

Hawco's Promises Won't Get Him In

Dear Sir—I want to speak a few words in your valuable paper to the voters of Harbor Main District. There are rumors going around that Mr. Hawco is already offering jobs in the Harbor Main Office. I was present myself and I know he is not offering a job, and if Mr. Hawco is elected it will take him all the time to think of all the jobs he has offered. Now, voters of Harbor Main, surely goodness you are not so foolish as to vote for that sort of a man who has ignored justice and the rights of the people. I know of one case of an old widow of 65 years of age who was sick for three months and almost in a dying condition who did not afford to get a doctor. Mr. Hawco applied to Mr. Hawco for a note to get a doctor, but all in vain. He never got any satisfaction and Mr. Hawco said he could not do anything for her. I know of many good industrial men who went to state their references to Mr. Hawco, but he would not hear them out or give any satisfaction. Now, men of Harbor Main, that is not the sort of man we want; what we want is a sound man with a clear conscience to give us a square deal. I know of another case of a returned veteran, who was given a recommendation by Colonel Single who was four and a half years overseas and has a wife and six children, and was turned down by Mr. Hawco on several occasions. Now, men of Harbor Main, do not be fooled by Mr. Hawco any longer, and vote in a good honest, clean Government by voting the straight ticket Woodford and Cahill.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
Yours truly,
VOTER.

More Than a Personal Consideration.

The Mail asserts that a person it was given, by Mr. Hawco, was enthusiastic and that thereby thousands of votes have been lost to the party the person in question supposed to favor with his support. The telegram knows nothing of the sort, but cannot suppose that in such a serious crisis as at present exists in public affairs, any considerable body of intelligent electors would be swayed by merely personal considerations, especially so unimportant a matter as the personal admiration of a party supporter.

Swift Story of Adventure at the Crescent Theatre

THE REMITTANCE WOMAN IS EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT.

The lure of the Orient was never more strongly presented on the screen than it is in "The Remittance Woman," the F. B. O. photoplay in which beautiful Ethel Clayton is the star, who is pleasing big audiences at the Crescent Theatre. No other degree of the picture's wide appeal is due to the picturesque quality which is staged one of the swiftest picture-dramas ever screened.

Ethel Clayton's blond beauty shines in a picture considerably different from the style of pictures in which she has been appearing. She shows her in a new sort of character of a peppy society girl who is troubled only with thoughts of a distant land, and plunges into the darkest China.

How she combats two warring forces—how she faces death and how she forms some of the most dramatic situations seen on the screen in this community in some time. The story is by Ahmed Abdullah, and was published in Everybody's Magazine. It was brought to throbbing life on the screen under the direction of Harry Razley.

Her present offering Miss Clayton's leading man is popular Rockwell, who follows others who appear with him. Wilson, Edward Kimball, and Jack Lanning. James B. Leona, and Lee and Mario Carillo.

There are many people who find any toilet soap but Ivory and find it the most economical and satisfying way to use.

Coaker to the Rescue!

Alarmed by the prospect that Monroe and his colleagues will be elected in Bonaville, Coaker has dropped his attempted disguise, that he and the F.P.U. were out of politics, and thrown himself openly into the struggle.

The Journal announces that on Saturday night last, Coaker addressed a (secret) meeting of Unionists at Bonaville, "nearly 200 members being present." Of course, the statement of numbers is a falsehood, but it is true that Coaker is alarmed, and seeks to re-arouse his cohorts. Hickman is mere camouflage for Coaker, and has served the purpose so badly that Coaker has cast him off. "Add shall Coaker rule, then twenty thousand Conception Bay men shall know the reason why." He said they could be bought for ten dollars, and is now to have the falsehood pushed down his throat.

In the meantime, the word from all over Bonaville Bay is "MONROE CAN'T LOSE." He and his two colleagues, not himself alone, but the whole team, are going to be elected, and thus prove, what students have seen for some time, that "Coaker's day is done!"

After Influenza—SCOTT'S EMULSION to build you up
