon the premises of a patron of the factory, milk his-cows and compare the milk with that which he sends to the factory.

The officials of the B. & W. R. R. were a little displeas'd by the Saturday morning session of the Saturday school, and they are to be congratulated for the result. The school was held in the afternoon, and the attendance was very good. The school
was held in the afternoon, and the
attendance was very good. The school
was held in the afternoon, and the attendance was very good.

The Secretary of the Diving Park Association sent out notices last week calling a meeting of the shareholders for Saturday evening 31st inst. The object of this meeting is to try and liquidate a portion of the existing debt, as well as to decide on future action. Shareholders are particularly requested to be present, as by the terms of the notice all shareholders will be bound to abide by the decision of the meeting. Any person having claims against the Association are requested to file them with the secretary before the meeting.

The trotting stallion, Star, 2:30, has been sold to the Rev. Mr. Prescott by the Farmersville. The price is said to be $1,000. The stallion is owned by Messrs. Mabee & Co., of Lady Washburn, Long Island, N. Y., and was bred by Mr. Prescott.

The above clipping from the Globe, of Saturday last, will be read with interest by horsemen in this section.
It shows the field at the races at the Farmersville driving park, last fall. Our reporter interviewed Mr. Hill yesterday, and learned that the item was substantially correct. He expects to bring the horse up here in a few days, but is undecided as to the place where he will make his stands; but the probabilities are that Farmersville, Brockville and Perth will be all the stations at which the horse will stop.

Mr. E. J. Grennon, of the Rideau Valley Implement and Machine Agency, Narrow's Lock, has just received one of the largest consignments of agricultural implements, etc., ever brought into the back country. It consists of the manufacture of Messrs.
Frost & Wood, Smith Falls, and the J. W. Mann Co., Brockville, and includes moving machines, seeders, spring tooth harrows, plows of various descriptions, and a general variety of implements. The goods will be sold at a low price, and Mr. Grennon being agent for the manufacturers named, he will keep a full assortment of repairs on hand, which will be a great convenience to farmers, who will save both time and money by dealing with Mr. Grennon, whose long experience in this line of business is a guarantee that his patrons will be treated satisfactorily.

According to the Postmaster General's report not less than 204 registered letters were sent and money lost or tampered with in its passage through the mails. In a small proportion of these cases, the departmental employees held responsible for the loss, made good to the owners the missing amounts; but in the case of the majority of the missing letters, the owners suffered the loss incurred.

We think the public have just cause for complaint in this state of things.
There would be far more general satisfaction if the registration fee were slightly increased, and the Government assumed the responsibility of losses in return for the increased loss.
Under the present arrangement the Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of registered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the default; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the majority of cases even that small degree of comfort is denied. We think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would ensure the sender against the possibility of loss, would be infinitely preferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would
ensure the sender against the possi-
bility of loss, would be infinitely pre-
ferable.

Under the present arrangement the
Government exercises every possible
precaution against the loss of regis-
tered letters, and in case of loss puts
forth every effort to discover the de-
fault; but there the matter ends, and
the loser, if the thief is convicted, has
only the poor satisfaction of seeing the
guilty party punished, while in the
majority of cases even that small
degree of comfort is denied. We
think that, with proper safeguards
against fraud, a system which would ensure the sender against the poss