MAN SOUGHT FOR AN ALLEGED FLAG SLUR

Malcolm Bruce Believed Still in Cape Breton, Chairman of Meeting Denies Charge.

Sydney, N. S., May 8.—Malcolm Bruce, of Toronto, wanted here on a charge of making seditious utterances at Glace Bay last Sunday, had not been located by the police of Cape Breton Island tonight. It was thought at a late hour that he was still on the island, as police departments on New Brunswick placed their views before the special agriculture committee of the House this morning. Alfred E. Dewar, President of the Prince Edward Island potato growers association was examined as to production costs on the island and also the operation of the co-operative buying organizations of the growers association.

Mr. Dewar said it cost $3 2-3 cents per bushel to grow certified seed potatoes on the basis of a 225 bushel per acre crop, and another 40 to 45 cents to get those potatoes to the railway station.

In 1920 the association had returned to its members $1.67 per bushel of certified seed potatoes and in 1921 when duty was applicable the price had dropped to $1.35. The 1922 returns were not yet complete. The duty was a factor in reducing returns as the market for these potatoes was practically all in the United States.

Mr. Dewar who is also fruit grower, said it cost him $1.65 to produce a barrel of apples and he had received better than $4.00 per barrel net for them. "I'm not complaining," said the witness.

"That is the best we can ask of any farmer, that he doesn't complain," said the chairman with a smile.

Referring to strawberries Mr. Dewar said they cost him about $4 an acre to produce. An acre last year had paid him about $500 profit.

RIVER OPEN TO NAVIGATION

Ice and Lumber Still in Bay Above Heron Island to Dalhousie.

Navigation in the Restigouche is now open, and Capt. Allard of Carleton came up to Campbellton in his steamer Wednesday evening.

Thursday, May 3rd, the ice began to break up opposite the town and that night ran down to Oak Point, where it held firm for several days.

With the ice that was carried out a large quantity of logs, said to be several million feet. These are now drifting about the bay and no doubt many will land on the beaches.

An effort was made Saturday evening to save some which floated clear of the boom Friday night on the up tide but this proved impossible.

A steamer is expected at once to take a cargo of lumber.

The lumber mills will start work next week it is expected.
