COMPULSORY SERVICE BILL DOES NOT APPLY TO IRELAND; ASQUITH ANNOUNCES

ASQUITH INTRODUCES BILL TO CALL CERTAIN CLASSES TO COLORS

All Males Between Ages of Eighteen and Forty-One or Widowers with Children Dependent Upon Them Liable for Military Service—Premier Asquith Declares that Bill Can be Supported by Opponents of Conscription

London, Jan. 5—Under the terms of the compulsory military service bill, introduced in the House of Commons today, all males between the ages of eighteen and forty-one who are bachelors or widowers without children dependent upon them, are liable for military service.

Ireland is excluded from the terms of the measure.

The largest assemblage of members since the war began faced Premier Asquith. Many members obtained leave to return from the front so that they might be able to vote on the compulsion bill. Earl Derby who conducted the recruiting campaign, was in the Peers' gallery.

Premier Asquith said that no case had been made out for general compulsion and that the bill he was introducing could be supported by those opposed to conscription.

The bill, Premier Asquith continued, was limited specifically to the redemption of the promise he had made publicly to the married men. This pledge had been given at the time when overwhelming evidence had been submitted to him that married men who were willing and anxious to serve, were holding back in large numbers.

Premier Asquith said he was unable after making the largest possible hypothetical deduction to consider the number of unrecruited single men as anything but substantial and considerable amount. He added that Sir John Simon, whose resignation as Home Secretary was announced yesterday, thought the figures might be reduced to an inestimable quantity. If he had shared this view, Mr. Asquith said, the present contingency would not have arisen, but he could not think that. The primary obligation was to keep faith at all costs with the married men.

Mr. Asquith said exemptions from service could be claimed under the terms of the bill on the same grounds as the Derby plan. The grounds of exemption include conscientious objection to performing military service. Other grounds for exemption from service, the Premier said, included ill health, physical infirmity, necessity to support dependent persons and the fact of being engaged on work of national importance.

Premier Asquith opened his address with an analysis of the figures in the Derby report. He emphasized the fact that during the Derby campaign nearly 5,000,000 men had offered their services. Even deducting those rejected on the ground of physical disability, the total was still in excess of 2,500,000.

CANADA CLOSED YEAR STRONG FINANCIALLY

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Canada closed the first calendar year of the war in an exceptionally strong financial position. The trade of the Dominion continues to show large expansion in the export column, thus changing the former old adverse trade balance into a favorable balance which is of special economic importance for purposes of war financing. The measures announced by the Minister of Finance in his last budget for restoring the revenues from Customs and other sources which have suffered during the first few months of war have produced results which exceed even the estimate given to Parliament by the Minister. The statement of Customs revenues for the last month of 1915, illustrates in a marked degree the working out of the war budget. During the month of December last year the customs revenues fell to $4,818,798.75. This was during a period of severe trade disorganization when the revenues of Canada were falling at the rate of a million a month. The Customs revenue for the month just closing amounts to $9,432,654.92, an increase of $4,613,856.17 or nearly one hundred per cent. During the nine months of the fiscal year, that is from April 1st to the end of the calendar year, the revenues have increased by no less than $12,391,984.99, as compared with the corresponding period in the previous year. The total revenue for the nine months of this year is $58,829,615.84 as against $71,721,303.93.

Lord Derby Declares Difficult to State Who Should Not be Called

London, Jan. 5.—The Earl of Derby's report on the recruiting campaign from October 23rd to December 11th presented to Parliament states that over two and one half million men in England, Scotland and Wales enrolled themselves, of whom about one million one hundred thousand are available to bear arms, though those engaged in indispensable industries and the medical unit are weeded out. Earl Derby says of the many difficulties met, the unreliability of stalling as distinguishing between those who should and should not be called to the army is the greatest. Lord Derby comments

THE GERMANS DO

France has been asked to bring to the attention of the British Government the assurance which is guaranteed by 'L'Oeuvre du Vêtement du Prisonnier de Guerre.' It is not only the shortage of food which is complained of, but the actual ill treatment and cruelty inflicted on the prisoners. The entire subject of the treatment of prisoners is to be brought up in the Chamber by M. Raoul Peret, the budget reporter. M. Peret intends to ask the government to adopt a strong reciprocal attitude and to treat the German prisoners in France exactly as the French prisoners are treated in Germany. M. Peret is of opinion that this is the only way by which the German government can be made to adopt more humane measures.

David Lloyd George in Urging Passage of Amendment to Munitions Act, Declares Successful Conclusion of War this Year Depends on British Workmen Setting Aside Conditions, Throwing Themselves into Work and Sticking to Workshops—Workers Alone Can Achieve Victory for Empire and Human Race

London, Jan. 5.—The House of Commons today passed a bill designed to facilitate the output of munitions. This was in the form of an amendment to the Munitions Act.

In appealing for the passage of the measure David Lloyd George, Minister of Munitions, said: "I hope the House of Commons will not render more difficult the task of turning out munitions, a task more serious than I dare tell.

"Everything depends upon it. The length of the war depends upon it. Everything depends upon whether we turn out munitions in sufficient quantities to bring the campaign to an end this year.

"But I can tell what the result will be if they do. They and they alone will achieve victory for this Empire and the human race, and will reflect credit upon the labor movement."

WANT WOMEN TO VOTE ON LIQUOR REFERENDUM

Winnipeg, Jan. 5.—That the women ought to be authorized to vote by declaration at the forthcoming prohibition referendum, is the opinion of the Social Service Council officers. Vote by declaration would avoid the necessity for registration, which, according to the government plans, would take so long and delay the referendum.

Rev. J. N. McLean, secretary of the council, said today: "There is really no legal or valid objection to the women being allowed to vote on the referendum. The women will be enfranchised at the coming session, and could be given the right to vote by declaration on all matters that come up between now and the next session of the voters' list."

Death of A. Mastagh at Cypress River Investigated—Gunshot Caused Fatality

Cypress River, Jan. 5.—"We find that the deceased came to his death by gunshot wounds inflicted by Alldor Nysson, or Stokes, and we find the said Alldor Nysson or Stokes guilty of murder."

This was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury which investigated the circumstances attending the death of A. Mastagh, a farmer in the district, who was shot on New Year's night.

Alldor Nysson, commonly known in the district as Stokes, who was Mastagh's hired man, was arrested shortly after the tragedy. He gave evidence at the inquest, and after the verdict, was re-committed to jail, where he will be held for the preliminary trial to be held at Cypress River in a few days.

Evidence was given by six witnesses, and the enquiry was conducted by Dr. Loughheed, coroner of the southern judicial district.

J. D. MCGREGOR SELLS CATTLE MANITOBA COLLEGE

A consignment of pure-bred Aberdeen-Angus cattle have gone forward from the farm of J. D. McGregor to the Manitoba Agricultural College. The lot consisted of two mature cows and four heifers. Prof. F. S. Jacobs, of the college animal husbandry department, made the selection last week when Kenneth McGregor was home from Iowa, and believes he has a lot of heifers that cannot be equalled in any herd in America.

The heifers were reserved by Mr. McGregor for show purposes and to strengthen his herd. All have been bred to the best stock bulls, and will form the nucleus of the college herd of black cattle.

MAY RAISE BATTALION MANITOBA ORANGEMEN

There Would be No Difficulty in Securing Men from the 170 Lodges

Winnipeg, Jan. 5.—A battalion to be raised from the Orangemen of Manitoba is the latest recruiting scheme. Already the matter has been taken up in the lodges and the suggestion has been forwarded to the military authorities in Ottawa. W. T. Edgecombe, Grand Master, has been mentioned as the commander of the new unit.

There are 170 lodges in Manitoba and hence it is pointed out that to raise a battalion would require only about sixteen men from each lodge. This, in the opinion of those who have considered the question, would be an easy matter.
