Her Majesty the Queen reaches her 81st year, and throughout her extended domain the event is a festival. It would, indeed, form a very large lesson in geography to take cognizance of all the climes and all the people among whom this is a red letter day. She dare sway over an empire eclipsing in territory wealth and population all empires of ancient or modern times. But happily this is not her proudest boast. In all her vast domains no voice need cry unheeded for justice. The humblest citizen or the greatest, can lay himself down in the cottage or the palace secure in the enjoyment of his goods, his liberty and his life, and from pole to pole may the heartfelt prayer be: "GOD SAVE THE QUEEN."
