If We

Were to advertise from now until doom's day we could not use more convincing argument in favor of buying Wall Paper here, than the fact that we have the largest assortment of Wall Paper in these parts.

No other dealer can offer you anywhere near the selection we have. No other dealer can show you the variety of colors, styles and newness we have. No other dealer has as good facilities for serving you or has the experience in wall decoration we have.

We believe we can show you better honest values than can be secured elsewhere.

When we say this there is nothing left to say—"Assortment, style and price" is the whole argument in three words.

A Pretty Wedding.

On Thursday last Dr. John M. Rogers, of Ingersoll, created a vacancy in Aylmer social and musical circles which it will be hard to fill, by claiming as his bride Miss Edythe B. Hambidge, only daughter of Mr. J. B. Hambidge. The marriage ceremony took place in the Baptist church, which was handsomely decorated with palms and flowers for the occasion, invited guests only being admitted. The Rev. A. J. Vining officiated, assisted by the Rev. Dr. McMullan, of Woodstock. Messrs. H. A. Conso, of Sarnia, and W. J. Chisolm, of Ingersoll, were the ushers, and Prof. David Wright, of Brantford, presided at the organ and rendered the wedding march with grand effect as the bridal party entered the church. The bride wore a fine tailor-made travelling suit of navy blue, which was most becoming to her particular kind of beauty, which does not require any elaborate garments to produce a charming effect. She carried a large bouquet of white roses, and was one of the prettiest brides who ever stood before the altar in Aylmer. She was assisted by Miss Bertha Walsh as bridesmaid, who was beautifully and becomingly gowned in mousseline de soie over white silk, carrying a bouquet of pink roses and who looked exceptionally charming. The groom was assisted by Mr. Thos. Gibson, of Ingersoll. A reception and dinner followed at the beautiful home of the bride's parents, the house being darkened and all the electric lights being turned on, which, with the decorations of pink and white, and Union Jacks, and the rich costumes of the wedding party made an enchanting scene. Boomer, of London, was the caterer, which is all that need be said. During luncheon Tony Costere's orchestra, of London, rendered delightful music.

Among the guests were Mrs. Thomas Rogers, of Toronto, mother of the groom, who was dressed in black broadcloth satin; Miss Rogers, sister of the groom; Dr. and Mrs. Tait, Ingersoll; Mrs. (Senator) McMullen, Forest; Mrs. F. McMullen, Forest; Mr. and Dr. McMullen, Woodstock; Mrs. J. R. McWilliam, Brantford; Mrs. G. F. Miles, Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miles, Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Coliver, Miss Coliver, Waterford; Miss Conso, Sarnia; Mr. Gibson, Ingersoll; Mr. E. W. Davis, Toronto; Mr. Herbert Conso, Sarnia.

The bridal couple drove to St. Thomas where they took the evening train for New York, Boston, Washington and other places. The bride received many beautiful and costly presents and amongst the number none was more highly appreciated than that of a dozen silver spoons presented by the members of the Baptist church choir, of which she was the soloist. Miss Hambidge will be missed by a large circle of friends here with whom she was very popular, owing to her invariable kind and pleasant manners and bright cheerful disposition. Her fine soprano voice will be missed by lovers of good music, and her happy smile and pleasant greeting will also be missed by many who did not claim an intimate acquaintance. There is nothing too good for us to wish for Edythe's future happiness in her new home in Ingersoll.
