Good Marksmanship Of German Sniper

Returned Soldier Tells of Close Watch Kept on Allies' Trenches. Quebec, Nov. 18.—Pte. Will. Vancouver, who was with the 3rd Toronto Battalion, tells a story which indicates the completeness of German methods in reducing war to an exact science.

There was a private in my company," he said, "whose name I don't at the moment recall, who reached my unit and put his bulky foot on the parapet of the trench. The Germans could see his hand as he put it up. It was only for a moment his hand was exposed, but they could see the tin all the time. They calculated he would want the tin again about 4.30 or 4.45 for dinner. They had plenty of time and got the exact bead on the tin. They have rifles fixed so that they can command a certain spot. They didn't have to wait hours looking for the rifle. They kept watch and sure enough, round a quarter to five, Mr. Man reaches for his tin. Bang! They got him right through the wrist. That's the way they do things.

"They got Sgt. Major Young the same way. There was a loophole with a plate covering it. The hole, no bigger than that (illustrating by making an aperture with his thumb and forefinger). Young just moved the plate aside, and took a look and they got him at once in the eye. He only could say 'Oh.' That was his only word."

Amazing Ruses Of Women Spies

Austrian Authorities Find it Necessary to Make Them Disrobe. The amazing ruses by female spies attempting to cross the Austro-Swiss frontier are revealed in a despatch from Geneva. The Austrian military authorities force all women travellers to disrobe, since it was discovered that military documents had been concealed beneath a porous plaster on the back of one spy. Another woman who bore her arm in a sling, was found to be carrying a message in a small tube inserted in a wound on her arm.

All women travellers are led by female attendants into a bathroom, where they are stripped and scrubbed with hot water. Frequently this reveals small pieces of very thin tissue paper, upon which are written military secrets. Often thin strips of tissue paper have been found stuck to women's bodies or hidden beneath cosmetics.

Hospital Ship Sunk In English Channel. Three Hundred Out of Three Hundred and Eighty-five Saved—Had Wounded Soldiers Aboard. Dover, Nov. 18.—The hospital ship Anglia, with about 300 wounded men aboard, in addition to the crew, nurses and attendants, bound from France for Dover, struck a mine in mid channel yesterday and sank in a very short time. Nearly 100 men, most of them seriously wounded, were therefore in their coats, lost their lives.

The collier Lusitania, which was nearby at the time of the accident, immediately went to the assistance of the Anglia and her boats had been just lowered when she also struck a mine and foundered. All her crew were saved.

A patrol vessel succeeded in rescuing three hundred of the Anglia's passengers and crew, including some nurses. A number of bodies were recovered.

The Anglia had 200 cot cases aboard. When the rescuing vessels reached her she was badly down by the head and her propellers were racing. Her stern was so high above the sea that one of the rescuing vessels was able to pass under her and forty men dropped aboard.

The crew of the Lusitania give vivid narratives of the disaster, according to which, after a terrific explosion, the bows of Anglia seemed to melt away until the sea lapped her rails. She surged forward however in a vain attempt to reach shore.

Soon many boats came to the rescue including those sent by the Lusitania. Those watching the scene saw the soldiers coming up from below, assembling on deck and calmly waiting the order to pass into the boats.

A rescuing vessel ran right under the sinking steamer's stern and immediately the crew set to work under great difficulties to transfer the wounded.

Every moment the stern of the doomed vessel rose higher and the hull veered sideways as though about to turn turtle, but still the crew worked on.

Some of the wounded, unable to keep their footing—The sloping deck, fell into the sea and were picked up by the rescuers. Others jumped overboard. All the while the nurses were aiding with splendid devotion the crew to get their patients to the boats.

The difficulties were augmented by the racing propeller, which gave a circular motion to the Anglia. The end came with dramatic suddenness. With wounded soldiers and doctors, nurses and sailors still clinging to the stern the vessel appeared for a moment to stand on her bows, then suddenly went under but left the red cross flag flying at her mast, six feet above the water, marking the fatal spot.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work. In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in home, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

"Be a Man, Don Khaki" Message From Front

Member of the 26th Want Boys to Enlist and Hold Up Canada's Honor. George C. O'Brien, an I. C. R. brakeman, who is now at the front with the 26th Battalion, writes in strong language of young men who are neglecting their duty and remaining at home. A letter to Arthur Gillard, a fellow employe, reads in part as follows:

"You boys ought to come and help us to hold up Canada's honor by putting on a khaki suit and going into the trenches with us. It is great fun. B.lets are nothing as compared with our duty, honor to our beloved King and Canada. You should get after single men; show them this letter and tell them they are not Canadians if they are not in khaki with their comrades. What if you do get killed? You are not a coward. And to see the way those—kill poor women and children!"
